THE EVERLASTING MEMORIAL

taken from "Morning thots to Cheer the Day" by Maria H. LeRow.

Up and away, like the dew of the morning,
Soaring from earth to it's home in the sun,--
So let me away, gently and lovingly,
Only remembered by what I have done.

My name, and my place, and my tomb, all forgotten,
The brief race of time well and patiently run,
So let me pass away, peacefully, silently,
Only remembered by what I have done.

Up and away, like the odors of sunset,
That sweetens the twilight as darkness comes on,--
So be my life,---a thing felt but not noticed,
And I but remembered by what I have done.

Yes, like the fragrance that wanders in freshness,
When the flowers it came from are closed up and gone,
So would I be to this world's weary dwellers,
Only remembered by what I have done.

Needs there the praise of the love-written record,
The name and the epitaph graved on the stone?
The things we have lived for---let them be our story,
We ourselves but remembered by what I have done.

I need not be missed, if my life has been bearing (As its summer and autumn moved silently on)
The bloom and the fruit, and the seed of its season;
I shall still be remembered by what I have done.

I need not be missed if another succeed me,
To reap down those fields which in spring I have sown;
He who plowed and who sowed is not missed by the reaper,
He is only remembered by what he has done.

Not myself, but the truth that in life I have spoken,
Not myself, but the seed that in life I have sown,
Shall pass on to ages,---all about me forgotten,
Save the truth I have spoken, the things I have done.

So let my living be, so be my dying;
So let my name lie, unblazoned, unknown;
Unpraised and unmissed, I shall still be remembered,
Yes,---but remembered by what I have done.

"All that tread the globe are but a handful to the tribes that slumber in it's bosom"

PREFACE

In presenting the following genealogy of former relatives as well as the present generation, I realize the errors which are inherent in investigations of this kind. Much of the data necessary for a complete account is no longer available. Many of the records found are difficult to read or verify or accept. Dates of births and deaths are lost or uncertain. Some families have come and gone leaving scarcely a memory, only a name.

One may find discrepancies in the spelling of names, places and ordinary words but in making my records they have been copied as they were found--errors and all--if corrections or additions were made, they will be found in parenthesis.

The following abbreviations are used: b-born; d-died; m-married; dau-daughter; etc.

Part of the following information or data was taken from a Bible owned by John G. Dougherty II in Sept. 1941, at Jerseyville, Illinois that was printed by Mark & Chas. Kerr-His Majesty's Printers MDCCXCIII-1813 Edinburgh, Scotland; from Early History of Adam County Mississippi; from History of Greene and Jersey Counties, Illinois; from Dr. Frederick Lewis Beck's records of Cheyenne, Wyo; from Cyrus Sisson of Alton, Illinois; from my sisters Alma Lee Dyer Schroeder and Jeannette N. Rogers; from Lila Dougherty Flautt, Mary Louise Noble Heider and Theo Dodson Ryan of Jerseyville, Ill.; and many helpful persons in Natchez, Savannah, Baltimore, Charleston, Washington, Salt Lake City and Jersey County etc.

Any additional or pertinent information about those persons researched by the author would be welcomed.

Tracking Family Tree Good Idea

BY TOM COLLINS

Q—"My family name is McLain. That is Scotch, I guess, but the meager records that have come down through the family Bibles indicate the family came from Ireland. As my first retirement project I want to track down the family history and give copies of it to my four children. Where is the best place to begin?"

H.H.W.

A — Start with your local library, checking any books it has on genealogy (a word dealing with ancestry that you'll run into plenty from now on). Study at your local library will probably lead you to a large one or to the library of some nearby university. In large cities there are libraries devoted just to genealogy. Magazines deal with the subject. Your library may know their names. There are private agencies that will dig up your family tree. Some of them are good, but you will have more fun digging for yourself.

I know of no retirement project that is more rewarding than tracking down your family's history.

(If your question can be answered in this space send it to Senior Forum, Detroit Free Press, Detroit 31, Mich.)

MRS. M. B. FEINER, Ann Arbor, Mich.: Mrs. Feiner thinks it's well worth the time and effort of any retired persons to investigate his or her family history.

She suggests that people should visit towns where ancestors are known to have lived and check records.

They also should visit cemeteries and search out among the tombstones the family names.

She also recommends that you check the phone book in each town where your ancestors lived and telephone all names that are the same as yours.

San Pedro: Cousinships always confuse me. Will you please list the degrees?—M. L. T.

Answer: The child of your uncle or aunt is your first cousin. Your first cousin's child is your first cousin once removed. Your child and your cousin's child are second cousins. Your second cousin's child is your second cousin once removed. And so on back to Adam.

THE NAME AND THE FAMILY OF NOBLE

The name of NOBLE is said to have been given to its original bearer either because of his appearance or because of his rank in life and to have been of Anglo-Saxon origin. It is found on ancient records in the various forms of Nobil, Nobel, and Noble, of which the last is the most generally accepted form of today. It is also found in Italy in the form of Nobili, in Holland in the form of Nobel, and Noble, and in France in its most frequent form Noble.

Some authorities claim that the family originated in France and went into England with William the Conqueror at the time of the Norman Conquest in 1066, but this is not certain as the earliest records of the name are of the twelfth century.

Among the early unconnected records of the family mentioned is found of Roger, and Robert Nobil of the year 1199, William Nobil of 1207, Galfridius le Noble of Hertfordshire in 1277, Gilbert of Sussex County in 1278. William of Wiltshire in 1302, Thomas le Noble in 1302, John of 1311. Hugh of Northhamptonshire in 1313, William of Oxfordshire in the last mentioned year, Ralph of Buckingham County about the same time, William of Yorkshire in 1314, Thomas of 1320, Ralph Noble of Lyme in 1321, Richard Noble of Southamptonshire in 1327, and many others in the succeeding centuries.

William Noble of Dumbartonshire in the twelfth century was the father of Sir Ralph Noble, who had two sons, Thomas, and Ralph, from one of whom was descended John Noble, who had Robert, Bailie of Dunbarton in 1449, who was succeeded by his eldest son Walter, who died without issue in 1490 and was succeeded by his next eldest brother Robert, who married Margaret Lauche and had Robert, Sheriff of Dunbartonshire, who was succeeded by James, who married Katherine Sterling and had William, who married Janet Sempill and was the father by her of Humphrey, who married Mary Cunningham in 1601 and had a son named William, who had issue in the early seventeenth century of a son named John. From this line of the family was descended the Scottish line which was settled in Argyllshire at an early date as well as many others.

It is not definitely known from which of the many illustrious lines of the family in Great Britain the first American emigrants of the name were descended, but all of the families of the Noble name are believed to have been of common origin at a remote period.

Probably the first of the name in New England was Thomas Noble of Boston, Mass., before 1652, who later moved to Springfield, where he was married in 1660 to Hannah Warriner. At a slightly later date he made his home at Westfield, in the same colony, and was the father of John, Hannah, Thomas, Matthew, Mark, Elizabeth, Luke, James, Mary, and Rebecca.

John, eldest son of the emigrant Thomas, was married in 1682 to Abigail Sacket, by whom he had an only daughter named Abigail. In 1684 he took a second wife Mary Goodman, who gave him ten children, John, Stephen, Elizabeth, Mary, David, Hannah, Sarah, William, Margaret, and Mabel.

Thomas, second son of the emigrant Thomas, married Elizabeth Dewey in 1695 and had issue by her of Thomas, Job, Jonathan (died young), Seth, Israel, Elizabeth, Lois, Ebenezer, Thankful, Anna, and Jonathan.

Matthew, third son of the emigrant Thomas, was married in 1690 to Hannah Dewey and their children were Joseph, Hezekiah, Matthew, Solomon, Elisha, Obadiah, Hannah, Hester, Rhoda and one other who died young.

Mark, fourth son of the emigrant Thomas, was married in 1698 to Mary Marshall, by whom he had at least six children, Noah (died young), Mary, Abigail, John Miriam, and Noah and possibly others.

Luke, fifth son of the emigrant Thomas, first married Hannah Stebbins in 1700 and had issue by her of Luke, and Samuel, of whom the second died young. His second wife Ruth Wright, whom he married in 1708, gave him further issue of Ruth, Moses, Aaron, Asa, Naomi, Samuel, Jacob, Ruth, and Ephraim. He also had a third wife, the Widow Sarah Dewey but is thought to have had no further issue.

James, sixth son and youngest of the emigrant Thomas, had issue by his first wife Ruth of James, and Daniel. Shortly after the year 1702 she died and in 1704 James married Catherine Higley, by whom he had three more children, Lydia, James, and David.

One William Noble made his home at Flushing, L.I. in 1664 but his records are not complete and the names of his children, if any, are not known.

One Abel Noble, son of William and Frances Noble of Bristol, England, emigrated to Philadelphia in 1684 and was married about 1691 to Mary Garrett. They were the parents of five children, Job, William, Abel, Joseph, and Anna.

Another William Noble settled in Boston prior to the year 1692 and was married to the Widow Ann Russell in 1711. Their children were, among others, Elizabeth, John, and William.

Many others of the same name emigrated to America in the following century, among whom were John of New London, Conn., in 1720; Thomas, who came from London, England, to Philadelphia before 1731; George, and Thomas, brothers of Scotch descent, who settled in Maryland and Kentucky, respectively, about the year 1748; Archibald, Francis, and David, sons of Thomas, son of Archibald Noble of Ireland, who made their homes in New York

City about 1787 or shortly thereafter; and Henry of Maryland, who removed in 1794-5 to Mississippi and thence to Illinois--all of whom left sizeable families. (No doubt but this Henry Noble was the writer's Great-grandfather since he was born in October 1772 and at the age of twenty-three moved to Mississippi in 1795, M.Birdie Noble Feiner).

The descendants of these various branches of the family in America have spread to practically every State of the Union and have aided as much in the growth of the country as their ancestors aided in the founding of the Nation. They have been noted for their courage, energy, ambition, industry, resourcefulness, piety, perserverance, mental ability, and leadership.

Among those of the Nobles who fought as officers in the War of the Revolution were Captain Alexander of South Carolina, Captain David of Massachusetts, Captain Enoch of Massachusetts, Lieutenant Jonathan of New Hampshire, and Lieutenants Nathan, and Morgan of Connecticut.

Thomas, John, William, Henry, James, Ralph, Robert, Jonathan, Matthew, and David are some of the Christian names most highly favored by the family in early times.

A few of the many members of the family who have distinguished themselves in America in more recent times are:

John Willcock Noble of Ohio, Lawyer, 1831-1912;

Alfred Noble of Michigan, civil engineer, 1844-1914;

Frederick Alphonso Noble of Maine, Congregational clergyman, 1832-1917;

Charles P. Noble of Maryland, surgeon, born in 1863; and died in

Eugene Allan Noble of New York, educator, born in 1865 and died in

One of the most ancient coats -of- arms of the Noble family is that of the Dumbartonshire line of the family, which is described as follows:

Arms.--"Argent, three bay leaves vert."

Crest.--"A dexter hand holding a dagger, all proper."

Supporters.--"On either side a wild man wreathed around the head and waist with bay leaves, supporting with the exterior hand a holly tree eradicated and resting the exterior foot on the roots thereof, all proper."

Motto.--"Virtute et valore."

(Arms taken from Burke's "Peerage and Baronetage", 1935.)

WHY YOU HAVE A FAMILY NAME AND WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU

Primitive personal names doubtless originated soon after the invention of spoken language, although the date of their first use is lost in the darkness of ages preceding recorded history. For thousands of years thereafter, first or given names were the only designations that men and women bore; and in the dawn of historic times, when the world was less crowded than it is today and every man knew his neighbor, only one title of address was necessary. Only gradually, with the passing centuries and the increasing complexity of civilized society, did a need arise for more specific designations. While the roots of our system of family names may be traced back to early civilized times, actually the hereditary surname as we know it today is a comparatively recent development in human history, dating from a time scarcely earlier than nine hundred years ago.

A surname is a name added to a baptismal or Christian name for the purposes of making it more specific and of indicating family relationship or descent. Classified according to origin, most surnames fall into four general categories: (1) those formed from the given name of the sire; (2) those arising from bodily or personal characteristics; (3) those derived from locality or place of residence; and (4) those derived from occupation. It is easier to understand the story of the development of our institution of surnames if these classifications are borne in mind.

As early as biblical times, certain distinguishing appellations were occasionally employed in addition to the given name, as, for instance, Joshua the son of Nun, Simon the son of Jonas, Judas of Galilee, and Simon the Zealot. In ancient Greece, daughters were scrupulously named after their fathers, as Chryseis, the daughter of Chryses; and sons' names were usually an enlarged form of the father's, as Hieronymus, son of Hiero. The Romans, with the rise of their civilization, felt the need for some hereditary title; and to meet this need they invented a complex system whereby every patrician traced his descent by taking several names. None of these, however, exactly corresponded to surnames as we know them, for the "clan name", though hereditary, was given also to slaves and other dependents. Excellent as this system was, it proved to be a temporary innovation, for the overthrow of the Western Empire by barbarian invaders brought about its end and a reversion to the primitive custom of a single name.

The ancient Scandinavians and for the most part the Germans had only individual names, and there were no family names, strictly speaking, among the Celts. But as family and tribal groups grew in size, individual names proved inadequate and the need for supplementary designations began to be felt. Among the first employed were such terms as "the Strong", "the Hardy", "the Stern", "the Dreadful-in-battle"; and the nations of northern Europe soon adopted the practice of adding the father's name to the son's, as Oscar son of Ossian, Oscar son of Carnuth, and Dermid son of Duthno.

True surnames, in the sense of hereditary designations, date in England from about the year 1000. Largely, they were introduced from Normandy, although there are interesting records of Saxon surnames prior to the Norman Conquest. Perhaps the oldest known surname in England is that borne by Hwita Hatte, a keeper of bees, whose daughter was Tate Hatte. During the reign of Edward the Confessor (1042-1066), there were Saxon tenants in Suffolk bearing such names as Suert Magno, Stigand Soror, Siuward Rufus, and Leuric Hobbesune (Hobson); and the domesday record of 1085-1086, which exhibits some curious combinations of Saxon forenames with Norman family names, shows surnames in still more general use.

By the end of the twelfth century, hereditary names had become common in England. But even by 1465 they were not universal. During the reign of Edward V, a law was passed to compel certain Irish outlaws to adopt surnames: "They shall take unto them a Surname, either of some Town, or some Color, as Blacke, or Brown, or some Art or Science, as Smyth or Carpenter, or some Office, as Cooke or Butler," and as late as the beginning of the nineteenth century, a somewhat similar decree compelled Jews in Germany and Austria to add a German surname to the single names which they had previously used.

As stated above, family names may be divided into four general classes according to their origin. One of the largest of these classes is that comprising surnames derived from the given name of the father of those who first bore the surname. Such names were formed by means of an added prefix or suffix denoting either "son of" or a diminutive. English names terminating in son, ing, and kin (from the Norse Sonr, ingr, Kyn) are of this type, as are also the hosts of names prefixed with the Gaelic Mac, the Norman Fitz, the Welsh Ap, and the Irish O' (literally "a descendant of"). Thus John's sons became Johnsons; William's sons, Williamsons or wilsons; Richard's sons, Richardsons or Richardses (the final "s" of "Richards" being a contraction of "son"); Neill's sons, MacNeills; Herbert's sons, FitzHerberts; Thomas's sons, ap Thomases (ap has been dropped from many names of which it was formerly a part); and Reilly's sons, O'Reillys. Names of this type are common not only in the British Isles, but also in Germany, the Netherlands, the Scandinavian countries, and throughout many other parts of the world.

Another class of surnames, those arising from some bodily or personal characteristic of the first bearer, apparently grew out of what were in the first instance nicknames. Thus Peter the strong became Peter Strong, Roger of small stature became Roger Little or Roger Small, and black haired William or blond Alfred became William Black or Alfred White. From among the many names of this type, only a few need to be mentioned; Long, Hardy, Wise, Gladman, Lover, Youngman and Legrand. Such names as Fox and Wolfe perhaps belong in this group, although some writers suggest that they may be of an ancient totemistic origin instead.

A third class of family names, and perhaps the largest of all, is that comprising local surnames--names derived from and originally designating the place of residence or habitat of the bearer. Such names were popular in France at an early date and were introduced into England by the Normans, many of whom were known by the titles of their estates on the Continent and later by their English possessions. The surnames adopted by the nobility were mainly of this type, being used with the particles de, de la, or del, (meaning "of" or "of the"). The Saxon equivalent was a word atte ("at the"), employed in such names as John atte Brook, Edmund atte Lane, Godwin atte Brigg, and William atte Bourne. A vestige of this usage survives in the names Atwell, Atwood, and Atwater; and in other cases the Norman de was substituted; and in others, such as Wood, Briggs and Lane, the particle was dropped. The surnames of some of the Pilgrim fathers illustrate place designations; for instance, Winthrop means "from the friendly village"; Endicott, "an end cottage"; Bradford, "at the broad ford; and Standish, "a stony park". The suffixes "ford", "ham", "ley", and "ton", denoting locality, are of frequent occurrence in such names as Ashford, Bingham, Burley or Burleigh, and Norton.

While England enjoyed a period of comparative peace under Edward the Confessor, a fourth class of surnames arose--names derived from occupation. The earliest of these seem to have been official names, such as Bishop, Mayor, Fawcett (judge), Alderman, Reeve, Sheriff, Chamberlain, Chancellor, Chaplain, Deacon, Latimer (interpreter), Marshall, Sumner (summoner), and Parker (park-keeper). Trade and craft names, although of the same general type, were of somewhat later origin. Currier was a dresser of skins, Webster a weaver, Wainwright a wagon builder, and Baxter a baker. Such names as Smith, Taylor, Barber, Shepherd, Carter, Mason, and Miller are self-explanatory.

Many surnames of today which seem to defy classification or explanation are corruptions of ancient forms which have become disguised almost beyond recognition. Longfellow, for instance, was originally Longueville, Longshanks was Longchamps, Troublefield was Tuberville, Wrinch was Renshaw, Diggles was Douglas, and Snooks was Sevenoaks. Such corruptions of family names, resulting from ignorance of spelling, variations in pronunciation, or merely from the preference of the bearer, tend to baffle both the genealogist and the etymologist. Shakespeare's name is to be found in some twenty-seven different forms, and the majority of English and Anglo-American surnames have, in their history, appeared in four to a dozen or more variant spellings.

In America, the melting pot of all nations, a greater variety of family names exists than anywhere else in the world. Surnames of every race and nation are represented. While the greater number are of English, Scotch, Irish, or Welsh origin, brought to this country by scions of families which had borne these names for generations prior to emigration, many others, from central and southern Europe and from the Slavic countries, where the use of surnames is generally a more recently established practice, present considerable difficulty to the student of etymology and family history.

Those Americans who bear old and honored names--who trace the history of their surnames back to sturdy emigrant ancestors, or even beyond, across the seas, and into the dim mists of antiquity--may be rightfully proud of their heritage. While the name, in its origin, may seem ingenious, humble, surprising, or matter-of-fact, its significance today lies not in a literal interpretation of its original meaning but in the many things that have happened to it since it first came into use. In the beginning it was only a word, a convenient label to distinguish one John from his neighbor John who lived across the field. But soon it established itself as a part of the bearer's individuality; and as it passed to his children, his children's children, and their children, it became the symbol not of one man but of a family and all that that family stood for. Handed down from generation to generation, it grew inseparably associated with the achievement, the tradition, and the glory of the family. Like the coat of arms, that vivid pictorial symbolization of the name which warrior ancestors bore in battle, the name itself, borne through every event of life and through the lives of scores of one's progenitors, became the badge of family honor--the "good name" to be proud of, to protect, and to fight for if need be. As the valiant deeds of the marching generations have clothed it in glory, it has become an institution, a family rallying cry, and the most treasured possession of those who bear it.

PRINCESS ANNE, MARYLAND

Princess Anne, Maryland county seat of Somerset County, at the head of the Manolin River (pronounced M' no kin). Although Somerset Co. (then included the territory of Somerset, Worcester and Wicomico.) was organized in 1666 and Princess Anne was ordered laid out in 1733, it was not until 1742, when Worcester Co. was cut off, that the village became the seat of the shrunken parent county. The town was named in honor of Anne (1709-59) daughter of King George II. A 2½ story white painted frame Washington Hotel was erected in 1744. Teackle Mansion or Hall was built by Littleton Dennis Teackle which served as the very core of the plot "THE ENTAILED HAT", written by George Alfred Townsend's realistic novel in 1884 of Peninsula life in the early 19th century when Patty Cannon and her gang were kidnapping free Negroes and selling them at a high price into Deep-South Slavery. St. Andrews' Church-Somerset Parish, Princess
son

St. Andrews' Church was built about 136 years ago. It is the successor of the original Protestant Episcopal Church which stood on the Manokin River bank 5 miles below the beautiful town of Princess Anne, the old edifice long since having fallen into decay and its foundations through erosions of current and wave, being now in the river bed. The following does not pretend to be a complete record of the dead sleeping here, but does embrace most of the names of the representative families of the Somerset County, which adhered to the faith of the English Church. Rev. John Hewitt was the first clergyman of this faith in Somerset Co. He arrived from England in 1685, and built the church on the Manokin River.

It is a well established fact in colonial history that Somerset Co., Md. was the cradle of the Presbyterian Church in America. The public records of the county bear evidence that Presbyterian doctrines were preached as early as 1680, and that before 1690 there were churches of that faith established at Rehoboth, Snow Hill, Rockawalkin, Wicomico (Salisbury) and Manokin (Princess Anne). The first churches were built of logs. These were later followed by more pretentious structures, probably constructed of boards. The walls of the present Manokin Church edifice was built about 140 years ago, whether or not this date is exact does not materially matter, as the difference could not possibly be more than 2 or 3 years, for there is evidence that the period of construction is approximately correct.

The old church at Green Hill, White Haven, Md. is about ten miles from Princess Anne in Wicomico County. It was built in 1733 with bricks brought in from England and on sailing vessels. It has a brick floor, box pews and a spiral stair pulpit. It is an Episcopalian Church.

NOBLE

FIRST GENERATION

William Noble, first appears in the records of Somerset Co., Maryland in 1686 when the birth of his twins, Jonathan and Hannah was recorded. In 1689 he was one of the settlers of Somerset who signed the famous Protestant Proclamation of Maryland, in an address to William and Mary of England (Old Somerset by Torrence, p 349).

In 1692 William Noble and three others from Pocomo were appointed to assist Justices in laying off the Parishes of Somerset (p 152).

William Noble patented land in 1695 called "Cherry Blossom" lying on the North side of the Pocomo River and in 1707 purchased of Mrs. Mary Edgar 150 acres of "Good Success" on the same river. He acquired other lands among which was "Cypress and Hatchla" on which he resided.

The tract of land, "Hatchla" on which he resided, he devised to his son James after the decease of his Mother.

William Noble married first Gennett (Jannett) who was the mother of his older children. He married, second, Elizabeth Benston, daughter of Joseph Benston of Annemessex, Somerset Co., who was the mother of their son, James. William Noble died June 7, 1709 and his Elizabeth survived him.

SECOND GENERATION

Jonathan Noble, 2nd., (William 1st) was born in Somerset Co. 10th April 1686 and resided on land called "Cherry Garden" on the Pocomoche River, which had been patented by his father William Noble. In 1707 he purchased from his half-brother James land called "Hatchla" and later acquired other lands.

No record is found of the name of his wife who evidently predeceased him as she is not mentioned in his will. He died in 1721 leaving his brothers-in law Wm. Noble and George Tull guardian to his five minor children.

THIRD GENERATION

William Noble 3rd., (Jonathan 2nd., William 1st.) was born about 1715 and died in 1775. He died intestate --no wife is mentioned in settlement of the estate which shows the administrators to have been Ann Newman, the nearest of kin, who approved of the inventory was Eleanor Newman and Thomas Newman. It is not clear as to this relationship but as no wife received a share of the estate, evidently he married a Miss Newman and these were his wife's relatives, who signed the inventory--the children being minors. We also find Thomas Newman and Charles Newman, the bondsmen of Ann Newman.

FOURTH GENERATION

Isaac Noble 4th, (William, 3rd., Jonathan, 2nd., William, 1st.) was born June 8, 1764. He married Peggy Walston, born Sept. 15, 1771, daughter of Henry Walston.

Isaac Noble and wife Peggy in 1803 sold the land and her part of the estate of her father, Henry Walston, on Devils Island now known as Deals Island. Henry Walston served in the militia of Somerset Co. during the Revolutionary War. Services are found in Unpublished List of Maryland Militia, p 54 in Maryland History Society, Baltimore, Md.

In 1804 Isaac and Peggy Noble removed to Jefferson Co., Mississippi and later to Jersey Co., Ill. where both died.

Isaac Noble moved to Illinois in 1836. He left an immense fortune for that time, about $82,000.00. Aaron Noble, one of the sons, sold out in Jersey Co. Ill. and returned to Mississippi where he lost all of his property by the Civil War. He (I'm not sure whether he (Cyrus A. Sisson) means Isaac or Aaron, but I (Fred L. Beck) thinks Isaac) had several good farms around Otterville, Illinois. He built a big 16 room house on the one where the Isaac Noble monument was erected, later known as the McAdam's or still later the Bush Farm one mile north of Otterville. When he moved to Ill. he took 5 horses, carriages and several negro footmen with him.

MISSISSIPPI DELTA CHAPTER D.A.R.

NOBLE FAMILY

by Zoe Roberts Austin

Aaron Noble came to Bolivar Co. Miss. in 1850. In 1847, he purchased the tract of land on Egypt Ridge near the present town of Benoit, now owned by Mr. John R. Parkinson. He sent as his advance agent, Mr. A.V. Pearce-field with a force of slaves to clear the forests and put the land in cultivation, following later with his wife and four children, 2 boys and 2 girls.

Aaron Noble, Jr. was born in Jefferson Co. Mississippi May 5, 1809. His father Issac Noble, born in Somerset Co. Md. June 8, 1764 with his wife Peggy (Walston), born Sept. 15, 1771 in Somerset Co. Md. migrated to Jefferson Co. Miss. in 1804, where he invested largely in land and slaves and was a pioneer teacher of that County. In 1836, fearing an insurrection among the negroes, he sold his interests and emigrated to Jerseyville, May 18, 1838, where he died Apr. 28, 1846. Peggy died in 1853.

After his father's death, Aaron Noble returned to Miss., settling first in Clarbourne Co. and thence to Adams Co., where he married Feb. 28, 1836 Miss Margaret Stowers, daughter of Caleb and Elizabeth (Wade) Stowers born Aug. 5, 1817 and died Oct. 30, 1858 and removed to Bolivar Co. in 1850. He was an upright Christian gentleman of the old school, honored by all who knew him. He died Sept. 28, 1858 and was buried on an Indian mound in Bolivar Co. His wife surviving him only one month. Their daughter, Narcissus Noble married A.V. Pearcefield and died without issue. Their sons Edward and John Noble died unmarried. John served all during the Civil War as a gallant Confederate soldier and when an old man died an inmate of the Confederate Soldier's Home at Beauvoir, Mississippi.

Their daughter Emily married W.F. Poole, from Louisville, Ky. who came to Bolivar Co. as a teacher soon after the War. They had two children, Minnie Elizabeth and William F. Poole, Jr. The son died unmarried. In 1886 Minnie E. Poole married Wm. B. Roberts, a young lawyer from Nashville, Tenn. The Roberts family were originally from Connecticut, the Revolutionary Soldier being John Roberts, of Berlin, Conn. whose grandson William emigrated to Nashville, Tenn. in 1825 where he married Sarah Chowning. Their son Clay Chowning was born in 1833 and married Martha Louise Cable, born June 6, 1836 and died Dec. 12, 1872. Their son Wm. B. born in 1861, came to Bolivar Co. at the instance of his uncle, James L. Wilson, where he has been an honored citizen, a successful lawyer and banker and has held many public positions of trust, now being State Senator from this County.

The children of Minnie Poole Roberts, the only grand child of Aaron Noble, are, Emma Louise, who married Frank Reid of Friars Point, Miss., Miss Zoe R. who married Dr. L.B. Austin, a leading physician and surgeon of Rosedale, Miss. Lena Cable, who married Walter Sillers, Jr. a leading lawyer of Rosedale and a member of the pioneer families of Bolivar Co. William Clay, the only son who is now a law student at Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn.

These 4 young people are the Great-grandchildren of Aaron Noble, but the name NOBLE is no more heard in Bolivar Co. Miss. So do the honored names of the Pioneers of a country pass away. By Zoe Roberts Austin M.D.

Mrs. Walter Sillers,

Dear Madam:

I have in mind what you wrote me regarding the inscriptions that might be on the monuments of Isaac and Peggy Noble but was waiting for the roads and weather to permit the trip. I was at Otterville yesterday. Isaac Noble and his family were buried on the farm that he owned at the time of his death. This farm, of course has changed hands many times since then and the only monument left standing is that of Isaac Noble's. The inscription on the monument of Isaac Noble's is as follows,

Isaac Noble
Born in Somerset Co. Md. June 8, 1764
Emigrated to Mississippi in 1804
Removed to Illinois 1836
Died Apr. 28, 1846.

The inscription on the marble slab bearing the name of Peggy Noble is as follows,

Peggy Noble
Born in Somerset Co. Md. Sept. 15, 1771
Emigrated to Mississippi in 1804
Removed to Illinois in 1836
Died May 18, 1858

The above is an exact reproduction of the inscriptions including the spelling and abbreviations. This burial ground is now in the middle of a pasture. If there ever was a fence around this burial place, it has decayed or been removed many years ago.

I suppose that Isaac Noble and Peggy Noble were married in Somerset Co., Md. if the records of your county in Mississippi do not disclose such marriage. The clerk of the proper court in Somerset Co. Md., could no doubt, give the dates of the marriage, and it might be that such marriage record would give the parents of the parties too. Nothing appears in the inscription on either stone telling who the parents of the parties were. I trust that this will give you sufficient information that you can trace the ancestors of those people and find what you are looking for. If you should ascertain that the ancestors of Isaac Noble were in the Revolutionary War, I wish you would kindly give me what information you have. My daughter (Mary Louise) might some day desire to join the D.A.R. and it would save me a lot of trouble looking it up.

The person from whom I hoped to obtain information, of whom I spoke in my letter, has not returned from California. As soon as he does, however, I will see if he can give me any information from the family record that he has pertaining to the ancestors of Isaac Noble.

With best regards, I am

Yours truly,
H.P.Noble

Among the old land grants of the time, yet to be found on file in the Natchez District land office, Washington, Miss. is one of 25,000 acres to Amos Ogden, dated Oct. 27, 1772. Another for 20,000 acres was granted to Thaddeus Lymon, of Connecticut. Many others of varying size are to be seen.

These people cultivated sugar cane and cotton, and lived such quiet lives that no record of their doings is found in history, save only that when the Atlantic Colonies revolted under the oppression of the British Government, they remained loyal to the King, but were not sufficiently numerous or aggressive to take any material part in the struggle.

A large establishment of colonists in the Natchez area under English dominion was made by General Phineas Lyman of Connecticut and Rev. Samuel Swayze of New Jersey. These brought to the country the Protestant Church, tho during Chester's administration Episcopal Clergymen were officiating at Pensacola, the Rev. Nathan Cotten of the Church of England having died at that place. The Jersey settlement was a fixed establishment of Protestantism in Mississippi. Rev. J.G. Jones in his history on the subject says " Among the first who came (to the Natchez District) was Amos Ogden, a reduced Captain in the British Navy, to whom the King of England had made a grant in 1768 of 25,000 acres of land on condition that the land be located and permanently settled by a specified number of families. Finding that he was unable to himself to comply with the conditions, he sold 19,800 acres of his grant to two wealthy planters from New Jersey by the names of Richard and Samuel Swayze, on condition that they would assist him in locating the land and would settle their portion of families on it. In 1775, after a tedious and perilous journey, Captain Ogden and the Swayze brothers, with their families and connections to the full number required by the conditions of the grant, about fourteen families landed upon the site to raise corn, during the following year. They settled on the Homochitto River near what was known as Kingston and formed what is still known as the Jersey settlement."

Rev. Samuel Swayze, one of the original settlers on the Ogden Grant, was a Congregational minister. Soon after their arrival in the Natchez or Adams Co. they were regularly organized into the Congregational Church with Mr. Swayze as their pastor, which he continued to be until his death in 1784.

Their cabins were located close together about one mile from old Kingston. In 1784 Caleb King built his home on the present site of Kingston and called the place by his name. Dr. C.F. FARRAR of Kingston, a grandson of Caleb King, has the original map of the place, with the names of the streets as drawn by the founder. (A copy of it to be found elsewhere copied by your author). The surrounding country became thickly settled and Kingston was a small and prosperous pioneer town of some 150 people. Familiar family names were Swayze, Foules, Ashford Byrd's, Davises, Farrars Vaughns, Thomases, Sojourner, Dougherty, Noble, Eaton, King etc.

Descendents of these families still live in this locality also a number of the descendents moved to Jersey Co. Illinois where they lived and left descendents to carry on their names.

KINGSTON METHODIST CHURCH & KINGSTON, MISSISSIPPI-

Kingston Methodist Church, (Miss.) a typical plantation neighborhood church, built of brick with a small portico in front. Inside is a slave gallery. On the grounds are old steps from which riders mounted their horses. This church is the successor of the one founded by Lorenzo Dow in 1803, at which time he deeded land to the trustees for the erection of the church. The original church, according to tradition, was destroyed by a tornado in 1840, and the present one erected in the early 1850's. (1856) In a field diagonally across the road from the church is the grave of Caleb King, founder of Kingston, marked by an impressive monument rising high above tall meadow grass.

Above taken from "Mississippi Past & Present"-May 19, 1943 at Jackson, Miss. by M.B.N.F.

Kingston, (25 population) is an old Community with a modern white frame consolidated school and general store. The original village, which developed around a blockhouse, was called JERSEY TOWN until about 1777, when Caleb King son-in-law of Richard Swayze, laid out lots around his plantation home. Until about 1825 Kingston prospered having several stores, a tailor, a saddler and a blacksmith. The Congregational Church built in 1798 was the first Protestant Church in Mississippi. Prior to this time services were held secretly in the woods or in private homes, the Spanish Government opposed to any sort other than that of the Catholic. With the establishment of other towns in this district, Kingston slowly began to decline. By 1830 it was little more than it is today.

Directions to Kingston Church-Go 4 7/8 mile out of Natchez, on Kingston (cement road), take left turn on cement road, then dirt road to Yellow Church. Cemetery directly in front of church in pecan grove etc.

On May 13, 1767 the British King George 3rd, issued an order or mandamus to the Governor of West Florida to have surveyed and allotted to Amos Ogden, born 1759, a reduced captain in the British Navy, a large tract of land containing 25,000 acres, for some noble deed he had preformed, which was located in Adams Co., near the Homochitto River, near the present city of Natchez, Mississippi. Cap't Amos Odgen sold 19,000 A. of said land to two brothers, namely Samuel and Richard Swayze of Morris Co. New Jersey for 25 cents per acre, in 1772. This community was commonly known as the "mandamus Grant" from the Latin word mandamus meaning King's proclamation.

Soon after buying said tract of land, the Swayzes, Kings, Foules, Farrars, Nobles, Doughertys, Ashfords, Eatons, and others came from Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia, Maryland etc. to settle and make their homes.

Rev. Samuel Swayze was a Congregational minister in New Jersey and as soon as he and his relatives and friends were settled, they did their worshiping in their private homes, secretly in fear of the Spandiards who did not allow freedom of worship.

Henry Noble married Miss Mary Swayze, a daughter of Richard Swayze, Jr. Soon after buying said tract of land, the Swayze & Noble families placed their chattels on a flatboat of some kind, and went to their new home, all the way by water, south on the Atlantic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico, across the Gulf to Lake Pontchartrain into the Mississippi River, up that stream to the Homochitto River, then up to their land on that river. At this time the country was a vast wilderness, occupied by wild Indians. Many of the Swayze posterity are living at this time in that vacinity.

There was a man by the name of King that married a Miss Swayze, that settled with the Swayzes. From this man King, the postoffice was named Kingston, which bears that name to this day. (Dr. F.L.Beck) in a letter wrote, I visited this Mr. King's large monument, also the Kingston Cemetery.

Another conspicuous character that settled near Kingston was Dr. Silas Hamilton of the "Stone Schoolhouse" fame of Otterville, Illinois. He was originally from the state of Vermont. In one of his trips south he bought one "colored George Washington", in Virginia as a crying child, his mother having been sold and taken south. Mr. Hamilton told the child he would try to find his mother if he would go with him. Mr. Hamilton remained near Kingston till near 1830, when he took his negroes to Ohio to give them their liberty. He went to Springfield, Illinois thence to Quincy, thence to Ottercreek in Jersey Co., where Mr. Hamilton died in 1835. At this time George Washington was about grown, and after his death was buried near the Presbyterian Church in Otterville, Illinois. Beyond any doubt the removal of Dr.

Hamilton to Illinois was the sole cause of four of his neighbors, namely William and James Dougherty and Henry and Isaac Noble to settle in Illinois, as his neighbors, in Ottercreek, about the year 1833. (Rev. Thomas Eaton wrote Mrs. Martha A. Sisson on May 27, 1848) that Henry Noble, his brother Aaron, John Lamb, William and James Dougherty (brothers) and Dr. Hamilton & their families came from the Jersey settlement, Adams Co. Miss. in the early 1830's to Jersey Co. Illinois" per Dr. Fred C. Beck of Cheyenne, Wyo. to M.B.N. Feiner).

As early as 1760 a married couple came from Ireland and settled in South Carolina. To this pair four children were born: three boys and a girl. This pair was known as O'Dougherty for awhile. The "O" was a title of distinction in Ireland. By becoming free American citizens their name was changed to Dougherty. These four children remained in South Carolina until the 1820's. They were all married and had families when they emigrated to near Kingston, Adams Co. Miss. Ann Dougherty was married twice in South Carolina. Her first husband was Peleg Chase, who died without issue. Ann's second husband's name was Curry, who died soon after moving to Mississippi, about 1823. Mr. Henry Noble being a widower, married the Widow Curry in 1824 or 1825. While Mr. Curry lived, there were born to him and Ann, four children, a son and three daughters, namely Stephen, Margarette, Emeline and Frances. By the marriage of Ann Curry to Henry Noble, there was born one son, whose name was William Henry. In 1833 Isaac and William H. Noble and William and James Dougherty all settled not far from where the Stone School House now stands in Otterville, Illinois, where the writer's parents as well as my brothers and sisters first attended school, as well as I.

William and Elizabeth Coney Dougherty's children were Samuel James Madison Dougherty who married Arkada Varanda or Varando; Adeline D. Dougherty who married John W. Sanson or Sansom; Amanda, who was married to Isaac Nevies and John Campbell; Eufamy or Euphemia who was married Oct. 22, 1840 in Jersey Co. Ill. to Thomas Smirl; Mary B. Dougherty who married Nathaniel Hamilton, the father of Judge Oscar Brown Hamilton; Matilda Dougherty who married Henry Utt Oct. 27, 1842 and George White who lived in Nebraska. Information from Dr. Stephen Curry Beck, Edgar, Neb. to Dr. Frederick Lewis Beck of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Henry & Ann Noble sold to George Varandoe 396 A of land on Town Creek and the Homochiotto River in Mississippi for $4,500.00 January 5th, 1833 before moving to Jersey Co. Ill.

For the information of the Descendants of the Jersey Settlers Association, I have listed the names of the children of heirs of Richard Swayze and his brother Rev. Samuel Swayze, that shared in the partition of 15,800 acres of land being part of the Odgen Mandamus owned by the two brothers and inherited by their children and direct heirs. This partition of the land was not made until the year 1787 although the Deed to the two brothers by Amos Odgen to 19,000 acres was made in 1772 when they moved on the Mandamus, and both having died before the separate survey of the acreage owned by the heirs and already in their possession was made.

The first step in the process is to identify the problem. This involves gathering information about the situation and understanding the needs of the stakeholders. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to develop a plan of action. This plan should outline the goals, objectives, and strategies that will be used to address the problem. The plan should also include a timeline and a budget. Once the plan is developed, the next step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring the progress. Finally, the last step is to evaluate the results. This involves assessing the impact of the intervention and determining whether the goals have been achieved.

The third step in the process is to implement the plan. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring the progress. The implementation phase is often the most challenging, as it requires the coordination of resources and the execution of the plan. It is important to monitor the progress closely and make adjustments as needed. Once the plan has been implemented, the next step is to evaluate the results. This involves assessing the impact of the intervention and determining whether the goals have been achieved.

The fourth step in the process is to evaluate the results. This involves assessing the impact of the intervention and determining whether the goals have been achieved. Evaluation is a critical part of the process, as it allows us to learn from our experiences and make improvements for the future. There are several methods for evaluation, including self-reports, observations, and interviews. The choice of method will depend on the nature of the intervention and the research questions.

The fifth step in the process is to disseminate the results. This involves sharing the findings of the evaluation with the relevant stakeholders. Dissemination is important for several reasons. First, it allows others to learn from our experiences and make improvements to their own programs. Second, it helps to build the evidence base for effective interventions. Finally, it can help to secure funding for future research and implementation efforts.

JOHN CAMERON SWAYZE

March 11, 1953

Dear Mrs. Feiner,

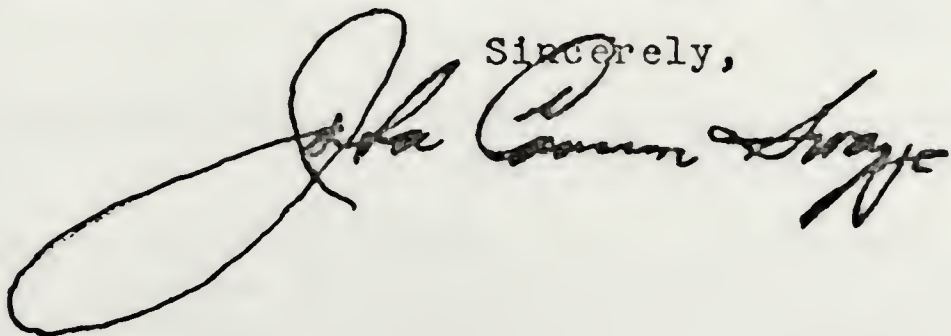

Thank you so much for the letter with all the information about the Swayzes and also containing the inquiry as to my ancestors.

I doubt there is any relationship since my great-grandfather came from Germany, settling near Grand Rapids, Michigan. From there, my grandfather, Wesley Swayze, set out for western Kansas. There my father, Jesse Ernest Swayze, was born on a farm near the town of Hope, where I still have relatives.

When I was broadcasting from Kansas City, a Mr. Swayze, plantation owner from Natchez, Mississippi, came in one day with his daughter for a visit as he had heard the radio program. His home was near Yazoo City. He may have been a descendant of those you mention.

Thanks again and all best wishes.

Sincerely,

Swayze Family Robinson

News commentator John Cameron Swayze (NBC-TV; 4, Mon. to Fri., 7:45 p.m.) announced plans for a new TV show, this time with the whole Swayze family. John, his wife Tuffy, and their son and daughter John C., Jr., and Suzanne have completed the first of a series of 15-minute travelog films, due for a spring TV premiere. Some places the Swayzes will visit and comment on: Washington, D. C., California, Florida, the Smoky Mountains, New York City. "We think it's fun, and hope the viewers will get a kick out of it."

Fans of Swayze's current show apparently get a "kick" out of it. Here's one letter Swayze cherishes: "My husband, 3-year-old son and myself are ardent listeners to your program. However, we didn't realize the full extent of our boy's absorption in your program until one night recently when we heard him say at the end of his prayers, 'Well, that's the story, Lord. Glad we could get together. Amen.'"

Q—Where was John Cameron Swayze born and what are his parents' names? How old is he? . . . MRS. M. LISIECKI, Warren.

A—Swayze was born in Wichita, Kan., April 4, 1906. His parents were Jesse Ernest and Mary Christine Swayze.

DURING THE PAST

The following was copied and sent to Alma Lee Noble (one of my sister's) by Cyrus Sisson under the date of March 2nd, 1915.-

"A copy of an old Record preserved in the King family obtained from H.K.Eaton. Who got it from Alexander Farrar.

The King Family

Caleb King, son of Constance King was born Dec.25, 1743, (date reads Dec.14, 1743 on tombstone in Adams Co. Miss.) in the province, supposedly (Morris Co.) New Jersey State, and died at the house of Thomas Eaton, his soninlaw, in Adams Co. state of Mississippi on the 9th day of Sept. 1820.

Said Caleb King with his wife, (Mary whom he married June 26, 1774) her father Richard Swayze and her Uncle Samuel Swayze, two old men each having a family of 10 or 12 grown children, mostly, if not all married, emigrated from Perth Amboy New Jersey, some say in 1772, some 1773 and some 1774, to a tract of land called the Mandamus in said Adams County Mississippi Territory. These two Old Brothers, Richard and Samuel Swayze had accidentally met at a Hotel in the town or City of New York with Amos Ogden (b-1759) a reduced Captain in the British Navy. Being in feeble health and having rendered valuable service to the English Government, the King of England in Council in the year 1762 granted him a "Mandamus" to the Governor of Florida to lay off 25000 acres of land in the province or territory of Florida to him the said Amos Ogden". (Brother of Cap't John Ogden b 17-18--d Jan.6 1764)

The following lines, a personal note written to Alma by Cyrus Sisson, follows: "I will just go through my book and copy what I think will interest you most, or where the Noble and Dougherty families are mentioned. So far I've copied from eight pages and there are about twenty pages describing how they got this land. In my Uncle Thomas Eaton's description of it, he said his father had a blacksmith shop in Jersey Settlement (now Kingston, Adams County, Mississippi, which is fifteen miles below Natchez, on the Woodville Road to New Orleans near the Homochitto River, and on the 18500 acres of land, which, in about 1770, the firm of King, Horton, Swayze and Co. bought from Captain Ogden for twenty-five cents an acre). (See History of Miss. Volume 1 and 2-also "The Heart of the South" under Dougherty for more information--This was copied May 19, 1942 by M.B.N. Feiner)

(Ann Dougherty Curry was the sister of James, George H. and William Dougherty. The Dougherty and Curry families left South Carolina for Adams Co. Miss. about 1820 or 1823. The above paragraph was written to my father Milton B. Noble, on May 5th, 1914 from Edgar, Nebraska.)

Old Henry Noble died Aug. 23, 1852, lacked a few weeks of being 80 years of age. Mary Swayze, his first wife died in Miss. Oct 9, 1825, Ann Curry his second wife died in Jersey Co., Ill. Apr. 23, 1850.

Sarah, sister of Mary Swayze who married Henry Noble, and daughter of Richard Swayze Jr., granddaughter of Richard Swayze Sr. married Daniel Fowler, a Pennsylvanian, also moved to the Mississippi territory, and became parents of the following five:

1-Hiram, who married a Miss Adams and had by her William and Volney Fowler who were living in 1854. She dying he married the Widow of Richard Session whose maiden name was Edna Kell. She had no children and died before 1854.

2-Clarissa, who married James P. Ashford by whom she had 6 or 8 children, who were living Nov. 1854 at which period Mr. Ashford was dead.

3-Alfred, who married Miss Mary Adams. They were both dead in 1854 but had left 2 or 3 children.

4-Gabriel, who married a Miss McKay, who was dead in 1854. Gabriel and one daughter still survived.

5-Lydia, who married Alexander Montgomery."

Mary Swayze, Daughter of Richard Swayze, Junior who was son of the old patriarch & pioneer, Richard Swayze. Said Mary as may be seen on page 22&23 of this book married Henry Noble; -Nov. 1854 the following children of hers had died viz.

1-Solomon who left 4 children, 3 of whom were living at said date-one of Solomon's sons Albert Lewis Noble, who was then in Cal. One daughter of Solomon's L Louisiana Noble married Wm. Evans-another daughter Mary Ellen Noble, Married a Mr. Campbell and both said daughters were living in Ill. in Nov. 1854.

2-Daniel, son of said Henry & Mary Noble, died in Adams Co. Miss. without issue, never married.

3-Virgil, Son of said Henry & Mary Noble married a Miss Utt in Jersey Co. Ill. died near Galena, Ill. of Cholera in 1849, left a wife & 4 children who now Nov. 1854 live in Jersey Co. Ill.

Mary Ann, daughter of said Henry & Mary Noble, married Henry Darlington in Jersey Co. Ill. She left 2 children who at Nov. 1854 were living

Caleb King, his daughter, my Aunt Eliza K. Farrar, told me "H.K. Eaton" Nov. 29, 1854 that Grandfather Caleb King came & aided in Surveying the Mandamus in the year 1772: went back to New Jersey & returned to the Mandamus in 1773 or 1774, she was not sure which. (Note by H.K. Eaton) He went to Mandamus with Amos Ogden in 1773, returning to N.Y. with him in 1774. See pl2&13

OLD HENRY NOBLE FAMILY

Mr. Noble married a Swayze. She was a cousin of my Mother; who was Sallie King, but whose mother was Mary Swayze. (Note by Cyrus A. Sisson) "This Mary Swayze was a daughter of the Old Richard Swayze & pioneer, and a sister to the young Richard Swayze father to H. Noble's wife".

Noble married in Adams Co. Mississippi perhaps before the year 1800. He moved to Jersey Co. Ill. about 1830 to 1833. In Feb. 14, 1853 I was at the house of Michael Doubt who was then a neighbor of Old Mr. Noble. There I learned that old Mr. Noble had the following named children living at about or near the ages herein stated viz.

George	aged 53 years	-Salley Lamb	50 years
Lydia Hurd	42	" -Sidney	38 "
Caleb	34	" -Reuben	32 "
William	25	" a half brother

At Feb. 14, 1853 afore written, I was informed that all of said persons, were living in Jersey Co. Ill. except Reuben who was then living at Garnaville Clayton Co. Iowa. And I think I was told he was a practitioner of Law.

MRS. JANET (nee FOULES) DOUGHERTY'S FAMILY

I think Aunt Jeannette was in some way, how, I never knew, related to or connected with the descendants of that Captain Amos Ogden who held the Land Warrant, commonly called a "Mandamus" granted him by the King of England not far from middle of the 18th century. Aunt Janet, when a girl used to stay a good deal with my Mother, Sallie King and they were very much attached to each other. I have an impression that she and William Dougherty were married in my fathers house, not far, say from 1817. He " died 1833 Oct. 20". I was at the house of Michal Doubt, then living in Jersey Co. Ill. and a near neighbor of Mrs. Jeanette Dougherty, on the 14th Feb. 1853 and there and then I obtained the following particulars about Mr. Dougherty's family viz. Mrs. Eliza Curtiss then a widow, believed to be her oldest child, then 35 or 36 years old. She had 6 children, then living. Mrs. Curtiss then lived near her Mother.

John Dougherty thought to be Aunt Janet's oldest son. John supposed to be 30 years old in 1853" (Born 1820 July 28 in Adams Co. Miss)". He had married a Miss Susan Melrose, and they had 2 children.

William Dougherty A son 28 to 30 years old then was married & living in California then. He moved there in 1852. (May 15-1877 he has been dead many years.)

Sarah M. Gatewood a daughter, living in Feb. 1853 in Jersey Co. Ill. and is living there in 1877. She was said to be 25 or 26 years old in 1853 (she was Born March 17-1826 - Died March 16, 1906. In 1832 her father

Wm. Y. Dougherty moved with his family from Miss. to Jersey Co. Ill.)

Charles Dougherty, a son said to be about 23 or 24 years old in 1853. He was at Galesburg College Ill. in Feb. 1853. He studied Medicine, went to Mississippi a few years before the war broke out, and died, poor fellow; in the Southern army. I loved him much. He was to me an agreeable, pleasant, promising young man when I saw him last in summer of 1858.

Then there was Henry Eaton Dougherty a fine fellow- and a stirring and enterprising, useful Christian man. The Church and Ottercreek community, Jersey Co. Ill. lost a valuable citizen & member when Henry E. Dougherty died about the last week in Jan. 1875. My very earlist recollections take in and still cling to the names of Wm Dougherty and his wife Janet. I think they lived some years in my Grandfather King's old homestead. Mr. Wm Dougherty kept a store at Kingston in those days. It was one 8th of a mile to 300 yards from his dwelling place. He came to Ill. in 1832-also about the time I presumed that Mr. Noble came. My Brother the Rev. Thomas A. Eaton's first wife was Louisa, a Daughter of Wm. and Janet Dougherty. She was married in 1844 and died early in 1845. Aunt Janet has been dead several years May 1877.

Henry Noble, his Brother Aaron Noble, John Lamb soninlaw of Henry Noble: William and James Dougherty, Dr. Hamilton and their families came to Jersey Co. Ill. from Jersey settlement Mississippi early in the thirtieth. Henry Noble and others as early as 1829.

In 1834 Henry K. Eaton and his brotherinlaw William Pomeroy visited Ill. on horseback. In 1835 My Father and his soninlaw Michael Doubt visited Ill. and entered land rich and beautiful prairie and timber, within 40 miles of St. Louis for a dollar and a quarter an acre. Father sold his Kentucky farm for $50 dollars an acre. (This is from Uncle Tom Eaton. About 24 pages of history of his father's family

Many names and dates may be duplications or they may not be exactly the same, but that is the way I found the records had been kept through my many hours of searching from old family Bibles, libraries, County records of births, deaths, marriages as well as letters and newspaper clippings. HENRY NOBLE

Henry Noble was born of English parentage, near Prince Ann or Princess Anne, Maryland in October 1772. When twenty-three years of age he moved to the state of Mississippi, settling southwest of Natchez, near Kingston. In 1799 he married Mary Swayze, dau of Richard Swayze Jr. a native of Maryland of Irish descent. She died October 9, 1825 in Miss. Henry Noble was a well informed man and kept close watch of the stirring events of his time. He was a regular reader of "NilesRegister" a very ably edited periodical published at Baltimore, Md. He lost his wife the day Mary Ann Noble was born.

Henry Noble applied for his second marriage license Dec.22, 1826 which was signed by Henry Noble & William Dougherty (Page 6-From Early History of Adams Co.Miss.) and was married to Nancy Ann Dougherty-Chase-Curry by J.H.VonCourt V.D.M. Dec.28, 1826. Sealed by Gerald C. Brandon-Acting Governor of Adams Co. Miss.

Nancy Ann Dougherty, dau of Wm. and Elizabeth O'Dougherty was a native of Charleston or Milledgeville, near Aiken, So. Carolina of Scotch, Welsh and Irish descent. She was born in 1785 and moved to near Kingston,

The first of these is the fact that the number of people who are employed in the service of the government is increasing. This is due to the fact that the government is expanding its activities in many fields, and is therefore requiring more personnel to carry out its functions. This is particularly true in the case of the armed forces, where the number of personnel is increasing rapidly. It is also true in the case of the civil service, where the number of personnel is also increasing. The Curry family occupied "RoseHill" plantation in Mississippi and later the home of Lewis & Margaret F. Curry Chase.

Henry and Nancy Ann Noble's only child was William Henry Noble, born Dec. 11, 1827 in Adams Co., Miss. On account of his antislavery sentiments he, with his family moved to Jersey Co. Ill. and with them went four old colored family servants, who later were buried near the Presbyterian Church in Otterville. The family, with their household furnishings were brought on a flatboat up the Mississippi River to Grafton, landing April 3rd, 1833. From there they located in Jersey Co. near Otterville, Ill. Nancy Ann died April 23, 1850 and Henry Aug. 23, 1852 and they were buried in the Noble Cemetery, northwest of the village, a part of the farm being donated for that purpose by the family. Henry Noble was a man of inflexible honesty and integrity and reached the advanced age of 82 years.

Like his father, who had always been a farmer, William H. Noble continued, owning some 460 acres. His residence was one of the oldest frame houses in Jersey County and was still standing in 1960. Mr. Noble and his whole family were members of the Presbyterian Church, which stood on the corner of the original farm.

The plot of the "Noble Cemetery" was filed for Records May 28th, 1877.

Dr. Frederick Louis Beck sent me the following outline of his life. Following it will be excerpts from letters he & his wife wrote me.

2-4 Frederick Louis Beck of Cheyenne, Wyo. son of Joseph Daniel and Esther Ann Price Beck was born at Otterville, Ill., Apr.13,1871. His parents moved to Neb. to homestead in 1872, to town of Edgar 1878. Mother died 1880. He worked on a farm from age 12 to 18. He taught school 11 years, working on a farm and studying medicine in intervals. He was a Principal of a school for 3 years. Married at 26, graduating in Medicine in 1903 from the Univ. of Nebraska at Omaha. The wedding was at the home of the bride Fannie Lillian White, who lived in Lincoln, Neb. The parents were Elisha & Laura Almira Blood White. The bride was born at Carleton, Neb., Feb.3,1878, graduating from high school at 14. She attended Neb. Wesleyan Prep School 2 years and the University for 2 years, marrying when she was 19. She had a bro. & sister living at Boise, Idaho in 1952.

Their children were: Helen Evangeline; Frederick White; Mildred Irene; Louis; Carol Laura; & Marian Eva. (More information to be found elsewhere in this book).

The Strader & Beck partnership continued for nearly 18 years, Sept.1937 within a few months of Dr. Strader's death. Dr. E.W.Newman who had been with the firm several years took Dr. Strader's place. Dr. Beck retired from practice Dec.31, 1939, turning his work over to his son Fred. W. Beck, M.D., who had been in the office on salary for 2 years or more.

Dear Cousin-

I am very glad indeed to have your letter and to learn that we have so much in common.

I should like to know much more about the Noble family and especially your particular branch of it, and the Feiner's as well.

I had hoped to revisit the Kingston community last spring-wife and I were there in 1940-but the war made it impossible. Our visit there was altogether too brief.

Shall be glad to have your "skeleton", tree, manuscript or whatever for comparison and filling in my many vacancies and if I can add anything which you may desire I shall be more than happy to do that.

My mother died in 1880 but I well remember hearing her and father's many references to Uncle William and Aunt Thirza Noble. Nearly all of the notes I have of the family were secured in an evening's wonderful visit with your Aunt Emma Dodson in Jerseyville a number of years ago, some also from Cyrus Sisson.

I greatly enjoyed our contacts with the Mississippi and Louisiana folks three years ago and have also my correspondence with Mrs. McCaleb since.

By the way, I wonder if you know a granddaughter of Uncle Steve Beck lives near you., Grace Beck Jodar, wife of Dr. Emery Orville Jodar, 1447 Berkshire Road, Grosse Point, Mich. He is a specialist in Pediatrics with office at 15760 Mack Ave Detroit. I think a sister of Grace's is also there. They are daughters of Herbert Beck, Uncle Steve's oldest son.

December 1943

My Dear Cousin and Family,

Things are beginning to smell Christmasy around here. At home with us now are our oldest and our youngest daughters Helen and Marian, each with one child, Helen, a 6 yr.old boy (adopted) and Marian a 2½ yr.old daughter. Helen's husband, now Col.L.T.Shannon is in England we think and Marian's Lt.(j.g.) R.J.Moses, U.S.N.R. in Radar work (Anti-submarine). The girls will no doubt be with us for the duration. Mrs.B. spent Sunday the 12th with son Fred at Deshion Hospital, Butler, Pa. and Monday in Chicago with a couple of nieces, daughters of my older brother Ambrose, both born in Korea. He was a missionary in that country for 20 years, -was manager of the Methodist publishing house in Seoul and during the Russo-Japanese War, 1905 I think it was, the Japs invaded Manchuria via Korea and had Ambrose publish a daily paper in Japanese for them.

Should be glad to be remembered to Grace Jodar and her sister, I gave one of their brothers his introduction to this mundane sphere.

December 1944

Dear Cousin, -

Here's a Happy Hand for a Merry Christmas and a very worth while New Year to you and yours.

We're expecting all of our kids and most of the "kidlets" home for a few days during the holidays, coming from points as far distant as Butler, Pa., Tacoma, Washington and Alamosa, Colo.

Thanks for your beautiful Christmas Greeting & note. I hope Mrs. Feiner does not suffer much.

January 1945

Dear Cousins,

I don't know whether you lived in Illinois long enough to have known any of my mother's relatives-the Bartlett's for instance Herbert who was a half cousin of mine, was buried at Jerseyville or Otterville a day or so ago. He passed away at Illinois Masonic Home. An old bachelor, lived to be 75. (My 1st grade teacher was Miss Minnie B. Bartlett -whether related or not I am not sure. M.B.N.F)

Christmas 1947

Dear Cousin, -

We are reasonably well after some surgery for both of us--mine last spring and wife's in November. She has been home a couple of weeks and is doing splendidly.

Our folks all home from the service, Fred practicing here. Helen's husband retired from the army after 21 years service but was called back to go into the Intelligence Service in Washington.

decent citizen.

I'm awfully sorry I didn't get my thinker on sooner-before you bought that ticket for California. We'd like so much to have had you stop off in Cheyenne.

I am sending you the essentials of what I have on the Dougharty's. (I've been spelling this with an "a" since meeting one of the tribe in Jerseyville some years ago who said that was the original spelling and that he clings to it) Please tell me whether everyone else spells it Dougherty.

Should be glad to have you look over this and make such suggestions, additions or subtractions as you may know are fitting.

Mrs. Ann McCaleb gave me most of what I have on the George D. family, together with many things I remember from the days of my grandmother Beck, who, I am remembering was one of your Grandfather Noble's half sisters.

Dec.1949

Dear Cousin Birdie,

Wife and I came to California to spend holidays but next day after arrival they took me to hospital where I stayed nearly 4 weeks. Have been out 10 days and think we shall start for Cheyenne in about 10 days more. The folks from Tacoma decided to come here since we couldn't go on to visit them as planned.

Too bad some of us are getting old. Don't do it if you can help it! For 28 years I've been telling folks not to get a wooden leg if they don't have to,--but for 18 of those years I carried on a very heavy medical practice, despite the wooden leg, then turned it-the practice not the leg-over to my son who was so much better prepared for it than I had been that there was no comparison.

Think you have been a busy woman. My wife is another, when not taking care of me or the house, she's doing church work, writing letters to the kids or some one else or gathering up clothes to be shipped to European folks more needy than ourselves.

While the prospect of having to wear a body brace for many, many months is not pleasing, it will save me the trouble of raising a garden, mowing the lawn, and a lot of other accustomed chores, but so long as I can read, write, listen to the radio and visit with friends, not to mention being waited on by a loving wife, why complain?

Well, it makes me realize that most of us are not spring chickens any more, and that at 79 if I am to complete my records of the Linnell-Clark-Price and allied families in a way that you would like to see, and as many of you have expressed a desire to see, I may have to hurry a little.

February 1951

How the years are climbing along!!

Congratulations on the new Grandson. Cameron Martin has been added to my list.

April 1951

Thanks for the birthday token and for your note.

We are hoping that nothing will interfere with that Western trip and that we may have the pleasure of a nice visit with you. Just drop us a line as to your plans and we shall be happy to help carry them out.

I just note that you had a birthday anniversary yesterday, Here's wishing you have fifty more happy returns of it.

Expecting to see you before too long, I am F.L.B.

How thankful I am that my friend Lenore and I did make that trip West when we did for we were very pleasantly entertained by Cousin Lillian and Fred Beck. It was Rodeo time in Cheyenne and if you have never been there during one, you don't know what you have missed!!

Not having met the Cousins before, we described our clothing over the telephone for they insisted on coming to the hotel, near where we had parked my car, to meet us. The time spent was very enjoyable and my records were brought up to date. They knew the "right person" so we acquired excellent seats for the performance, before we left to visit my sister in Illinois and other relatives before returning to Ann Arbor.

January 8th, 1952 we were saddened to hear of his death. Cousin Lillian wrote, "Fred's earthly life came to an abrupt end, with a shock to us but we all feel thankful there was no suffering at the end. We know he has entered into a life more abundant. I am sorry he did not get at least some of his family records into book form. I am keeping them, of course, and trying to keep the record cards up to date--new marriages, births, and deaths. I am so glad you and quite a number of other relatives came to visit while Fred was still with us."

In reading the above some may wonder why the "wooden leg". He told me that during one of his first operations, the scalpel he had used, fell scratching his leg and it eventually had to be removed since gangrene set in.

P.S. His patient lived!!

Sidney Noble lived between Otterville and Grafton, Ill. the farm later owned by Charles Noble and later by Edwin Calhoun.

Susan Caroline never married. April 30, 1915 she was living at Chandler, Okla. Route 6. She wrote "Henry Noble, my Grandfather and your Great-Grandfather was the 7th. son in a family of boys who were left orphans. Four of the 7 sons, namely Isaac, Henry, William and Aaron left Maryland and went to Miss., early in the 1800's. The family had come from England prior to the Revolutionary War so we are eligible to belong to the "Daughters of the American Revolution". At that time she was keeping house for her brother Bliss and for two of their nephews. Uncle Reuben had 4 boys and 2 girls. These girls in 1915 were Mrs. John Day, 6325 South Franklin St. New Orleans, La. and Mrs. R.V. Day of 12 St. James Park, Los Angeles, California.

On Nov.2,1943 Frederick L.Beck M.D. of Cheyenne, Wyoming wrote the following to M.B.N.Feiner of 219 Crest Avenue, Ann Arbor, Mich: "By the way, I have learned that at least one Noble family penetrated the state of Wyoming,-that a cemetery lot at the town of Worland was sold to O. Noble in 1913: that a O.W.Noble was at that time running a meat market in Worland: that they sold their business about 1920 or '21 and located in Denver, Colo.: that a daughter Fern is said to have married a man named Wiegand and lived at Midwest, Wyo.The informant thinks this daughter is now in California and is a registered nurse. also that the cemetery lot was likely for the burial of Reuben Iverson Noble, 8th child of Sidney & Sarah Blackwell Noble, probably the father of O.W.Noble mentioned above." Dr. Beck had not traced this matter further nor have I. MBN.Feiner.

CALEB NOBLE 4th.GENERATION

Judge Caleb Noble-a native of Adams Co.,Miss.the 9th of a family of 11 children of Henry and Mary Swayze Noble.Caleb Noble as a boy, attended the schools of his native state, gaining a good, practical education and now we find him to be a reasonably conversant with the topics of the day.When not attending school, he assisted his father in carrying on the farm work, At the age of 23, he married his 1st wife S.Electra Gillham, daughter of Ezekiel Gillham who was formerly from So. Carolina. They had a family of 5 children, all of whom died in infancy.Soon after his marriage, Mr. Noble moved on the farm, where he now lives. Later owned by George Noble in 1940,between Otterville and McClusky, Illinois. Agriculture pursuits and stock growing have claimed the greater part of his attention during life. He came to Illinois poor, but by perserverance and economy, has acquired a handsome land estate. In 1844 his taxable property, real and personal, amounted only to three hundred seventy dollars. He now owns over 800 acres of the good land of Jersey Co., and besides that, has 960 acres in Gage Co. Nebraska. We mention these things simply to show what Mr. Noble has accomplished. He has demonstrated the fact that industry is the sure road to wealth. While a single man in 1838, he became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. On Oct.1,1851, his wife S.Electra Gillham died and he later married Susannah L.Buckles, daughter of John and Nancy Clark Buckles of Jersey Co., that marriage occuring in Sept. 1852. By her he had 1 son, John H.Noble born 1854 and who died July 4 or 11th,1879. Susannah L. died Feb. 1854 and on the 8th of Aug.1858, Judge Noble was married to Miss Ruth Cadwallader, daughter of John & Mary

On 12/24/44, the following information was received from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. regarding the 1944 Census of the United States. The Census Bureau has received the results of the 1944 Census of the United States, which was conducted by the Census Bureau of the United States Department of Commerce. The results of the 1944 Census of the United States show that the population of the United States was 132,329,000 on April 1, 1944. This is an increase of 1,100,000 over the population of the United States in 1940. The increase in population is due to a combination of factors, including a high birth rate, a low death rate, and a large influx of immigrants from foreign countries. The Census Bureau has also reported that the population of the United States is now more than twice the population of the United Kingdom, and more than three times the population of the United States in 1900. The Census Bureau has also reported that the population of the United States is now more than twice the population of the United Kingdom, and more than three times the population of the United States in 1900.

Branson Cadwallader of Jersey Co., Illinois. To this union 10 children were born, one of whom is deceased. Ruth Noble was also a member of the Methodist Church. In early life Mr. Noble was a member of the Whig Party, after its disorganization, he was elected Associate Judge of Jersey Co. to accede to the earnest request of his fellow citizens. He is a gentleman of a generous and hospitable nature and is highly respected.

The first of these is the fact that the

The second of these is the fact that the

Mrs. Calhoun was the daughter of the late Caleb and Ruth Cadwallader Noble, and was born at Otterville, June 6, 1863. At the time of her death she had attained the advanced age of eighty years, five months and three days.

The deceased is survived by three sons, Harry L. Calhoun of Kansas City, Missouri, C. N. and Edwin Calhoun of Grafton; three grandchildren; six great grandchildren; one sister, Miss Ruth Noble of Jerseyville, and one brother, Jay N. Noble of Otterville.

March 1, 1960

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cory N. Calhoun, well-known couple residing on Route One, Grafton, will occur on Tuesday, March 1. No observance of the anniversary is planned because of Mr. Calhoun's health. He suffered a stroke about two years ago and although he is confined to his home he is able to be up some.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun were married at the Methodist parsonage in Elsah on March 1, 1910, by the late Reverend Frederick Aten. They were unattended. The bride of fifty years ago is the former Miss Amy Hildred, daughter of the late William and Sabina Hildred Hildred, natives of England, who were married in the United States. Mr. Calhoun is a son of the late Caleb and Mary Noble Calhoun of the Otterville vicinity.

Following their marriage the couple established their home on the "Doc" Noble farm south of Otterville where they resided for seventeen years when they moved to their present farm home which they purchased. Mr. Calhoun engaged in farming and livestock raising, specializing in Poland China hogs, until his illness two years ago.

Mr. Calhoun is a member of Full Moon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Grafton, and Mrs. Calhoun is a member of the Grafton Eastern Star Chapter.

The celebrants have two children, Charles, who resides at home with his parents, and Mrs. Edward Marshall, who resides on Route Three, Jerseyville. They have one grandson, one granddaughter, and two great grandsons.

Death has invaded the ranks of Mrs. Calhoun's family three times during the past year claiming the lives of her sister, Mrs. Wesley Calhoun, and her brothers, Jerome Hildred and Clarence Hildred. Her only surviving brother is Oscar Hildred of Plattville, Colorado.

Mr. Calhoun's only brother is Edwin Calhoun.

On October 26, 1947 while at the home of Helen Reed Knight, daughter of Mary Grace (Mayme) & Edwin Reed, I learned before Thirza Chappell was married, she asked her father for money to buy her wedding dress and he gave her sixty-five cents!!! There is no doubt in my mind but that more than that was spent for her dress. Her father was considered very wealthy--at his death his estate amounted to $96,000.00 in mortgages alone, after he had given large farms to each of his children.

On January 1, 1947, the first electronic digital computer, the ENIAC, was unveiled at the University of Pennsylvania. It was a massive machine that took up a large room and was used for calculating artillery firing tables. The ENIAC was the first computer to be used for practical purposes, and it marked the beginning of the modern computer era.

Richard Russell Buckles, former Jersey County resident, died Thursday evening, September 21, at six o'clock in Alton following an extended illness.

Mr. Buckles, an employee of the Alton State Hospital in recent years, suffered a stroke of paralysis nineteen months ago while employed at the hospital and since his illness had been cared for in the hospital infirmary. For a number of years he was state automobile license investigator under Secretary of State Stratton.

Mr. Buckles was born at Newbern on April 6, 1873, a son of the late John and Mahala Chappell Buckles, pioneer settlers of Jersey County. His age at the time of death was 71 years, 5 months and 15 days.

For eighteen years Mr. Buckles was employed as conductor on the interurban street car line, working between Alton and St. Louis.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Beatrice Lynch Buckles, and one brother, John E. Buckles of Las Animas, Colorado.

The body was brought to Jerseyville where final rites were held Sunday afternoon, September 24, at 1:30 o'clock. Reverend David Maxton, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducted the rites and interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

L. Y. McAdams Died Monday In Washington

Mrs. H. H. McClusky of this city received word Tuesday morning of the death of her nephew, Louis Y. McAdams, of Seattle, Washington, which occurred Monday, March 22.

Mr. McAdams was a native of Jersey County and was a son of the late L. Y. and Allie Ashford McAdams, sr. He had resided in the West for many years and was employed in the office of a railroad Company.

Mr. McAdams visited here last June with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. McClusky, and his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thatcher.

The decedent is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace McAdams, one son, John McAdams, and one grandson, all of Seattle; one sister, Mrs. Lela McAdams Rhodes, and one brother, A. L. McAdams, both of Spokane, Washington.

Former Newbern Woman Dies As Fire Razes Home

JERSEYVILLE — Mrs. Gertrude Culp, former resident of the Newbern vicinity, was burned to death Aug. 5, when fire destroyed her country home near Burton, Kan.

Mrs. Walter E. Knight of Dow, and her son, Joseph Knight of Chicago, returned Saturday from Burton where they had been called by the tragic death of Mrs. Culp, who was an aunt of Mrs. Knight.

Mrs. Culp was alone when the fire started. She had gone to the house to prepare the noon meal, and it was believed she was lighting a kerosene stove that exploded. Her husband was working in a field some distance away when the place caught fire and the flames were discovered by a neighbor who spread the alarm.

The house was destroyed with all its contents, and the body of Mrs. Culp was burned and charred almost beyond recognition.

Mrs. Culp before her marriage was Miss Gertrude Reed. She was born at Newbern, April 19, 1878, the daughter of the late Joseph O. Reed and Nancy McDow Reed. She went to Burton, in 1882, with her family where they settled on the farm where her death occurred.

She is survived by her husband, Louis; her nephews, Walter I. Reed of Alton; Clarence B. Reed of Oklahoma City, and Harold E. Reed of Wellington, Kan., and a niece, Mrs. Walter Knight of Dow.

At Ida's home on Gillham Mound
Jan.15,1929

Dear Birdie and All:

Your letter was forwarded down here after being in Jerseyville several days, and so I am late in replying.

Fred is much better than we had hoped he could be, in fact after his mouth heals from the operation for the removal of that growth, we believe he'll be like new. Even cancer specialists, three of them, diagnosed it as cancer but under the microscope it showed no cancer! It seemed as if the whole weight of the world were lifted from my mind after the full meaning came to me.

We hope you get to feeling well again and that all the rest keep well. Ida has been quite miserable with a cold but is better, I think. We have been here since Jan.3rd when we came from the hospital. Fred needed nursing and to stay indoors awhile and those things could be better done here. Ida has been wonderful to us. She even went to St. Louis when we did and stayed through the worst of it with me. Out here she let me bring down my rug frame and rags and I finished a drawn-in rug with braided border. We will be going home within a few days if the weather moderates.

We have had real winter, zero and below, with snow since New Year's. Until then it had been like spring.

Fred, Ida and I all thank you for your letter and good wishes.

May the New Year be good to all of you.

Sincerely,

Mildred Chappell

John Frederick Chappell 88, of Jerseyville died at his home Tuesday Feb.3, 1948. He was a native of Macoupin Co. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. Mr.Chappell is survived by his wife Mildred; a sister, Mrs. Octa Darr, of Alton and a brother, Ephriam of East Newbern, Ill.

William Robert and Emily Marie Lamb Ashford were the parents of Blanche Embly and Birdie Ashford (Lewis) & they owned Frogmoor Plantation at Kingston, Mississippi. Mr. & Mrs. Lewis moved to California Feb. 1911.

Great Aunt Mahala Buckles was an invalid for years and Coz. Fred & Blanche Chappell often brot her to my Dad's home when I was a child. Fred would carry her from his carriage to the folding rocker, now owned by my youngest sister-Thelma Nona Burkhart of Saline, Mich.

November 16, 1918

My dear Mr. Chappell:

It is with deep sorrow that I write of the death of your son, which occurred at this hospital the eighth of the present month. All during his last illness La Verne was cheerful and optimistic of the final outcome, and fought a hard and a brave fight for victory. But even the hardest battles are often losing ones, and so it was in La Verne's case. During the last ten days there were times when it seemed the end was very near, and then again he would rally and our hopes would rise in anticipation of his ultimate recovery, only to be dashed to pieces again at his next relapse.

La Verne was held in high esteem by all his friends, of which there were a great number. His brilliant work on the hospital baseball team won for him a large place in the affections of every man in this Detachment, and his loss will be keenly felt, not only by the team and its supporters, but by everyone who knew him intimately.

JOHN OSCAR KILLED IN ACTION OCTOBER 4

Son of Theodore Oscar of East of Town

Theodore Oscar who lives on the Cummings farm in Fidelity Township, received a message from the war department Wednesday morning announcing that his son, John Oscar was killed in France, Oct. 4th. This is the third Jersey County boy to give his life for the great cause.

John Oscar was 23 years of age and before entering the service was employed by a lumber firm in North Dakota. He visited Jersey County last May just before he went into training with a North Dakota contingent, and was at Ft. Lewis, Wash. before he went overseas last July. He was with an infantry unit. He leaves a brother, Chas. Oscar, with the U. S. regulars, who went to France about a month ago, and one sister, besides his father.

I express the sentiments of the entire Detachment when I extend to you my sincere sympathy in your bereavement. It is a great consolation to remember, however, that "Larry," as he was fondly known among his associates, played the part of a man both in life and in death, and his memory will linger long after his earthly remains have passed away.

We are passing through a great crisis. Let everybody obey the laws of health, the laws of man and the laws of God. Take the best care of yourself and family, follow the instructions of your physician and spend much time reading your Bible and in prayer. We are not allowed to go to see the sick unless in extreme cases but we are praying for you.

Letterman General Hospital,
Presidio of San Francisco.
November 10th 1918.

Mr. Fred Chappell,

Dear Mr. Chappell:

Just a few lines to express our sincere sympathy for the loss of your son and to testify our high regard for his manly qualities. Your son, "Larry", as he was affectionally called, was a great favorite here. Of course, he was one of the idols of the baseball team which took so many honors. He was quiet and unassuming, doing readily the work assigned to him. Ordinarily he did not do Ward work, but helped outside. However, when the epidemic grew virulent, every available man had to be called in to serve the sick. And so he took up work in the Receiving Ward. He was passing the trays to the patients the first day and he remarked to the Nurse, "I am rather awkward at this, I've never done it before." But he did it gladly and the Nurse was well pleased with him. But alas! he was to be one of the victims. He took sick, and at first we anticipated no trouble. So many had had slight attacks. But instead of getting better he grew worse from day to day. Only his wonderful constitution kept him up as long as it did. The devotion of the men—of course the doctors and nurses labored unceasingly with him—was wonderful. The last two or three nights they voluntarily took turns watching at his bedside. As Chaplain I did all I could for Larry and I feel that all is well. Your consolation in this sad trial is that he sacrificed himself in the service of his country and in the very work of relieving his sick comrades.

"Greater love than this no man hath." May the good God, who has seen fit to take your son, comfort you in your loss and sustain you in your sorrow. All here of this hospital, Staff, Officers, Nurses and men offer their tribute to his memory and their sincere sympathy to his relatives. With sentiments of deep respect, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Francis J. Romer,
Chaplain U. S. A.

Pvt. Walter Leverage of Chicago, who accompanied the remains to Jerseyville, was a member of the same ball team with Pvt. Chappell, the Salt Lake City team of the Coast League, in which both were playing at the time of their enlistment.—Mr. Chappell as outfielder and Mr. Leverage as pitcher. They had been associated in a professional way before when both were with the Chicago White Sox. Mr. Leverage went to Chicago to visit his parents, but expected to come back to Jerseyville Wednesday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chappell before he goes back to San Francisco, Calif.

LaVerne Ashford Chappell, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chappell of this city, was born at McClusky, Ill., Feb. 19th, 1890, and died Nov. 8, 1918. In April 1918, he enlisted in the medical unit of the Letterman General Hospital, Presidio of San Francisco, Cali., where he served his country and made the supreme sacrifice.

The following is taken from a San Francisco paper of Nov. 9th:

"Larry Chappell, $18,000 beauty, once purchased by Charley Comiskey of the White Sox and later a star outfielder with the Salt Lake team of the Pacific Coast League team died last night at the Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio from pneumonia, the result of an attack of influenza.

Chappell left the Salt Lake team before the season closed and without waiting for a call from the draft board enlisted in the Medical Corps and was stationed at the Presidio.

He first attracted attention in organized baseball when Charley Comiskey announced his purchase at the fabulous sum of $18,000 from a club in the Western League. But although he made a great star in the minors Chappell could not get going in the majors and was later supplanted by Ping Bodie in the White Sox outer gardens.

Chappell was one of the best liked men in baseball. He always sported a genial smile and his winning personality endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. His passing will be mourned by thousands."

John F. Chappell, Jerseyville, Dies Feb. 3, 1948

JERSEYVILLE, Feb. 4.—John F. Chappell, 88, of Jerseyville died at his home Thursday afternoon. He was a native of Macoupin County. Funeral rites will be conducted at 10:30 a. m., Thursday at the Jacoby funeral home by the Rev. David Maxton, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. The body is at the Jacoby funeral home.

Chappell is survived by his wife, Mildred; a sister, Mrs. Octa Darr, of Alton, and a brother, Ephriam, of East Newbern.

Dog Stands Vigil Over Body Of His Mistress

Aug. 21, 1953
JERSEYVILLE, Ill. —(P)—A grieving dog stood guard over his mistress' body. A radio played in the background.

That's the way neighbors, worried because she hadn't answered her telephone in four days, found the body of Mrs. Mildred J. Chappell, a 55-year-old widow, in her farm home near here.

An autopsy showed Mrs. Chappell had died of a heart ailment.

Indications were that the dog, a spaniel who growled before allowing Mrs. Chappell's friends to enter the house, had not eaten since he began the vigil, possibly four days before.

An autopsy showed that death was due to a heart ailment.

Mrs. Chappell was born Dec. 19, 1897, a daughter of the late Fred and Mary Elizabeth Robb Jacobs Sr., of Jersey County.

A brother, Fred D. Jacobs of Jerseyville, is her only immediate survivor.

Private funeral rites were conducted at 1 p. m. today in Jacoby Bros., funeral home by the Rev. F. W. Schwarzlose, after which the body was taken to Valhalla crematory, St. Louis, Mo.

WILLIAM H. NOBLE

As Wm.H.Noble's children grew they were given the advantages of a liberal education. Both Mr. and Mrs. Noble were members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in Otterville, in which he was elected to the responsible position of a ruling elder, about the year 1856.

When Mr. Noble started in life, he possessed but small means but, being here when the country was new, he availed himself of the advantages to be gained by taking hold of and improving real estate; and as a result of his foresight and judgement, has secured for himself and his family an ample competency. He now owns a farm of nearly 600 acres of valuable land in Jersey County. In the business of farming he has been reasonably successful. In his dealings with all, his course has been governed by the strictest integrity and honor, and his character is said to remain, in the estimation of his fellow citizens, as yet untarnished by a dishonorable act, beautifully illustrating the truth of the poet, when he wrote that terse sentence-"An honest man is the noblest work of God."

In early life he was associated with the Whig party, his first vote for President being cast for the immortal statesman Henry Clay. On the formation of the Republican party, he quickly became one of its supporters. He could remember when the country was almost in it's natural state, when deer and other wild animals were abundant. For many years he was trustee of the Otterville school which was founded and endowed by the generous patron of education, the late Dr. Silas Hamilton. Mr. Noble, by his course of conduct, has won the respect of a large circle of friends who have known him for the past 40 yrs. as a resident of Jersey County. Mrs. Ethel Hamilton Noble, 63, who was associated for a number of years with the Grosh real estate firm, in the accounting department, died Tuesday at 11:45 p. m. in St. Anthony's Infirmary following an extended illness. She had been a patient in the infirmary for seven weeks, preceding which she had been a patient in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, and Alton Memorial Hospital at various times.

Mrs. Noble was born Sept. 7, 1886, in Jerseyville, a daughter of the late Judge Oscar Hamilton and Mrs. Eliza Hamilton. She was the youngest of 11 children. Four brothers and a sister survive her.

Her early life was spent in Jerseyville where she received her elementary education. She was graduated from Jersey Township High School at the age of 16, as valedictorian of her class. Each of her three children was graduated from Alton High School with high honors, one as valedictorian of her class, thus keeping up the tradition set by their mother.

Before her marriage she had worked in the Jerseyville postoffice, and had the highest grade of all those taking the civil service examination at that time.

Mrs. Noble had been with Grosh firm until ill health caused her retirement in the fall of 1947.

She was a member of First Methodist Church, Wesleyan Guild, and Philathea Sunday School Class. She had served as substitute teacher of the class for a number of years. She also had been an active member of the Travel Club.

Her marriage to L. S. Noble took place Feb. 22, 1911, and of that union three children were born. They are Mrs. Virginia Robinson, Arkadelphia, Ark., who arrived in Alton a week ago last Monday to attend her mother; two sons, Dr. Robert Hamilton Noble, East Lansing, Mich., and John Sisson Noble, Moorhead, Minn., who are enroute to Alton. She also leaves four brothers, Dr. Fred Hamilton, Robinson; Dr. Ray Hamilton, Jacksonville; Paul Hamilton, an attorney of Elgin, and John Hamilton, Grand Junction, Colo.; a sister, Miss Margaret Hamilton, Jerseyville, and six grandchildren, Carol, Harold, and Barbara Robinson, Nancy, Richard, and Harald Noble.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. in Morrow-Quinn mortuary by the Rev. Paul B. Brown, pastor of First Methodist Church, after which the body will be taken to Valhalla crematory, St. Louis. Friends may call at the mortuary after 6 p. m. today.

History written by Aaron Dodson

My father, Fletcher A. Dodson was born in the State of Kentucky on the 17th day of February 1802. He was a son of Major Dodson, of English descent, who was born Jan. 14, 1774--died Mar. 21 or 27, 1854 and was reared in the state of Old Virginia, but came to Ky. and there m Amy Anderson, who was also born in Virginia in 1779. She was of Scotch descent and died Jan. 30, 1865. Her father, Benjamin Anderson was a Baptist preacher and died Dec. 4, 1825.

Grandfather Dodson reared 8 sons and 5 daughters, all all grown up and married. Of Grandfather's sons, 3 of them were Baptist Ministers, 2 others were Dr.'s and 2 school teachers. Grandfather was also a Baptist Minister and teacher.

I saw my Great Grandfather Anderson when i was a small boy. He died at Grandfather Dodson's home at the age of 105 years. The Great Grandmother, I do not remember. Grandfather Dodson moved with his family from the State of Ky. to the State of Indiana and there resided for a time.

Now for my Mother's side of the house, of which I know very little, and only from tradition. My Mother was the daughter of Edwin and Melinda Toney who were Virginians. Mother's father moved from Old Virginia when she was about grown to the state of Ohio and lived there until she married my father, Fletcher A. Dodson on Oct. 1st, 1821.

That same year Grandfather Dodson, with his family, and my father & mother moved west to the state of Missouri and located out in St. Louis County about 12 miles of the city of St. Louis, which was very small at that time.

Grandfather Dodson stayed in Missouri two years and then went over into Illinois in 1823 and entered up a lot of land for himself and the other children that were married. My father stayed in Missouri a year longer or until 1824, then moved over into Illinois to join my Grandfather & family.

My father & mother reared 6 children, 2 sons and 4 daughters, names as follows: Aaron, Moses b. Aug. 25th 1825, Amy, Sarah, Ann, Mariah, and Melinda. The oldest daughter was burned to death when about three years old, the other 3 girls lived to be grown & married. All the girls are dead now. My mother died in Missouri Oct. 25,

By the year 1790, the population of the United States had increased to about 3,900,000. The growth of the country was rapid, and the people were becoming more and more settled in their habits. The government was also becoming more and more established. The people were beginning to feel that they were a part of a great nation, and they were beginning to take an interest in the affairs of the country.

The people were also becoming more and more educated. The number of schools was increasing, and the people were beginning to read and write. They were also beginning to take an interest in the arts and sciences. The people were becoming more and more civilized, and they were beginning to feel that they were a part of a great nation.

Your Grandmother (Theo's) Margaret Mahala Biggers was born in Ky. Monroe Co. near Hopkinsville. Her father Wm. Biggers, was drowned in the Cumberland River, Ky after which her mother Mary Biggers and her 3 children moved to Illinois. Margaret being the youngest, was only 3 years old. They settled in what is now Jersey Co. about 4 miles west of Jerseyville.

Your Great Grandfather (Theo s) was a daughter of John Bland, a relative of Congressman Bland that lived in Missouri and served in the U.S.Congress for many years.

Colonel Theodric Bland, a grandson of Jane Rolfe of Virginia, a branch of the Virginia Blands, moved early in the 19th Century from Virginia to Nelson Co. Ky.

One of the families settled in Washington Co. where Stanghen Edward Bland, was born. He was the father of Richard Parks Bland, who was a great grandson of Colonel Bland.

Josie Lee Linder was born at Berea, Ashley Co. Ark.

b Feb.27, 1866 Berea, Ark. & who died Oct.1,1913 at Fountain Hill, Ark. Josie was the mother of 3 girls, Anita Lee & Susie Ione born at Hamburg, Ark and Frances Irene at Berea, Arkansas.

George Clifton White was born at Lepanto, Miss. Co., Ark. son of Charles Curtis White b 1872 in the Ozark region of Ark. and died in 1938 at Lexa, Phillips Co., Ark. & Martha Katherine Winters White b 1873, at Helena and died 1927 at Marianna, Ark.

Joseph Matthew McCormick, son of the late Mr. & Mrs. William Hogg McCormick of Leeds, Yorkshire, England attended schools in England and later was an importer-exporter and sugar and coffee planter in San Jose, Costa Rica. He and his family lived in the United States before returning to Honduras to live in 1960.

Jerre White wrote from Japan Dec.12, 1952 that he was on his way home, wired from San Francisco on the 31st and was home before his family realized he had reached Memphis. This was January 3rd, 1953.

He graduated from Helena, Ark. High School, attended Arkansas College and Texas Christian University and served $5\frac{1}{2}$ years in the Air Force, with one years duty in Korea. On June 13, 1960, he graduated from the University of Tennessee, College of Medicine, as a Doctor of Medicine.

The following excerpts are from letters sent me by Jerre, one of my grand-nephews.

Dec.1951--First may I say--my visit in your home was most enjoyable. Be sure to give my most fond regards to all your family.

Tell John and his wife to plan a Colorado hunt next year. I'll guarantee any type deer they might like, from the most coy doe to the shrewdest buck is easily killed out here. I went out four times this year and killed 3 bucks and 4 doe. The largest buck had a total of 13 points. My officer in charge wanted the head for his den so I had to carry the damn thing out. I told him the horns made a terrible roast but he still deems himself a sportsman. I'll bet he's telling yarns about that head ten years from now.

Thanks a great deal for the invitation. I'M sure that I'm coming to A2. If I do, I'll wire in advance.

Feb.1952 The two words in the upper right corner of this letter(Taegu, Korea) express one of the most vivid reasons I was unable to accept your invitation for the past Christmas Season.

My orders came through at the last minute before I signed out for my Christmas leave. Fortunately, I was allowed an eight day delay enroute. While home I spent most of my time with my parents because I knew this tour would hurt them more than it would me.

I'm assigned to the 49th Fighter Bomber Wing that is equipped with F-84 thunderjets. At the present time, we're delivering air raids and not receiving any. Today we had a guerilla ground raid but none of our planes were hurt. We feel very safe here although there are 50 thousand Reds between here and Pusan. I'm working in the AMMO area. I've got a napalm section under me & I'll help with the demolition of the 250 odd bombs around this area.

Your very nice letter (Apr. 1952) added a touch of "Fading Truman's Island" to this desolate, dusty, filthy Land of Chosen.

The pictures were exceptionally fine. The baby (Cam) seems to have grown a great deal since last fall. What position in football does Mac plan to have the child play? As the gooks say, "Mou scoce, taxan Boasan" (ie soon the baby will be a big boy).

Since I arrived here I've been shuttled between 3 different jobs. At first, I was assigned duty in a bomb dump. The Inspector General of Fifth Air Force found me and had me placed on orders to transfer to his office. When the Wing Armament officer learned of the impending transfer, he immediately threw a cog into the mesh of red-tape and had me transferred to his office. Now, I'm a wing mullet with Colonels, majors, & captains glowing at me all day. The majority of them are fine fellows but the minority --- Now I must do some research on an aircraft explosion. My fondest to all- Jerre

A Live Rocket Warhead Lay Buried in

Sept. 1952

Earth--'O.K., Jerre, Fix It!'

By ROY B. HAMILTON
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

A thin post-dawn haze still hung over the blue hills in the east, and the sky was bright and cloudless. It was going to be a good day for strikes.

S-Sgt. Jerre R. White of Memphis, a chemical warfare expert, with the 49th Fighter-Bomber Wing, leaned against his jeep listening to the first turbines catch and roar like so many blast furnaces.

In a few minutes 255 planes would be swarming from the field toward targets deep in North Korea.

Sgt. White

A flash of flame from one of the wingtips and cloud of dust on the runway suddenly snapped White and a lot of others to a pitch of alertness that can be caused by only one thing—danger.

A rocket had been inadvertently fired. The warhead buried itself in the earth only a few yards in front of the plane—right in the middle of a heavily congested area.

Luckily, it didn't explode.

Everybody breathed easier—and cleared out of the way.

Everybody, that is, except White, who was speeding toward the scene in his jeep.

The Sergeant is in charge of the 49th Explosive Ordnance Disposal Team. Translated, that means White's the boy. It was his job to render the unexploded rocket harmless.

And with 255 planes wanting to use that runway, he couldn't waste much time.

But you don't exactly rush into things like detonating a rocket that could go off at a smothered sneeze. His commanding officer told him to take all the time he wanted—even if it took a week.

The planes in the area were towed out of range. They couldn't be taxied; the noise might set off the rocket. The others already killed their motors. Taking off around the explosive was out of the question. There was nothing to do but wait.

The 24-year-old sergeant worked alone. He once said at a demolition school in the States that he always liked to work by himself—he didn't trust his life in anybody else's hands.

Three hours later he got to the fuse, which was just a few inches in the ground. Then carefully—very carefully—he placed sandbags around the rocket.

The whole field was watching.

White exploded the rocket from behind a nearby concrete abutment by means of an electric current.

The sandbags took most of the blast.

The big turbines caught and roared again. There was still plenty of time to make the strikes.

For disregarding his own safety in disposing of the rocket, White, a veteran of four years in the Air Force, was presented the Soldier's Medal. And last month he was selected "Airman of the Month" of the Fifth Air Force.

White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. White, 4899 Fairfield. The family moved to Memphis a year ago from Helena, Ark. The Sergeant graduated from Helena High School and attended Arkansas College a year before entering the service.

The rocket incident took place a few weeks ago at a field in South Korea. White has been in Korea since January.

"Jerre went to Air Force schools a long time to learn detonation," said his mother. "We know he's an expert at it—but sometimes we can't help worrying."

Ross Noble Holds Job on One Farm Seventeen Years

BY RUTH RASER. 1937

Prophetstown, Jan. 20.—On next March 1, it will be seventeen years since Ross Noble went to work on the Lyman Kemmis farm south and west of Hooppole in Henry county, and he has been employed by Mr. Kemmis continuously ever since. His is, in all probability, a record for continuous employment on any farm in northern Henry county.

He hired out to Mr. Kemmis a short time before Kemmis was married and he has seen the Kemmis children grow through childhood. He hopes to see them grow to maturity, for his plans for the future do not include any change of employment.

Why should he? He's making money, and he is one American who saves his money. Mr. Noble doesn't believe in excessive spending by either persons or government, and he thinks that one of the causes of present day problems is the fact that people, when their salaries were reduced, continued to spend as much as they did in more prosperous times.

He is a temperate man and would like to see the Eighteenth amendment restored, for he thinks that the use of intoxicating drinks is the downfall of many persons.

He has worked for Mr. Kemmis at various wages. During war time he received as high as $80 a month and, although he knew other hired men who were paid $100 a month at that time, he didn't ask for more for he thinks no man can be worth that much to a farmer. He wants to earn what he is paid, and he is inclined to think that he does that very thing.

His childhood was spent in Jerseyville, Ill., and when his family later moved to a northern state he came to this locality several years to pick corn. Finally, he began working by the year for farmers in this territory.

Likes Present Job.

Three years he worked for different farmers, including Lyman Kemmis' uncle, the late Lyman Benton of Atkinson. He went from that place to the Kemmis farm, hiring out with the intention of staying just as long as he and his employer could agree. He's still there.

Mr. Noble hasn't always agreed so well with his employers, for he worked only one day at one place.

Because of his ability and good judgment he is sent to the west to buy cattle for the Kemmis farm, and he often goes to Chicago to sell them. During recent years he has used some of his own money to speculate in the livestock feeding business. Sometimes he speculates alone and sometimes with Mr. Kemmis. He usually makes money on the cattle, he reports.

Many Hogs.

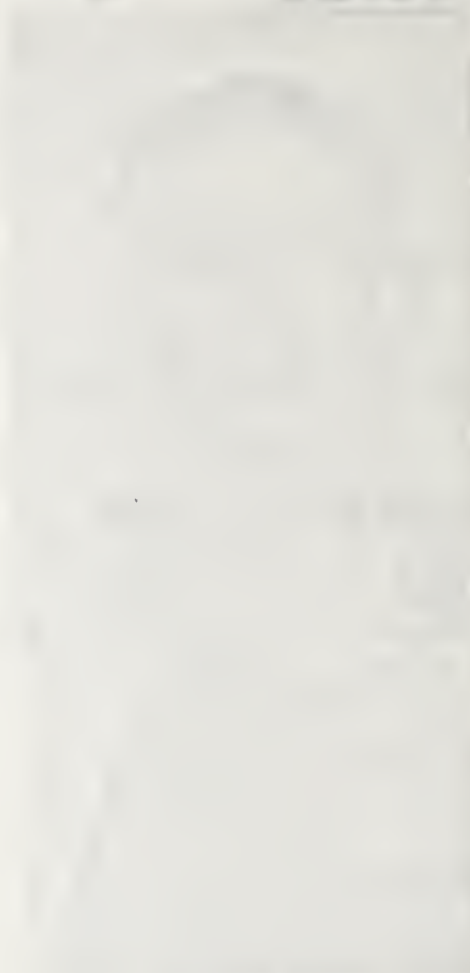

Two shipments of steers were made during the month of October and two more during the month of November, all of which brought top or near-top prices. There were 400 head of hogs on the place during the fall. Seventy-five head of yearlings are being fed. The Kemmis farm contained 367 acres until two paved roads were put through a portion of the farm, reducing the area by about fourteen acres.

Mr. Noble, or Ross as he is known in the neighborhood, works by the year. He has a mother, five sisters and two brothers living in Ann Arbor, Mich. He goes to see them about once a year, usually staying about a week. On such occasions the "boss" tells him to come back when he gets ready.

They get along; he's satisfied; sometimes they make money and sometimes they lose money, but all in all he's ahead of the game, largely because of his steadiness and thrift.

And tears were shed by the "Boss" when he quit 3 years later.

Finis Noble, who has been visiting Jerseyville and Otterville relatives the past few weeks, was called back to Fargo, N. D., the past week to be examined for the draft. Feb. 1918

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Noble received a card this week from their son, Finis, stating that he had arrived at Winchester, England, on May 24th. Finis left here on March 30th for Camp
Dodge, Iowa, along with 41 other
Traill county young men. 6/14/18

M. B. Noble this week received a blank shell used by the French in their 75 centimeter guns from his son, Finis, who is still in France. The shell is 14 inches long and 3 inches in diameter. Mr. Noble prizes the trophy highly and it will become a heirloom in his home. He also received a copy of "The Jayhawker in France," the official organ of the 137th Infantry, published in English at Sampigny, France, which contains much interesting reading matter.

LEVRETTE NOBLE WRITES.

In France, Oct. 5, 1918

Dear Mother: When I wrote last I surely thought I would get to write again before this, but I could not do so, as we have been moving and moving most of the time.

We had rain where we were every day, from the time we landed until we came here, and here is hoping it don't begin here. We have been here since Tuesday noon, billeted in an old garage, a dance hall and another old building that I don't know what it has been used for. There is quite a little town here, but a good many of the population seemed to have vanished. There are quite a few fig trees and all seem to be loaded with fruit. Have seen a few lemon trees that are bearing. I think we are somewhere near 250 miles further south than where Finis was (Nancy).

It is getting so dark I can hardly see to write, so will have to quit. I have had a bad cold, but am all right now. Will try and write again soon.

October 8th, 1918.

We are on the train, ready for another move to "somewhere." We hiked down here this morning, about 10 kilometers I guess. Long hikes over hard roads, with heavy packs seems to be the main hobby over here. We've been having nice weather the last few days, but today it's been raining a little.

The most of the boys are due for another side door Pullman ride, but a few of us, were loaded into passenger coaches. Here's hoping they give me a car like this to ride in every time they move us. Grapes is about all that is raised here. The natives have been very busy since we have been here, harvesting the crop, and it seems they make the grapes all into wine. The work is most all being done by the women.

I haven't seen any mail as yet, nor has any of the other boys, suppose we will receive some soon.

Roses are blooming here, and some of them are beauties. This morning I picked some blackberries while we were resting on the way to the railroad.

The trains don't look just like they do over in the States. In the box-cars there is room for eight horses by crowding them, the same is done when they load them with men. There are some chestnuts raised here, and the trees are full. The buildings are all made of stone with tile roofs.

Later. We were on the train for about seventy hours. Had a long, hard hike yesterday, over a hard road. Got to this place after dark. I don't know the name but it is near where Finis was (Nancy).

Some of the boys are billeted in barns, some outside, but I slept in a Y. M. C. A. hut. Believe me, they do look good to us over here. Don't know how far we are from the front, but can hear something roar, when the wind is right. Hope it will soon cease.

Must close for this time. Love to all.

LEVRETTE NOBLE,
Col B, 342 Inf., A. E. F., France.

LETTER FROM FINIS NOBLE

Dear Mother and all: I am too neglectful is the only excuse I can really give for not answering the many letters I received when getting back to my company, for I found 17 letters waiting for me. I was glad to hear you have such good crops, only wish I could be there to help. We are having nice weather now. We had such a lot of rain week before last where we were then.

I saw and was with Asa Sherritt last week. He told me he had been in a hospital with yellow jaundice. He said he had been helping cook for his infantry.

My company has been in line three times, the last time in the main drive. Think the Germans have decided by this time that the Americans will fight. My chum got a pill thru his leg. I am among the lucky. The Germans are losing ground all the time. The ground we drove them from is almost worthless, all full of shell holes. Some of the dugouts are nice places, large enough to bunk 200 men, with electric lights and provisions that would last for some time. They have the "awfulest" tasting bread. A person has a queer feeling the first time he shoots at the other fellow. But a fellow gets so he knows, he has to eat the other fellow to it, Pd. me to be home to. I am Levrette, I watch every bunch I see, wondering if it is his regiment. I am sending you a few grains of wheat and rye, the nicest I have seen.

Am now thru eating supper, so will write to let you know that Fritz hasn't got me yet. I have been having rheumatism in my back and knees for the last few days, and am here getting a little treatment. If I had been home where I could have had a change of dry clothing there wouldn't have been anything to it. There is a lot of us who have decided there is no place like home in lots of ways. A bunch of us have been playing football this afternoon, having such a good time. I am a little too stiff to do much running but I can take a kick at it once in a while. It is only 100 feet to the Y. M. C. A., so we can get a little extra in the eats line. When we are around, they generally have quite a trade. We can get canned fruit, lemonade, tobacco, cigaretts, etc. The Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and hospitals are all so good to us. You never hear the boys complain, no matter how badly they are hurt.

October 11th, 1918

Hoping this finds you all well, with love. FINIS NOBLE,

Describes Interesting Trip to Monto

Apr. 1919

"Looks as though we are here to stay for some time, as we have heard lately that we are to go up into Germany soon. The boys who are up there have feather beds to sleep in and everything lovely, and say they are sitting on the world.' I would like to be back in the States, but if they think I am to be in Germany, then I am to be in Germany. We won't be kept over here always, that's some consolation."

Dear Mother:

We think we will see land tomorrow. We are tired of the ship. We started sailing the thirteenth. Will see you soon.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

Now folks, I have a secret
If you promise not to tell
Like the pretty little daisies
That are hidden in the dell.

I know you're all excited
And you have cause to be,
There'll soon be an addition
Put on our family tree.

And now I have you guessing
Bet you haven't got it yet
It's about a man named Rogers
And my own dear Aunt Jeannette.

I awfully hate to loose her
But when I do, you see She'll bring another "Uncle"
And that sure pleases me.

Some day in the near future
She'll let you know the date
You must all come and be there

JUSTICE IN ALL THINGS --1942

by Lenore B. Shurtliff

Justice in all things is what she asks
Everything completed in her tasks
Anyone who knows can swear to this
No one ever found a part amiss
Each thing in its' order must be done
This charge entire if praise would be won-
Today's duties all start on their way
Even parts planned for a future day.

Never is a service left undone
Order in each trust as it's begun
But they say 'tis human yet to err
Let this super-human dare demur
We all marvel, still we must not fret-
(All the lines above will spell Jeanette)

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation

$$f(x) = \frac{1}{2} (f(x-1) + f(x+1))$$

where $f(x)$ is a function defined on the interval $[0, 1]$ and satisfying the conditions $f(0) = 0$ and $f(1) = 1$.

It is shown that the function $f(x)$ is uniquely determined by these conditions and that it is a linear function.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation where $f(x)$ is a function defined on the interval $[0, 1]$ and satisfying the conditions $f(0) = 0$ and $f(1) = 1$.

$$f(x) = \frac{1}{3} (f(x-1) + f(x) + f(x+1))$$

It is shown that the function $f(x)$ is uniquely determined by these conditions and that it is a linear function.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation where $f(x)$ is a function defined on the interval $[0, 1]$ and satisfying the conditions $f(0) = 0$ and $f(1) = 1$.

$$f(x) = \frac{1}{4} (f(x-1) + f(x) + f(x+1) + f(x+2))$$

It is shown that the function $f(x)$ is uniquely determined by these conditions and that it is a linear function.

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation where $f(x)$ is a function defined on the interval $[0, 1]$ and satisfying the conditions $f(0) = 0$ and $f(1) = 1$.

$$f(x) = \frac{1}{5} (f(x-1) + f(x) + f(x+1) + f(x+2) + f(x+3))$$

It is shown that the function $f(x)$ is uniquely determined by these conditions and that it is a linear function.

SOUVENIR - 1898

FAMILY REUNION

Held in Honor of John B. Chappell
Age 91, Saturday, March 5, 1898.

A farewell reunion of the half brothers and half sisters of Mr. John B. Chappell, late of Poplar Grove, Ill., was held at the residence of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Minerva Chappell Saturday. Mr. Chappell is 91 years of age and is on his way to Riverside, Cal., to pass his remaining days with his youngest daughter, Mrs. Jack Dougal.

All of the surviving members of the family were present except Mrs. Mahala Buckles of Newbern, age 68, who lives upon the Chappell homestead and who has been an invalid for several years. The guests were: John B. Chappell aged 91; Mrs. Lucinda Lofton of Ladonnia, Mo., aged 76; Solomon Chappell of Bunker Hill, aged 75; Israel Chappell of Carlinville, aged 73, and Mrs. Thirza Noble of this city, aged 69.

The hostess was assisted by her daughters, Mesdames Will and Prentiss Noble, and their niece, Mrs. Theodore Dodson, in making the day a joyful one for the venerable guests. A sumptuous dinner was served at the old-fashioned noon hour, and a pleasing post-grandial program was furnished by Mrs. Dodson. The guest of honor was led to the dining room by his grand-niece, Miss Fay Noble, a fair haired girl of eight years. At each plate was laid a bunch of fresh violets and a pretty souvenir in the form of a booklet, in which was written a character sketch of the person named. When the company was seated, a quartet of little girls, grand-nieces of the guests, Misses Theo Dodson, Pearl, Merle and Fay Noble, sang sweetly the doxology, and grace was signed by Mr. Solomon Chappell, who is a deaf mute. At the close of the feast the character sketches were read aloud by Mrs. Dodson, by whom they were written, and the youthful quartet sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Introductory to the personal sketches, Mrs. Dodson referred to the family history as follows: "Bartholomew Chappell was born Feb. 7, 1783; Grace Green, his second wife, in Dec. 1790. Seven children were born to them, five of whom are living. There are 42 grandchildren and 78 great-grandchildren. Of Grandfather's first family I know but little, but from the family Bible record I find there were six children. Of these John is the only one living. Of the second family, Ephriam and Richard are absent in body, but perhaps present in spirit.

"As a memorial of this reunion, I have prepared a little souvenir for each one that in years to come it may bring to you a pleasant memories of today. You have been separated so many years, and some have lived so far away, you can scarce believe you were all rocked in the same crib, fed, clothed, petted, and paddled by the same loved parents. John has always lived farther from home than any of the others, and as the old saying goes, the bird must try its wings to leave the home nest, so Uncle John now thinks to take the advice of Horace Greeley to 'go west and grow up with the country.' We all hope for him a happy future, I know."

On Monday the brothers and sisters met at the old homestead which is now the home of the youngest sister, Mrs. Mahala Buckles. This being the first time in their lives all were present at the same time, in all probability it is the last, but the thought of it in anyone's mind did not seem to cast any shadow of gloom on anyone's pleasure. There were a number of nieces and nephews, old friends and neighbors who called during the afternoon, to greet the brothers and sisters on this happy event; of all the guests present these gray-haired Sires and Madams were the gayest of the crowd. The parting was not a scene of sadness as some may think, as many expressions were heard that assured us that they expected soon there would be another re-union when there would be no last parting for them, instead of the first time possible for all to meet at once, and the joy in each heart at this time will be carried into eternity, where will be the place of their next re-union.

We would add by request of Mr. John B. Chappell, in whose honor this meeting was arranged for--that he wishes from the fullness of his great big, loving heart, (and it must be strong to have throbbed these nearly 92 years) to express here his appreciation, and thanks to all who have given him such happiness, and prays that the sunshine of God's love may brighten their declining days as they have his, by arranging and carrying out the plans so pleasantly for this family re-union.

CHARACTER SKETCHES ---JOHN B. CHAPPELL

I find that you bear the name of the disciple which we are told Jesus loved. In the record of births found in your father's family Bible, Sept. 23, 1806 is given as the date of the event of your entering this world, and your name was called John. The precept chosen for Sept. 23 is found in John, 6:53 "Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you." The promise made you is from the same chapter, 35th verse, "And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me, shall never hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst." By your precept and acceptance of his promise, your prayer will be, "Lord, evermore give us this bread." John 6:34. In John 1:15, the word says "John bare witness of him." The promise made by Christ to His loved disciple is given to you also; it is this "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father, which is in heaven." Matt. 10:32. Many years ago you made that confession and accepted Christ as your Savior, and by your acceptance of the Lord Jesus Christ, when you are called hence, you will find abundant entrance into the Heaven prepared for you, which is described by John in Rev. 21st and 22nd chapter, when you will not carry the infirmities of old age. A place, we are told, no sorrow ever enters, no sickness, no pain, no partings, where all misunderstandings will be made plain, where we shall receive a just reward for deeds done on earth. What a rich reward some will receive. That God may bless you and love you, as He loved that other John, and as you go down into the valley of the shadow, look out with the eye of faith, and take hold of the hand of Him who will safely lead you across the deep waters and who no doubt will beckon Mary, your own Mary, who has gone before, to welcome you and lead you before the throne of God; where you will together sing the praises to the Lamb whose blood redeemed you. That God may bestow on you His richest blessing is the sincere wish of your niece, Emma Noble Dodson.

Look Aloft.

In the tempest of life, when the wave and the gale,
Are around and about, if thy footing should fail,
If thy eye should grow dim, and thy caution depart,
"Look Aloft" and be firm, and be fearless of heart.

If the friends who embrace thee, in prosperity's glow,
With a smile for each joy and a tear for each woe,
Should betray thee when sorrow, like clouds, are arrayed,
"Look Aloft" to the friendship that never shall fade.

Should they who are nearest and dearest thy heart,
Thy friends and companions in sorrow depart,
"Look Aloft" from the darkness and dust of the tomb,
To that soil where "affection is ever in bloom."

And Oh! when Death comes in his terror to cast,
His fears on the future, his pall on the past,
In that moment of darkness, with hope in thy heart,
And a smile in thine eye, "Look Aloft" and depart.

LUCINDA CHAPPELL LOFTON

Lucinda Chappell first opened her eyes to the peep of day in sunny England. She was the first born to Bartholomew and Grace. Born and partly reared among the English people who have such difficulty in the pronunciation of the letter H, she is still true to the instruction of her childhood in the pronunciation of this letter, "quite Hinglish you know."

The record of your father's Bible gives your birth as Jan. 4, 1822. The precept chosen for you is "Be diligent, that ye may be found of Him in Peace," 2nd Peter, 3:14. A promise for you is "My grace is sufficient for thee, for my strength is made perfect in weakness" 2nd Cor. 12:9. By your practice of this precept and acceptance of this promise, your prayer when you come to that great change will be "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word; for mine eyes have seen thy salvation." Luke 2:29-30. Dear Aunt, you will pardon my seeming criticism dialect; it is meant only in fun as I think you will know, and as I am kin to you, I am a bit Hinglish myself, and I 'ope as ye journey to that 'eavenly 'ome, sweet 'ome, ye may have some glimpses of the light that is shining from 'eaven to guide you safely into its portals. God keep and comfort you; I am sincerely your niece, Emma Noble Dodson.

SOLOMON CHAPPELL

Solomon Chappell is the second name in the records of births in the family Bible of Bartholomew and Grace Chappell. Solomon is a Bible name, its meaning is peaceful. (How well adapted is this name to Solomon Chappell.) Solomon is spoken of in the Bible as a wise man; he asked of God that he might judge wisely in leading his people. God answered his prayer, 2nd Sam. 12:24 latter clause; this tells us that the Lord loved Solomon who entered into a covenant with him. Solomon of the Bible built a temple and dedicated it to God, for which he received a blessing in 1st Cor. 3:16, God says "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God." God will as surely give you his blessing for dedicating yourself-your body and service to Him as he did in olden times, "for His word endureth forever." and He has said "he that ruleth his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city," --peaceful. Solomon Chappell was born Aug. 31, 1823, into this world which is both happy and sad, for it is said

"happy is he who obeys my voice," sad, woefully sad, is he who is bad. Our misfortune sometimes proves our good fortune, and dear Uncle, in one sense it is partly so to you; there are many sweet sounds which you hear not, but there are also many jarring discordant tones which are harassing to hear, but not so "bye and bye" in Isa. 29:17, "is it not yet a little while-and in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the Book, 35:5 "the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped." The sweetest sounds ever heard, sweetest music, but the best of all will be, you will hear the voice of Jesus who will say Solomon was wise in choosing the "better part". While on earth Solomon was peaceful, and now I will "give my peace unto him, enter into the joy of your Lord," for you did repent, were baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins, Acts 2:38, and you did accept the promise given in Acts 2:39, "and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost; for the promise is unto you and your children." That God be very gracious with you is the sincere wish of your niece, Emma Noble Dodson.

ISRAEL CHAPPELL

Israel Chappell is found the third name in the record of births in the old family Bible of my grandfather Bartholomew Chappell. The date given as the birthday of Israel is Feb. 5, 1825. A precept for that day is found in Eph. 4:27, "Neither give place to the devil." The promise made you is, "resist the devil and he will flee from thee," Jas. 4:7. In the practice of this precept and acceptance of God's promise, your prayer will be "O God, be not far from me; O my God, make haste for my help," Psa. 71:12. The Bible definition of Israel is "ruling with God", we read in the Bible the passage "thus saith the Lord God of Israel."

God fulfilled his promise to Israel of the Bible, and will as surely fulfill same to all who "put their trust in Him" and as "good warriors, 'fight the good fight with the weapons of faith, trusting in His word" as we go even "down into the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thy rod and staff will comfort me"; in that great day to whom else can we look for comfort? God bless and be to you that comfort as you go on in life, even down to old age, and that you may have an abundant entrance into the place prepared for you, a place we are told not made by hands, but by God himself. Sincerely your niece, Emma Noble Dodson.

THIRZA CHAPPELL NOBLE

Thirza Chappell is the fifth name recorded in the list of births in the family Bible of Bartholomew and Grace Chappell, the date there given is Oct. 21, 1828. The precept given you is found in Psa. 48: 12-13. "Walk about Zion, and go round about her; tell the towers thereof. Mark well her bulwarks; consider her palaces." The promise given you for that date is found in Psa 87:5, "Of Zion it shall be said, this and that man was born of her, and the highest Himself shall establish her." The practice of that precept and acceptance of the promise to your prayer will be, "Oh that salvation of Israel were come out of Zion." Psa 14:7.

Thirza is a Bible name found in Josh. 12:24. It is the name of a city through which the children of Israel passed when they were fleeing from bondage; in the Book we are told to flee from the bondage of Sin; very early in life you accepted Christ as your Saviour and chose that which Christ told Martha her sister Mary had chosen, "one thing needful Mary hath chosen that good part which cannot be taken away from her." Mary often sat at the feet of Jesus to learn of him. Jesus is gone to prepare a place for all who love and serve him, the description of which is given in Revelations, and is so beautiful, and which you so delight to read about. God lead you when you cross over to that home beyond, is the sincere wish of your only daughter, Emma Noble Dodson.

MAHALA CHAPPELL BUCKLES

Mahala Chappell is the sixth name in the record of births in the old family Bible of Bartholomew and Grace Chappell. The date given is Sept. 5, 1830. The precept for this date is found in Mark 11:24. "What things soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, that you shall have them." The promise gives you that if you "ask and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full." John 16:24. In the practice of that precept and acceptance of God's promise, your prayer will be "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious, long suffering, and plentiful in mercy and truth." Psalms 86:15. The name Mahala is found in Gen. 28:8. The Bible meaning of the word is song.

One would surely think that your name suited your disposition, -song- of all the family your disposition has developed the most merry - hilarious. You had the faculty of laughing even in tears. How glad we are to see you able to laugh even in your affliction. That God may deal gently with you "and make His face to shine upon you" so you will "rejoice with exceeding great joy" when He calls you to come where "The lame shall leap as the hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing." Isa.35:6.

I know you will be so happy; you will laugh when you hear your mute brother sing, and he will be happy also, to see you leap and walk as you once did, for in that great day, the crooked is to be made straight; in Romans 8:17, you will read these words "if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together." That God may sanctify your suffering to that end; I am sincerely your niece, Emma Noble Dodson.

And, Oh! when Death comes in his terror to cast,
His fears on the future, his pall on the past,
In that moment of darkness, with hope in thy heart,
And a smile in thine eye, "Look Aloft" and depart.

DR. AND MRS. J. S. PYNE.

Three exchange nationals who returned to America on the ship Gripsholm have arrived in St. Louis with personal tales of the barbarism of the Japanese to interned foreigners in China.

They are Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Pyne of Modesto, Cal., who are visiting at the home of Dr. H. S. Pyne, 5329 Mardel avenue, and Judge Nelson E. Lurton, United States Commissioner for Shanghai and former St. Louisan.

Dr. and Mrs. Pyne were interned in Stanley Prison in Hong Kong, where conditions were considerably worse than in Shanghai, where foreigners were restricted within the city limits. After eating a meager diet of boiled rice, stewed "alfalfa" and stewed eels for three months in overcrowded, filthy quarters, Dr. Pyne states tersely that Americans are "damned fools" to think humane treatment of interned Japanese prisoners in the United States makes any impression on the Japanese at home.

RESPECT BOMBS'

"No guts," and "feather dusters" were sneering epithets they applied to Americans until after the bombing of Tokyo, Dr. Pyne reported. "After the Tokyo raid, conditions were a little better, and a little less contempt was evident in the attitude of the Japanese. Anyone who knows the Japanese character knows they regard kindness merely as weakness. Bombs are the language they respect."

After being confined in the filthiest kind of a dive, Dr. Pyne and his wife with 369 other foreigners were sent to Stanley prison which was built by the British for the confinement of Chinese pirates.

"When we arrived after the fighting ceased the area inside the barbed wire enclosure around the prison was still covered with dead bodies," Dr. Pyne related. "The Japanese took their own dead, and we were allowed to bury the rest, but the bodies just outside the wire fence lay and rot in the sun until they disintegrated. There was so much sickness and disease, that only the dying were admitted to the hospital. Cases on stretchers were carried out to make room for the new arrivals.

"We had no green food of any kind to eat, except the alfalfa which we boiled. Doctors in the group said the 'weeds' as we called it, would not harm us and it might help us."

Dr. Pyne is a dentist, and his wife, who was a nurse before her marriage, were both assigned to their professional work in the camp, but, with no equipment and little medicine or supplies, little could be done for anyone. Mrs. Pyne lost considerable weight, but now that she is back in America she says at least that was "to the good."

In Shanghai, butter was $10 a pound and not to be had for that, Judge Lurton related. "High prices did an effective job of rationing food," he states. "We ate what we could get. No meat, only the most inferior bread, no butter or fresh fruit and vegetables."

FORMER ST. LOUIS LAWYER

JUDGE NELSON E. LURTON

Judge Lurton, who is a native of Dow, Ill., practiced law in St. Louis for about five years before he was appointed United States Commissioner to Shanghai in 1918, which office he held until he resigned in 1927. Ten years later he was re-appointed. While in Shanghai he also served as Judge of the United States Court of China for five months while the incumbent was on vacation, and also for a period acted as Judge of the Consular Court. His wife and 18-year-old son, Nelson E. Lurton Jr., were evacuated from Shanghai in 1937 and they have since been living with Mrs. Lurton's sister Miss Jessie Houghtlin, 5966 Enright avenue.

The brutality of the Japanese in suppressing terrorism in Shanghai was one of the dark pictures Judge Lurton witnessed. Chinese who co-operated with the Japanese were subjected to swift reprisal from their own people, he said, so the attempt to have Chinese police the city to relieve Japanese soldiers for warfare was unsuccessful until the Japanese hit upon their present plan.

"Now every Chinese house boy and every office boy is compelled to serve certain hours on police duty," he explained. "They wear an arm band and carry a rope about 100 feet long. If they do not immediately report every act of terrorism and rope off the area where it occurred, they are subjected to the cruelest torture by the Japanese, including beating and the water cure. I have seen men beaten until they could not stand, and heard their screams of anguish as punishment was being inflicted."

The Japanese are holding the cities, but they cannot subdue guerrilla warfare just outside the city limits, he related. Fighting goes on continuously and is a terrible drain on Japanese manpower.

Judge Lurton thinks Japan, without a friend in the world, will be beaten quickly, as soon as Hitler's power is smashed, and that is apt to be within a year. He bases this opinion on the belief that Hitler cannot weather another winter in Russia. And just as he thinks Russian stamina will be the rock on which Hitler will break himself, so does he think Russia will furnish the bases for the razing of Tokyo. Every evidence in the East points to an attempt within the next few weeks by Japan to stab Russia in the back.

Mrs. Nellie McDow

Mrs. Nellie Rebecca McDow, 79, of 3216 Kendall died Thursday night in Alton Memorial Hospital following an illness of two and one-half weeks. She was the widow of Elvades E. McDow, former Owens-Illinois Glass Co. employe, who died in 1927.

A resident of Alton for 46 years, Mrs. McDow was active in work of Upper Alton Baptist Church during most of that period. She was born in Macoupin County, one of three children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Chapel.

The mother of three daughters and two sons, Mrs. McDow was acquainted in the circles in which her children are known in their respective home cities. She had visited extensively in the homes of her son, C. B. McDow of Rockville Center, N. Y., and E. Earl McDow of Wilmette, Ill., and with her daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Bacon of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs. E. A. Knighten of Inglewood, Calif. In Alton, her home was with her daughter, Mrs. Earl F. Zoll, and here she had made a wide circle of devoted friends.

Mrs. Bacon and Mrs. Knighten have been in Alton for the past 10 days, and Mrs. McDow's sons from New York and Wilmette have been in attendance at her bedside at intervals during her illness.

Surviving in addition to her sons and daughters are five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Israel Chappell, native of Devonshire, Eng., born Feb. 5, 1825 son of Bartholomew and Grace Geen chappell, who were also natives of the famous English Shire (Co.) Their lives were passed there until 1833, when with their 6 children they set sail from Liverpool in the month of October in an American bound ship and after a voyage of 9 weeks and 4 days landed in New York. They came directly to Illinois and located in Jersey Co. where the father purchased a tract of land including a part of Gillham's Mound. About 50 acres were improved and there was a log house on the place. Mr. Chappell erected frame buildings, improved his land and increased the acreage of the farm so that at one time he had 400 acres. Death closed Bartholomew's career in 1869. He was twice married, first to Elizabeth Ann Bendle, whose children were:

Israel Chappell was in his 8th year when his parents brought him to the U.S. and he can well remember the incidents of pioneer life in the early years of the settlement of this State. At that time deer and bear were very numerous in Jersey Co., and also coons, wild turkeys and other game. For many years there were no railroads in the county, and Alton was the nearest market for supplies. Young Chappell attended the pioneer schools, the first being taught in the kitchen of a neighbor, as there were no free schools. The grain was cut with a cradle and threshed by a flail. The mother carded, spun and wove the wool and linen with which her family was clothed, and cooked the meals before a rude fireplace.

Our subject resided with his parents until 1846, and then commenced life for himself, working on a farm for $8.00 a month, continuing thus employed until 1850, when he went to California, with a great army of gold hunters. He left Jersey Co. the 1st of May and made the entire journey across the plains and mountains with a team of mules, arriving at Sacramento, on the 4th of August, without mishap. With the exception of the Mormons at Salt Lake City, there were but very few white settlers west of St. Joseph, Mo., until California was reached. Antelope, elk, & deer abounded on the plains and buffalo were seen in large numbers. There were also plenty of Indians, who were hostilely disposed, rendering traveling very dangerous. Upon arriving in California Mr. Chappell engaged in mining where he resided until 1852, where he was quite successful. When he returned to Illinois he came by way of the Cape.

Prior to going to the Pacific Coast our subject had bought a tract of wild prairie land in what is now Honey Point Twp. and the year following his return he settled on it, and has continued since. The homestead consists of 160 acres of choice land and he has erected a good set of frame buildings, planted fruit and shade trees and made all modern improvements. Besides his home farm, he also owns 180 acres of land in Shaw's Point Twp. and 80 acres in Lancaster Co. Neb. and is one of the substantial men of his community.

March 30, 1834 Mr. Chappell was united in marriage with Miss Sophia Hunt b June 20, 1835, who was born in the same shire (Co.) as her husband. Her father, George Hunt was also a native of Devonshire, where he married Sophia Willoway and spent his whole life. His wife was also from Devonshire, the daughter of Thomas & Charity

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK FROM 1624 TO 1898

The history of the city of New York from 1624 to 1898 is a story of growth and development. It begins with the first Dutch settlement in 1624, when a group of men led by William Kieft established a trading post on the island of Manhattan. The Dutch quickly became the dominant power in the region, and their influence spread to other parts of the colony. In 1664, the British took control of the city, and it became part of the Province of New York. The city grew rapidly, and by 1790, it was the largest city in the United States. The American Revolution began in 1776, and the city was the site of many important events, including the signing of the Declaration of Independence. After the war, the city continued to grow, and by 1898, it had become a major center of industry and commerce. The city's history is a testament to the resilience and spirit of its people.

THE LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

O'DOUGHARTY--DOUGHARTY--DOUGHERTY

The members of the Dougherty family generally are, and have been among the first citizens of the County & States. They have held and honorably discharged the duties on many important and useful public positions of Church and State. They are an exceptionally peaceful, industrious and enterprising people and unsurpassed in their home selection of county, as safe and substantial pillars of religion and government. There are, also many people by the name of Dougherty in different counties and cities in the U.S. There are postoffices by the name of Dougherty in three states of the Union. A Mr. John Dougherty of the 19th Century has been given an eminent place in the histories as a lawyer, lecrurer, orator and author. All this makes the Dougherty name important and interesting.

In this Dougherty Genealogy the author records that his ancestors and relation came from Ireland. Leading families in Ireland, as a result of communications with the National Library of Ireland and Trinity College Library, of Dublin, the above information of the Dougherty family can be ascertained.

As early as 1760 a married couple, William And Elizabeth (McLelland) O'Dougharty migrated from Ireland probably 1758 or '59, settling in Milledgeville, near Charleston, So. Car. (Milledgeville, So. Car. which was the plantation home of Governor Milledge formerly of Milledgeville, Ga.) This plantation or village was located south and east of Eureka and north of Laketon, located on the Southern Railroad in Aiken County near the Edgefield Co. line . This is near South Fork, a branch of the Edisto River which is near the present village of Aiken, So. Car. When I visited Aiken in the Fall of 1947 a very old Colored man, who happened to be at the County Building, said he remembered this village well but it had disappeared altho the old marker where the trains formerly stopped was still there altho badly weatherbeaten.MBNF.

To them four children-3 boys and a girl were born while in Carolina namely: James : Nancy Ann: William: and George. This couple and their children were known as O'Dougharty for a while. The "O" was a title of distinction in Ireland but was soon dropped from the name. Nancy Ann was married to a Mr. Chase & Mr. Curry before leaving Carolina for Mississippi, as did the others of her family.

OTTERVILLE IN 1912, IN THE SUMMER TIME, IS A DREAMY, QUIET, SUBURBAN NEIGHBOR OF JERSEYVILLE.

A Romance of Jerseyville and Otterville:

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON FUND.

By J. A. Reid.

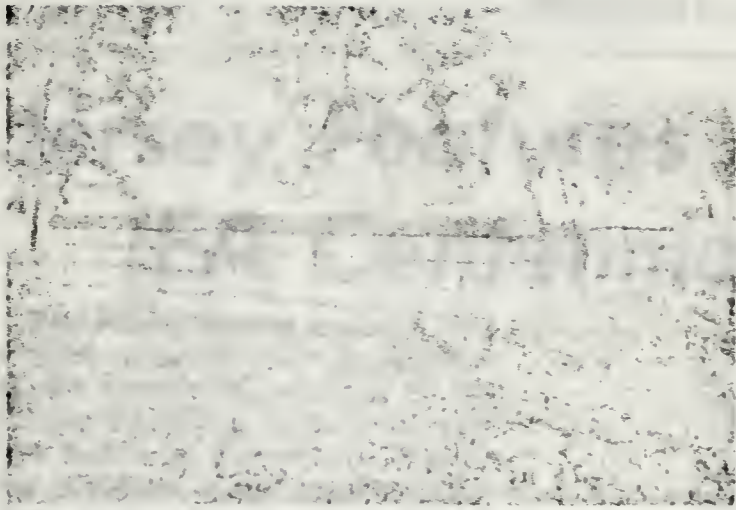

NEARBY, in the quiet little village of Otterville, there are a number of interesting mementoes of the days of absorbing and tragic story "before the war." These significant witnesses of the truth of a bit of romantic history are well worth a passing moment's notice.

Dr. Silas Hamilton, a Vermonter of 1820, with a New England conscience, fine humanitarian instincts and a spirit of heroism worthy a John Brown or a Guiseppe Garibaldi, conceived the idea of going South, buying a plantation, and gradually manumitting the slaves he raised and bought. Through example also he had an idea that a neighborhood influence would affect other masters, and in time the result might be far-reaching. But time and place forbade success.

During his experiments the Doctor made many trips to his old home in Vermont and on one occasion bought an infant black just separated from the mother who had been "sold South." This occurred in Virginia, not many miles from the National Capital and Mount Vernon, and the youngster who had cost $100 was named "George Washington" volumes for the slave, the master and the congenial surroundings of Jerseyville and Otterville.

Near this monument to Dr. Hamilton, now stands a fine modern school building erected on the site of the first free public school established in Illinois. The original building was paid for by the Doctor, and George Washington

Under judicious management this fund has accumulated to over $23,000, and some thirty-five young men and women of the colored race have also been aided in getting a college training. Jersey Features At IEA Centennial Meet

Two Jersey County features held a place of prominence in displays at the Centennial meeting of the Illinois Education Association held last month in Chicago. In reviewing educators of the past one hundred years tribute was paid to the late Professor Joshua Pike who was principal of the Jerseyville High School for more than forty years, and who was active in the work of state and national educational circles. A sketch of the First Free School in Illinois, located at Otterville, was among the features in the historical display. These sketches were compiled by Gus F. Roth, Superintendent of Community Unit District 100, Jersey and Greene Counties.

The sketch on Professor Pike was as follows:

"In September 1874 when the Jerseyville High School was founded Professor Joshua Pike came to Jerseyville and assumed the superintendency of the Jerseyville schools and the principalship of the high school. His was the effort that made our school what it is and sent forth young men and women singularly well-equipped for the battle of life and for the acquiring of higher education. For more than forty years Professor Pike was principal of the school and its alumni is numbered by many hundreds. Many of them are settled in this vicinity, and others are to be found throughout the United States and the entire world.

"Professor Pike was born at West Jefferson, Ohio, in 1840, and when very young came to Illinois with his parents and was reared on a farm near Barry, Illinois. He received the degree of A. M., from the University of Chicago. While a student at the University, he went to serve the Union during the latter days of the Civil War, and was commissioned as Captain. He completed his education after the close of the war. After his graduation he taught for a short time at St. Joseph, Missouri, then went to Pittsfield, Illinois, where he was principal of the high school for five or six years. He came to Jerseyville from Pittsfield, where he remained until his death.

"Professor Pike was widely known in educational circles, and his opinions were sought from all parts of the country. Some years ago he was active in the National Education Association. At one time he was president of the Illinois State Teachers' Association."

The above information was taken from the Jersey County Democrat, Thursday, January 21, 1915.

"Professor Pike died in Jerseyville, January 14, 1915 at four o'clock in the afternoon. Through large contributions made by his former pupils, a beautiful monument has been erected and dedicated in his memory in Oak Grove Cemetery, in Jerseyville.

"Among the educational leaders of the last quarter of the 19th century and early 20th century there stood the leaders of Illinois, and in the very midst of these there stood Professor Joshua Pike. He was truly an educational pioneer who gained a position of prominence for his day only possible for few. He was among those who moulded the educational policies and laid the foundation for future years.

"Where can we go to find a more devoted service to education? Think what it means to consecrate forty years of one's life to a single purpose. Indeed this man sacrificed the very heart of a life, rich in opportunities, upon the altars of a single community."

The following review was given of the First Free School in Illinois:

The First Free School in Illinois

"In 1830 Dr. Silas Hamilton settled at New Design, in St. Clair County, Illinois. After remaining there for only a short time Dr. Hamilton and his nephew started on horseback for the purpose of seeking a location for permanent settlement. They went as far north as Springfield, west to Quincy and thence southward through the intervening country until they reached Otter Creek Prairie, then in Greene, but now in Jersey County, where Dr. Hamilton purchased a section of land for a homestead, and where he afterwards settled and continued as his home until his death in 1834.

"Dr. Hamilton brought with him to his new home a negro slave, George Washington, and another man slave and the latter's wife, as well as his own son. His intention then was to educate George and send him to Liberia, as a missionary to his own race. This plan was frustrated, however, by reason of the death of Dr. Hamilton, November 19, 1834, his son having died previously. In his will, dated October 20, 1834, there is the following provision:

"Believing in the very great importance of primary schools, and desiring that my friends and relations in this neighborhood should receive the benefit of them, I give and bequeath four thousand dollars for the establishment of a primary school, viz.: two thousand dollars to be appropriated to the erection of a building suitable for a school and for a place of public worship, and two thousand dollars to constitute a fund for the support of a teacher". . . "and I desire my executors to oversee the erection of said building."

Dr. Hamilton's nephew, Thomas M. Hamilton, and his brother-in-law, Gilbert Douglas, were named executors, and from this bequest the original "Stone Schoolhouse" was erected in 1835. It was the first free school in Illinois, and its fame extended far beyond the limits of the state. Many emigrants in those days came from states farther east, and settled in this neighborhood. They often remarked, that before reaching the east line of the state, upon inquiry for the road to the "Stone Schoolhouse," the people all seemed to know at once where it was located.

"This original school building was two stories high, built of stone. The main floor was divided by a hall, containing a stairway leading to the second floor. There were two schoolrooms on the first floor and the second floor was used for Sunday school, church and other public gatherings.

"By act of the General Assembly in 1839, this school was incorporated as the Hamilton Primary School with a district four miles square, and the trustees were given the authority to use the district and the common school fund, due to said district, in support of their school, and making the Stone Schoolhouse the center of the district. In 1873, this school building was taken down and a new and more modern one was erected upon the same site.

"George Washington, the slave, mentioned above was freed by Dr. Hamilton and became a respected citizen of the Otter Creek area. He acquired some property and upon his death in 1864 his will provided for the erection of a monument to his former Master, Dr. Silas Hamilton costing $1500. The remainder of his estate, about $7000, was set up as a Trust Fund to help "colored persons, or Americans of African descent," to acquire a higher education. This Fund is still in existence today and is administered by a board of trustees under the control of the circuit court of Jersey County. (The writer is a member of the present board of trustees.) This fund today has grown to over $25,000 and the income from the fund is being used to aid in the education of colored persons from various parts of the United States. At present (1953) seven students are being aided in their college or special education by the fund.

"George was buried in the old cemetery, north of the Presbyterian Church, in Otterville, Illinois, beside the graves of Dr. Silas Hamilton, his former master, and Gilbert Douglas, and a stone tomb was erected enclosing the three graves. The location is 300 or 400 feet from the site of the "Old Stone Schoolhouse," and a like distance from the monument erected to his former master, and upon which are the following inscriptions:

On the scroll above the base block:

George Henry Dougherty was very fond of flowers, particularly red roses. He collected during his lifetime, a great collection of prehistoric bones, skulls of humans and animals, rare Indian relics and both paper money and coins that have long since served their time. He loved to tease and catch his nieces and nephews in jokes as to how many divisions are there in an applecore etc.

He lived with his Mother until her death Aug. 23, 1908, then lived with his brother William and they had their meals regularly with Leslie & Stella Dougherty, son and daughter in law of Wm. who lived east of Otterville. He died March 8th, 1938 at which time his property was disposed of and the estate was given to his surviving nieces and nephews. The collection was given to Leslie M. Dougherty.

Samuel James Madison Dougharty settled where he now lives in Otter Creek Twp. (south of Otterville) in 1845, since which time it has been his home. He was born in the state of Mississippi in 1810.

His parents, James and Arkada Varando Dougharty, were natives of South Carolina, who came to Jersey Co. in 1834, and settled where "Sammy" now lives. Here James Dougharty died in 1843. The subject of this sketch was married in 1846 to Elizabeth Cook, who was born in Miss. and came with her parents to this state in 1835. Mr. Dougharty owns a fine farm, comprising 275 acres of land, all improved, and is engaged in general farming. Mr. & Mrs. Dougharty are the parents of four children, two of whom are living--Joseph C., of this Twp. and Mary A. James. H. Dougharty died while in the service of his country, during the War of the Rebellion. He was a member of Company C. of the 61st Ill. Inft. Alexander F. died at the age of four. Mr. Dougharty and his family are members of the M.E. Church. He is a republican politically, and was formerly a whig. Although advanced in years he is still vigorous and healthy, and a well informed, intelligent gentleman. History of Jersey Co. Ill. 1885-

JOHN G.DOUGHERTY- has been a resident of Otter Creek Twp. since 1832, having come here with his parents in Sept. of that year. He was born in Adams Co., Miss. in 1820, and is a son of William Y. and Jennet Foules Dougherty, the former having lived in So. Car. and his wife from New York, a brother of William Becket Foules, niece and nephew of Amos Ogden of New York, New York.

The subject of this sketch has always followed farming. He now owns a fine farm comprised of 656 acres, with splendid improvements. He was married in 1848, to Susan Melrose(Millross) a native of Scotland. They are the parents of eight children, six of whom are living: Louisa, wife of J.K.Cadwallader, of the twp.: George H., living at home: William, living in this twp.:Irene, wife of C.A.L.Reed, M.D., of Hamilton, Ohio:Leonora, wife of Milton B.Noble, of this twp. and John, living at home with his parents. Biographical Sketch of

JOHN G. DOUGHERTY, of Otter Creek Township by Dr. Charles A.L.Reed--

The deceased, John G.Dougherty, was born in Adams County, Mississippi, July 28th,1820, being the second son of William Y. and Jeanette Mariah (Foules) Dougherty.His parents being dissatisfied with the conditions prevailing in the south at the time, and entertaining profound convictions against slavery, decided to seek a home in the North. They accordingly, in the spring of 1832, ascended the Mississippi River and settled with their children at Belleville, Illinois.They however, were induced largely through the influence of Dr. Hamilton, then of Otter Creek Township, but now long since deceased, to migrate in the fall of the same year to Jersey County, where they located on land,which, to this day, (1961) comprises a part of the homestead.Here, a year later,October 20,1833, William Y.Dougherty, the father, died, leaving his large family dependent upon his widow, and in a very important degree, upon the subject of this sketch, then in his fourteenth year.The country was new and the family had to be fed. The little patches of ground already grubbed from the forest had to be tilled; trees had to be felled, and brush had to be cleared from still other acres. The family had to be schooled, and the mortgage had to be paid. To these tasks, the

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON, D.C.
JANUARY 1, 1900
SIR:
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th inst. in relation to the proposed amendment to the National Bank Act, and in reply to inform you that the same has been referred to the Committee on Finance, and that they are now considering the same.

little lad devoted his undivided energy with the promptness, the faithfulness, and the manliness that always characterized the remaining seventy years of his life. There was no time, indeed, from his father's death to his own demise two days ago, when he did not stand as the faithful and unflinching protector of his father's family, keeping his mother by his side until she was called hence September 3, 1862, just forty-five years from the very day of her marriage, and after nearly thirty years of widowhood.

The life of the deceased during these early years was one of painful labor, but laborous as it was, he found time to master in a more than usually comprehensive way, the rudiments of an English education. It was not, however, until his twenty-eighth year that he married. Then April 27th, 1848, he espoused Miss Susan Melrose, a native of Haddington, Scotland, but then a resident of Jersey County. The result of this union was eight children: Junius, who died in infancy; Louisa Maria, wife of Hon. Jesse K. Cadwallader, George Henry, William, Irene Eliza, wife of Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, of Cincinnati, Annie Jeanette, who died early in life, Leonora I., wife of Milton B. Noble and John George. Fifteen grand children survive him. The intellectual acuteness, the moral principles of Mr. Dougherty, together with the political principles entertained by his parents, made it natural that upon the attainment of his majority he should identify himself with the Whig party, then the only political organization opposed to the extension of slavery. He was therefore the supporter of Clay and Webster, although he had little sympathy with the Compromise Measures by which these great leaders sought to maintain the supremacy of their party at the expense of principle. It was but natural, therefore, that upon the dissolution of that party, the subject of our sketch revolting at the recollection of the slavery that surrounded him in his childhood, a sympathizer of Birney in the early Abolition movement, and having had his blood stirred by the Alton riots, and by the incidents of the underground railroad especially active here in the border country, should have given his early support to the candidacy of Fremont. He was thus an original Republican, and as such stood by his party through all the troublous times of the Civil War, and remained a faithful supporter to its principles and its policy to the time of his death. He was a careful reader of its literature, and followed with keen and intelligent interest not only the political and economic movements of his country, but its growing importance among the nations of the world.

The religious side of Mr. Dougherty's character was genuine, but not demonstrative. Early in life, he identified himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and ever after remained an active supported of its interests. He exemplified the principles of the Gospel by deeds rather than words. His speech was pure, his dealings were honest; he was reverent, and an observer of the Sabbath. This, in brief and general terms, was the character of the deceased who passed seventy years of his active life in this neighborhood. This activity, in a physical sense, came to an end in August of last year, when he fell from a horse and fractured his left arm. After this accident, he never left the house but once, on which occasion, at his request, he was taken by carriage to view his farm, from the cultivation of which he had always derived so much pleasure. His mental activity, however, endured to the last. There was no time, to the very day of his death, when he was not deeply interested in everything about him-his current obligations, the labors on the farm, the welfare of his immediate family, and of his relatives, even the details of his impending funeral. This clearness of intellect lasted throughout his more rapid decline, which set in about a week ago, and which terminated in a peaceful sleep at ten minutes after six o'clock Sunday evening, November 8th, 1903, eighty-three years, three months and eleven days from the date of his birth.

Thus ended the life of a man who will be remembered with respect and gratitude by this community for many years to come as the dutiful son, the loyal husband, the faithful parent, the constant friend, and the good citizen-the type of man upon which rests the integrity of the family, the welfare of the State, and the future of the Republic. (Signed C.A.L. Reed)

XXIII PSALM

As printed in Scottish Bible owned by Uncle John G. Dougherty II of Otterville, Illinois. Bible Printed by Mark & Charles Kerr-His Majestys' Printers MDCCXCIII-Edinburgh, Scotland.

The Lord's my shepherd, I'll not want
He makes me down to lie
In pastures green; He leadeth me the quiet waters by,
My soul He doth restore again; and me to walk doth make Within the paths of righteousness ev'n for his own name's sake.
Yea, though I walk in death's dark vale, yet will I fear none ill:
For thou art with me: and thy rod and staff me comfort still.
My table thou dost with oil anoint, and my cup overflows
Goodness and mercy all my life shall surely follow me
And in God's house for evermore my dwelling place shall be.

John George Dougherty, after the death of his father William Y. October 20, 1833 rendered the widowed mother great assistance in raising the family, the members of which are now well settled in life, and among the prominent citizens of the community in which they have resided over 40 years. Mr. Dougherty has followed farming through life. He resided on part of his father's old homestead, Sec. 13, Twp. 7, Range 12. Politically, he was a Whig, but upon the disorganization of that party he became a Republican. He is a practical farmer, a good, upright citizen and a valuable member of the community, in which the large portion of his active life has been spent. His acts speak plainly to all who know him and he therefore need no eulogy at our hands.

Mary B. Dougherty born in Adams Co. Miss., married Nathaniel Hamilton, son of Thomas McClure Hamilton and Apphia Brown Hamilton on July 9, 1835.

Oscar Brown Hamilton, senior member of the law firm, Hamilton & Hamilton of Jerseyville, Ill was born in Greene Co., Ill. Jan 31, 1839, a son of Nathaniel & Mary B. Dougherty Hamilton. Nathaniel was born in Washington County, Ohio and Mary B. in Miss. The grandparents were Thomas McClure & Apphia Brown Hamilton, natives of Vermont & N.Y. and James Dougherty born in So. Car. The latter came, by the river route, to what is now Otter Creek Twp. in 1831, and entered land from the government. The Hamilton's came in 1830. The grandfather was executor of the will of his Uncle, Dr. Silas Hamilton, who erected the original stone school house in Otterville, and managed it until it was incorporated as the Hamilton Primary School in 1839. His death occurred in 1844, having been born Jan. 3, 1785.

Four Hamilton sons, namely Paul M.; John J.; Frederick W.; and Ray H. and Leslie Sisson Noble, a brother-in-law & four grandsons, Harry H. & Edward G. Cochrell; Ernest Brown and Mark W. Hamilton were subject to draft under the Act of 1918, including men from 18 years to 45 years for service in the World War.

The first of the two papers in this section is by Dr. J. H. J. van der Linde, who discusses the role of the 'tribe' in the social organization of the Bantu-speaking peoples of Southern Africa. He argues that the concept of the 'tribe' is a useful one for understanding the social structure of these peoples, but that it should not be taken too literally. He points out that the 'tribe' is a social unit that is defined by a common descent, and that it is a unit that is recognized by other groups. He also points out that the 'tribe' is a unit that is defined by a common language, and that it is a unit that is defined by a common territory. He concludes that the 'tribe' is a social unit that is defined by a common descent, a common language, and a common territory.

He received his early education principally from the tutoring of Professor Nathaniel P. Firman, an eminent educator of Ohio by which he obtained a thorough knowledge of the English branches. He was passionately fond of the science of geology, and in the state geological reports of Illinois frequent mention is made of his name, in connection with the many important discoveries that he has made in that profound science. George Dougharty taught school, was County surveyor, member of the State Legislature and a farmer. His family and most of the descendants remained in the south, in Miss., Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas.

James and George Dougharty arrived at Kingston, Miss. between 1805 and 1810.

William Y.bought a half acre of land from John Ogden in 1816, and married Jeannette Foules, a brother of Wm. Becket Foules, and a niece of Amos Ogden, Sept.3rd, 1817 at the home of Thomas Eaton. Wm.Y and Jeannette moved to Jersey Co. Ill. near Otterville, in Sept.1832, and located on the farm now owned by their eldest son-John George. In 1961 owned by Wm.Y's great grandson, John G. Dougherty of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Nancy Ann O'Dougharty seems to have been the 1st. child born in South Carolina, probably about 1785(another informant says 1790). She was the daughter of an Irish pair coming direct from the Emerald Isle. (Another informant understood that she was of Scotch, Irish and Welch descent) Her parents settled at Milledgeville near Aiken, South Carolina about 1780. Of this couple not much is known by the present generation. At this time the name was O'Dougharty & their 3 younger children were born here. The "O' " was dropped and it was still spelled Dougharty until the end of the Civil War when Henry Dougherty started spelling it with an "E" not an "A". In the family cemetery near Otterville, Illinois both spellings are to be found on the markers.

J. D. McADAMS OF ALTON TELEGRAPH KILLED IN CRASH

Wife Injured When Their Car and Truck Collide
in Florida

HAD NOTABLE CAREER

Business Manager of Alton Newspaper for 35 Years

John D. McAdams, joint owner with Paul B. Cousley of the Alton Telegraph and its business manager, died at noon Saturday in Flagler Hospital at St. Augustine, Fla., from injuries suffered in an automobile crash Friday evening in which also Mrs. McAdams was seriously injured. The death of Mr. McAdams was due to a crash when his car and a truck collided.

Mrs. McAdams was not immediately informed of her husband's death. It was later when two of their children, John D. McAdams, Jr., and Miss Phoebe McAdams reached St. Augustine after flying from St. Louis.

McAdams had shipped his Cadillac car to Atlanta, Ga., and he and Mrs. McAdams went from Alton by train to that city and started to drive from there to Florida for a vacation. The accident occurred after dark Friday about 12 miles out of St. Augustine as they were motoring to southern Florida, as Mr. McAdams was driving his new Cadillac when he collided with a produce truck.

Was Widely Known

The Alton veteran newspaper man, 65 years of age and well known among newspaper people all over the state, sustained a fracture of one arm. While Mr. McAdams suffered the fracture of one arm it was so serious that the services of a bone specialist to set it, were secured. However, a brain concussion caused death. Mr. McAdams was found unconscious and so remained for 14 hours after the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams had departed from St. Louis, Thursday afternoon, arriving at Atlanta on Friday and evidently intended to spend the night at St. Augustine. Near midnight Friday, John D. McAdams Jr., at Alton, received a telephone message from a doctor in St. Augustine telling him of the accident but gave no details as to how it occurred but explained the condition of Mr. and Mrs. McAdams.

Surgeon Calls Family

The surgeon was not at all optimistic of the outcome and urged members of the family to come as soon as possible. A few hours later the surgeon called again advising that the condition of both Mr. and Mrs. McAdams had not changed and that the condition of Mr. McAdams was "poor" and that of Mrs. McAdams was only fair.

After the first telephone message the two children made preparations to fly from St. Louis and arrived at St. Augustine late Saturday evening. While at the airport in St. Louis to take the plane, news was received in Alton that Mr. McAdams had died without regaining consciousness.

The driver of the truck had been booked on a charge of reckless driving.

The McAdams car turned over and was badly wrecked and the produce truck was also wrecked and crates of food were scattered far over the highway.

The career of Mr. McAdams, who was a brother of the late Clark D. McAdams, for years editor of the editorial page of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch was distinguished by public service. He was born on a farm near Otterville in Jersey county in 1876. His father, Wm. McAdams was a noted archeologist.

Mr. McAdams entered the newspaper work as a young man after he and his present co-partner of The Telegraph, began their friendship as newsboys at age ten, while they were carrying rival papers—The Sentinel-Democrat and The Telegraph. Cousley was a newsboy on The Telegraph which was own-

Funeral of Late
John D. McAdams
Held at Alton
Dec. 2, 1941

Funeral services for the late John D. McAdams of the Alton Telegraph, whose death in an automobile crash was given in detail in The Advocate, Monday, were held at 3:30 p. m., Wednesday, at his residence at 1407 Liberty street, Alton, with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Members of the staff of the Alton Telegraph, of which he was business manager for 35 years, were the active pallbearers. There were also honorary pallbearers composed of important Alton men and friends of the decedent. Mr. McAdams, as heretofore stated, died in a hospital at St. Augustine, Fla., at noon Saturday, as a result of an automobile collision 12 miles out of that city the night before.

The body arrived in Alton, Tuesday night, and was taken to a funeral home and afterward to his residence.

Mrs. McAdams was so severely injured in the accident that she was unable to leave the hospital in which she will be confined for some time, although she is reported as improving. A son and daughter, John D. Jr., and Phoebe, accompanied the remains to Alton.

H. H. Hewitt, a brother of Mrs. McAdams, flew from Alton to St. Augustine, Sunday, and he and the two children told Mrs. McAdams of the fatal outcome of her husband's injuries. She had surmised such an outcome and withstood the shock.

The Alton Telegraph, of which he was part owner with Paul B. Causley, the editor, announced in its Monday night's edition that tributes to Mr. McAdams, as a newspaper man and as a leader of civic affairs, were pouring into the Telegraph offices.

The sole editorial in the Telegraph's Monday evening edition was given over to a tribute to Mr. McAdams.

Among other things the editorial stated: "Just as Mr. McAdams was leaving for his trip to Florida, he was reminded that every time he had departed on a vacation trip in recent years, something of great news importance turned up while he was away." Mr. McAdams' comment was, "I wonder what it will be this time?" One member of his staff replied that according to past experiences it would be "something of great importance as it had not failed in a long time to happen that way."

Of course, no one had in mind that the news would concern Mr. McAdams.

Alton business houses closed at 3:15 p. m., yesterday, as a tribute to Mr. McAdams, re-opening after the funeral at 4:30 p. m. Flags at the City Hall and the post office were at half mast. Many different organizations with which Mr. McAdams was identified attended the funeral as separate bodies.

Paul B. Causley, editor of The Telegraph, was in receipt of many telegrams of condolence, one from Governor Green, who said: "Mr. McAdams served faithfully and well in a position of high influence and will be sorely missed."

Another tribute of respect came from Hon. Chas. Boeschenstein of Edwardsville, who was for many years owner and editor of The Edwardsville Intelligencer, Democratic national committeeman and connected now with the Federal Reserve Bank at St. Louis, as one of its directors. Members of Alton Post of the American Legion at their meeting Monday night, stood for a moment in reverent appreciation of the memory of Mr. McAdams as an outstanding citizen.

ROWENA DICKEY, American pianist, was born in Decatur, Illinois, of a highly musical family. Commencing her study of piano at the age of four, she progressed so rapidly that at fourteen she was presented in concert before a capacity Decatur audience. The enthusiasm created by this exceptional talent predicted for her a most promising career.

For ten years Miss Dickey was a pupil of Jose Echaniz, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Music at James Millikin University, Decatur, Illinois, and the degree of Master of Music at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York. She also studied during a summer with Madame Olga Samaroff Stokowski. Immediate success greeted her guest appearance with the Rochester Civic Orchestra under the direction of Howard Hanson, in the Ravel Piano Concerto.

Miss Dickey has made frequent appearances before college audiences both in recital and as soloist with orchestra. She has also participated in numerous concerts with her sister, Annamary Dickey, of Metropolitan Opera and radio fame, impressing audiences with her sensitive musical understanding and sympathetic interpretations.

The response received by this brilliant young artist in all her performances acclaims her one of America's distinguished musicians.

It Happened Last Night

A Broadway Short Story

Told by A Stage Star

By EARL WILSON

New York.

On my noisy noiseless I'm going to play you today a Broadway short story poured into my ear at midnight by a lovely gal.

"Sure, I've been penniless!" the girl said.

"Haven't you ever had the luck to be?" she asked, as we sat in Sardi's.

"No, I've been—if you'll pardon the expression—flat-busted, but not penniless," I said.

"I'm glad I was. I've had just a dime, and spent that for milk. I've gone to auditions weak from undernourishment," she said.

The girl was cornfed Annamary Dickey, singing star of "Allegro" and of the Metropolitan Opera, who comes from Decatur, Ill., and St. Louis. She's a cousin of President Truman's Clark Clifford.

BUT — TO KEEP our alleged story moving—she made her debut at the Met, and met another cornfed, Arthur Laue, a salesman out of Effingham, Ill.

"Arthur Laue was engaged, and so was I," she told me.

"We had four dates.

"The first one, he was late. He said, 'You'd never marry anybody who kept you waiting, would you?'

"I said 'No.'

"He said, 'We'll see.' We were married on our fourth date . . . two and one-half weeks later.

"He is," she said, "a super-salesman!

"He'd been penniless, too. Once when afflicted with rheumatism, he hitchhiked from California to Illinois—on crutches."

"I'd already gone to the Junllard School placement bureau and asked them to get me a teaching job.

"I'd given up. I decided it was too bad but that I was just one of the millions who could never make good on Broadway."

Her husband helped supersell the Metropolitan that it would be good for her to become a saloon singer as long as it was the Waldorf's supersaloon, the Serf Room.

From this she got an offer to go into "Allegro."

"I was going to have a baby in a couple of days. I was 'way out to here.

"When I went into the Theater

Guild, they started laughing at me.

"I GOT ANNOYED.

"I said, 'You've got to like children to like me because I'm going to have one any minute.' They kept laughing and I thought they were awfully rude. I thought maybe they were anti-mother.

"They showed me the script.

"The part was for a woman who'd just had a baby. She was in bed with it when the show opened.

"That's why they laughed. They said I HAD to be the mother in their show. I was so well-equipped, so well-rounded . . .

"So I had Marianne. You may quote me, she's the cutest, prettiest, mostest anything. My husband and baby-sitter is the handsomest, smartest, sellingest . . ."

"IS THERE a moral here for those who buck Broadway?" I asked.

"Yes, the old it's darkest-before-the-dawn idea," she said.

"In the winter of '39 I was my brokest. Really penniless.

"When I won in the Metropolitan auditions in the spring and got a check for $1000, that was Fort Knox to me."

Let's Talk It Over

ANNAMARY DICKEY wasn't "lucky" to win that Metropolitan Opera audition award. She worked for it, from the time she was a little girl.

One summer when she was about 10 or 12, having shown unusual promise in singing, she gave up her piano practice and went east to her uncle, Rupert Neilly, famed teacher and coach, to work with him. There was not much to do with a voice so young as that except teach it good habits. Too much work would have strained it. But she studied all that summer, and studied hard.

She has always studied hard at her music, practicing long hours at voice and piano. She won her degree from Millikin and then went to New York on scholarship, and made the usual sacrifices of good times and fancy living in order to give all of her time and money to music. Even when she was home on vacations, a week or two snatched here and there, she'd continue her practice. Her lovely voice could be heard at almost any hour of the day, floating from their house across their garden and ours and into our windows. She worked, that girl.

All the Dickey family is musical, and they all work at it. The Dickey piano is going at all hours. If it isn't a Dickey at the keyboard, it is some little child who is taking lessons there. They run through our driveway and garden almost from the crack of dawn until after dark, a roll of music clutched in their hands. Sometimes the littler ones are escorted home by Rowena with a flashlight, if it is dark before the lesson is over. The neighborhood watchman keeps an eye out for them too. When we are at breakfast, they come flying through, their early lessons finished.

Millikin Conservatory, where Annamary went for lessons while she was in high school, and where she took her degree when she came of college age, was feeling as proud as Punch Monday morning. The word had gone around there last week that Annamary had won the award, but everyone was waiting for confirmation from the Met before sending up fireworks. Well, she did it, and fireworks are in order.

ANOTHER DICKEY SOLOIST TONIGHT WITH ORCHESTRA

Tickets will be on sale at the door tonight for Millikin orchestra's final concert of the year, to be given at 8:15 p. m. in the university auditorium under Jose Echamiz's direction. Tickets are 25 cents each to help pay the cost of the music, and none will be reserved.

The orchestra is playing Prokofiev's vigorous "Classical Symphony" and the equally stimulating "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" of Liszt. Francis Rogier, baritone, will sing an aria from Verdi's "La Traviata", and Rowena Dickey, sister of Annamary Dickey who on Sunday was announced as the Metropolitan audition winner, will be piano soloist for Rachmaninoff's concerto in C minor.

Mrs. J. H. Dickey, with Annamary Sunday, will try to get back in time to hear Rowena in Decatur tonight. The third of the musical daughters, Janet, will play in the orchestra string section.

Miss McGinnis a Bride

St. John's Catholic Chapel, Champaign, was the setting of a pretty wedding this morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Joan Francis McGinnis, younger daughter of John F. The high altar was banked with spring blossoms intermingled with tapers.

The Rev. Edward Duncan officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

Miss McGinnis, who was escorted by her father, was preceded down the aisle by her sister and matron of honor, Mrs. E. J. Callahan (the former Miss Gene McGinnis) of La Grange, Ill., maid of honor,

Dr. J. H. Dickey Dies in Decatur Nov. 30, 1949

Dr. J. Harvey Dickey, who was a teacher in Alton High School more than 40 years ago, died Wednesday at 1:45 p. m. at his home in Decatur after an illness of five months. Dr. Dickey was a dentist, taking up that profession after concluding his work in the Alton school system. He settled in Decatur to practice his profession and he had lived there about 36 years.

Dr. Dickey is survived by his wife, who was Miss Bessie McAdams before her marriage, also three daughters, Anna Mary Dickey Laue, famous opera and concert singer, Misses Rowena and Janet Dickey.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock with interment at Decatur.

Mr. Dickey is remembered by many Alton people and especially by those who studied under him. He was a successful and popular teacher while at Alton High School.

Mrs. Alice Kurrus Dies in St. Louis Dec. 4th, 1950

Mrs. Alice Clifford Kurrus, 47, wife of Albert B. Kurrus, vice-president of Williams, Kurrus & Co., mortgage investment firm of St. Louis, and a daughter of the late Frank A. Clifford, formerly of Alton, and of Mrs. Georgia McAdams Clifford, of St. Louis, died Saturday at her home, in St. Louis.

She was a sister of Clark M. Clifford, Washington attorney and former special counsel to President Truman, who flew to St. Louis, Saturday.

Mrs. Kurrus, who was born in Alton, was a niece of the late John D. McAdams of Alton. Her father died in 1942.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, mother, and brother, are a son, Clifford McAdams Kurrus, a student at Princeton University, and a daughter, Georgia.

Funeral rites were conducted at 10 a. m. today in St. Michael and St. George's Episcopal Church, St. Louis. Burial was in Mount Hope cemetery, Belleville.

Oct. 26, 1947 Mrs. Clifford in Program for Symphony Club

Georgia McAdams Clifford, lecturer and president of the American Association of Story Tellers, will provide an unusual program Friday for the Women's Association of the St. Louis Symphony Society. The program-tea, which is an annual event, will be held at 3 p. m. in the St. Louis Woman's Club, 4600 Lindell bl.

Mrs. Clifford's story, "An Hour With Mozart," will entail dramatic incidents from the life of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, immortal composer. Her story will be highlighted by a dance duet of Mozart's period given by Mary Strantz and George Hammer, St. Louis dance team. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Hampton Adams, pianist.

Associated members will bring guests to this tea which marks the opening of the organization's fall activities.

Miss Clifford To Make June Debut

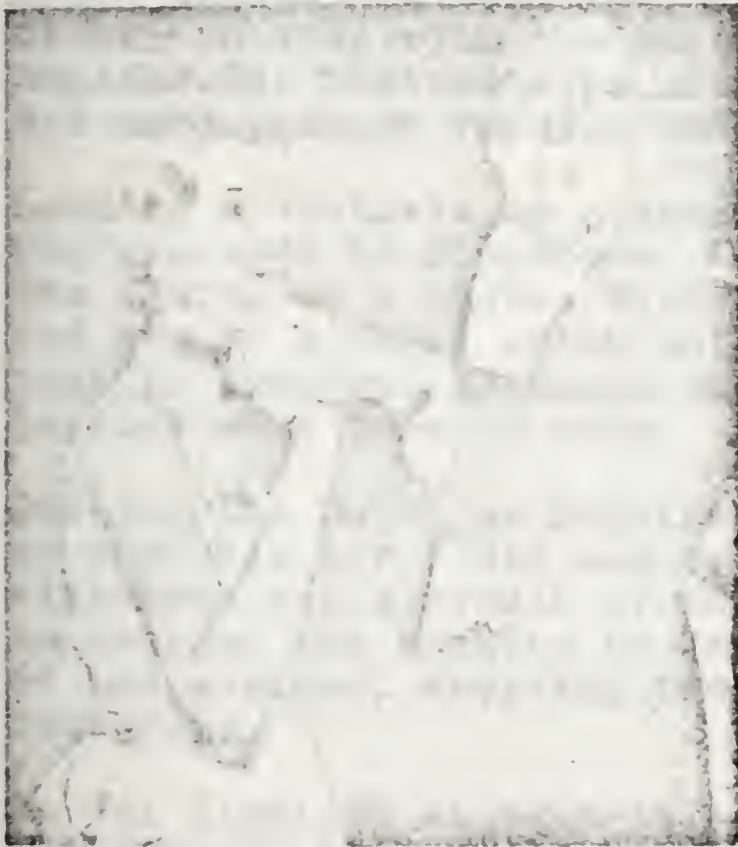

MISS MARGERY CLIFFORD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Clifford, former St. Louisans, now of Washington, D. C., and Rockville, Md., will make her formal bow to society at a tea at the home of her parents in Rockville on June 21. Miss Clifford is a student at George Washington University.

Clark Clifford Liaison With GOP Regime

Clifford, 43, tall and heavy set, was the one time top adviser of President Harry S. Truman and more recently a strategist for Senator Stuart Symington's unsuccessful bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. Born in Kansas and a resident of St. Louis, he graduated from Washington University there and its law school.

Practiced law in St. Louis for 16 years . . . specialist in corporate and labor trial cases. Joined Navy as lieutenant in 1944 . . . was lieutenant commander in Washington a year later when named assistant to Como. James J. Vardaman Jr., then naval aide to Mr. Truman . . . moved up when Vardaman was named to federal reserve board.

Special council to the president 1946 to 1950 . . . Worked on labor problems and service unification . . . Returned to private law practice in Washington. Married to former Margarey P. Kimball . . . One son and two married daughters.

EIGHT YEARS OLDER but game as ever, Clark Clifford, adviser to former President Truman is now adviser to future President Kennedy. During the long layoff, Clifford polished his song routines and along with daughter Randall wowed his New Year's party guests.

220 VIPS On the Floor 1961

The Clark Cliffords' annual beginning-of-the-year party featuring a musical revue by everybody in the family except non-performing Mrs. C., wowed a bigger crowd than ever before. The party was held in the rambling Bethesda, Md., house of this influential adviser to President-elect Kennedy.

Crowded into the Cliffords' main drawing room, where almost all the furniture had been removed so guests could, as usual, sit on every inch of floor space, were 220 people! VIPS cramp together every year to see Clark, his daughters and sons-in-law, Gerry and Bill Lanagan and Joyce and Dick Barrett, and youngest daughter Randall perform.

"Where else would Dean Acheson be willing to sit on the floor for over an hour?" observed a guest.

Jackie Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, was there with her husband, and so were Senators Stuart Symington, Mike Monroney and Clinton Anderson and their spouses; Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Bill Brennan; Inaugural Chairman and Mrs. Ed Foley; defeated Missouri Representative Charlie Brown, who said he's going to stay in Washington come what may, and newsmen Drew Pearson of the Free Press, Edward Morgan and Dick Harkness.

"IT WAS QUITE an eventful year," said Clark as he began.

"Half the people think the Eisenhower administration has been wonderful and half think it's been terrible, but they admire Ike for not getting mixed up in it," he quipped.

Cap't Forrest M.Cox, Veteran of Nine Battlefronts, Now Instructor.

Luke Field, Arizona., (Special)--Fighting 'Savvy' and skill gained on nine battle fronts flying against three members of the Axis, are being imparted to aviation cadets at Luke Field by Cap't Forrest M.Cox, 27, former resident of Alton, who has been assigned to the department of training here.

England, Singapore, Sumatra, Java, Ceylon, North Africa, India, China and Assam were the places where the captain fought in a space of less than a year and a half, meeting Germans, Italians and Japs.

Group effort, not individual prowess, is what brings down enemy planes, Cap't Cox says, dismissing his personal 'Bag' of enemy planes as unimportant, although he holds three foreign citations. One is a Ceylonese citation awarded for his part in a battle in which 34 planes shot down 58 out of more than 100 attacking Jap Zeros.

"It was a cinch", the captain said. "We had Hurricanes mounting four cannons and the battle was just an example of what good equipment used in a group effort can do. We all stuck together and there were no stragglers."

After civilian flying in Decatur, Ill and at mines in South Africa and Honduras, Cap't Cox began his military career in 1941 with the Eagle Squadron of the RAF in England. The blitzes were still on, and the squadron was used against raiders and on convey patrols.

Landing at Batavia as a catapult pilot on a freighter, Cox was sent to Singapore, arriving there as its siege was coming to a close. When Singapore was evacuated, he was one of a party which sailed and rowed a 40 foot boat to Samatra. Although the journey was only 140 miles it took more than 10 days.

Joining the Dutch on Sumatra, he turned guerrilla fighter when his air field was evacuated. One of his Dutch citations was a result of this jungle fighting. Later he crossed the straits to Java in a 20 foot boat. Because of bad weather, crossing the 18 miles to Java consumed four days.

Aerial fighting at Batavia and Bandoeng on Java brought the captain his second Dutch citation. While on a testing flight near Bangoeng, he found himself cut off from the field by a squadron of Jap bombers and two squadrons of Jap fighters. His plane was shot down and after bailing out, he was strafed on the ground by the Japs. Wounded twice in the leg, he was forced to walk three miles to a plantation to receive first aid.

Escape from Java

Three attempts were made by Cap't Cox and eight others to leave Java in an airplane when evacuation was ordered. Each time they were forced back by naval gun fire. The captain finally made his way to Ceylon on a Chinese river boat with accommodations for 56 but carrying more than 500. Bully beef for food, little water, scarcity of medicine and clothes did little to increase the comfort of the 15 day trip.

Two air battles in Ceylon were followed by fighting against Germans and Italians in North Africa and duty in Northwest India for which he received a general service medal.

Commissioned in the American Army as a first lieutenant, Aug. 29, 1941 at Delhi, India, Cox was sent to China for a short period. He was in Assam, north of Burma in the autumn during a three day raid by the Japs. While there he contracted double pneumonia and was sent to the hospital at Karachi, India. Flown home via the African route, he received his captaincy March 20th while at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D.C.

On March 28th, he married Miss Phebe McAdams, daughter of Mrs. John D. McAdams, 1407 Liberty St. Alton, Ill. His sister, Mrs. Paul Pruitt, resides at 535 East Fifth Street, Alton, Illinois.--Alton Evening Telegraph, Scots Ancestry Research Society

4 North St. David Street,
Edinburgh 2 Scotland

16th May, 1950

"It does seem quite certain that the entry in the register of Whitekirk parish referring to the birth of SUSAN MELROSE on the 9th November, 1821, is the correct one.

The Society will be pleased to carry out a further search for records relating to this family, but, as pointed out in our letter of the 26th April, 1948, this may prove difficult" etc.

13th July, 1950 "

" We have spent a great deal of time on your search but unfortunately the results are not very satisfactory. It very often happens in ancestry tracing that a great deal of time is spent with little result. The one definite fact we have ascertained is the birth of Susan the daughter of William Melrose. This was the entry found by us before in the registers of Whitekirk in East Lothian. The entry reads as follows-

BIRTH

9.11.1821 SUSAN MELROSE, daughter of WILLIAM MELROSE, labourer at Scaughal and AGNES VERTIE, his wife. Witnesses Wm. MELROSE and JOHN VERTIE

Having found this entry we proceeded to search the records of the following contiguous parishes for the births of other children of WILLIAM MELROSE-

Whitekirk; North Berwick; Prestonkirk: Dunbar:
Athelstaneford: Dirlestone and Haddington.

These long and laborious researches proved fruitless.

The only mention of the Melrose family is in the parish of Athelstaneford in which there are several references to a WILLIAM MELROSE who was a witness at the births of the children of a JAMES MELROSE and CHRISTIAN STORRIE.

We also searched the Census return for the year 1841 and in the parish of Athelstaneford we found the following entry-
CENSUS of 1841--ATHELSTANEFORD.

WILLIAM MELROSE, aged 50, agricultural labourer.

AGNES MELROSE, aged 50.

ELIZABETH MELROSE, aged 20

MARGARET MELROSE, aged 15

We also searched the records of Whitekirk parish for any trace of the marriage of WILLIAM MELROSE and AGNES VERTIE, but in this we were unsuccessful also.

I am afraid you will be disappointed with the results of our efforts. Many of the old parish registers are incomplete and it often happens that no trace of actual vital facts can be found.

The actual cost of the work done --etc etc.

The following was copied from Louisa Maria Dougherty Cadwallader's letter, (Aunt Lou). Why the different birth date given can't be explained by me.

SUSAN MELROSE had 2 brothers and 4 sisters, namely:

Susan Melrose(Millross) was born Oct.17,1825 on the seacoast near Haddington, Scotland, which was near Glasco. Her mother, father, sister Margaret and she started by sailboat to America in 1847. The mother was buried at sea and the father on landing at New Orleans, La. The girls continued by flatboat up the Mississippi R. to Grafton, Illinois where they were met by their brother William. He took them by oxtteam to his farm near Otterville. They had spent 9 weeks crossing the ocean. The father was a landsape gardner in Scotland and the mother was Agnes Vestie born in the parish of Whitekirk.

Susan Melrose Dougherty died August 23,1908, southeast of Otterville, where she had lived in Jersey Co. I was young when Grandma passed away but upon entering her old home for the first time since leaving that County, some 32 years before on December 4th, 1941, (that being the day my own mother was laid to rest in the Noble cemetery), I imagined I could still see her sitting in her little, low rocker, with her white cap and apron, and a shawl around her shoulders as she had sat many time when I had been taken to her home in years passed. My mother, like her mother was of very small stature, possibly not more than five feet tall, and weighing less than one hundred pounds. Her flower garden was always a thing of beauty so it is only natural that her children both sons and daughters and grandchildren were and are very fond of flowers.

John George Dougherty, my Mother's father, was born at Kingston, Mississippi July 28, 1820. His brothers were James and William Y. and his sister Nancy Ann Dougherty Chase-Curry Noble. (See Henry Noble elsewhere in book). The farm owned by the J.G.D's is still owned by John G.III-his grandson.

John G. Dougherty and Susan Melrose or Millross as it was incorrectly written were married Apr. 27, 1848 by Jep. Terry-Justice of the Peace. He was Charles Terry's grandfather. Charley Terry was one of the Pallbearers for my mother, Leonora I. Noble, Dec. 4, 1941. Charley Terry passed on, during the Summer of 1947.

Mary Ann, Elizabeth and Betsy Melrose remained in Scotland, according to Uncle Will Dougherty, Oct. 28, 1947. (Their nephew).

William Y. Dougherty and William Becket Foules, only brother of Jannet Maria Foules and wife of William Y. were in the mercantile business together for a while at Kingston, Mississippi before the former moved to Illinois.

Wm. Y. not T as sometimes found, son of Wm. & Elizabeth McLelland O'Dougharty-born Feb. 4, 1788 probably at Milledgeville, S.C. married Sept. 3, 1817 at the home of Thomas Eaton, Adams Co. Miss. and moved Oct. 20, 1833 to Jersey Co. Ill. Jannet Maria Foules was born Mar. 1789, in New York- a niece of Cap't Amos Ogden, died Sept. 3, 1862 at the home of her daughter Annie Eliza Curtiss.

The Dougherty's sold to John Ogden for $3300.00, 2800 acres of land "situated and being on the water of Sammy's Creek, being land formerly sold to Wm. Dougherty by John and Sally Odgen by deed dated September 30, 1823".

Elizabeth McLelland Dougherty was married to Mr. Coney and to this union were born:

John Coney

Joseph "

Janet "

Mary Ann

William

The Mother as Mrs. Coney lived with William Y. & his wife Jennet Maria Foules, since Jennet Maria often spoke of caring for Wm. Y's mother.

The name Foules-spelled like this -is found in one of the Scott's Novels, Heart of Midlothian.

Jennet Maria or Janet, spelled both ways in the same records and her brother William Becket were left orphans at an early age. Their Aunt Sallie or Sarah Matilda Dougharty Ogden took charge of and raised them. They were the niece & nephew of Amos Ogden. She was later married to Captain John Ogden, but they, nor was she related, altho they had the same name. The Ogden's lived in New York City, diagonally across from the Trinity C Church. The Ogdens left New York in 1804, traveling by land to Pittsburgh, from which place they took a flatboat and went to Natchez, Miss. settling on the Mandamus grant of land in Adams Co.

William B. Foules, although only four years old remembered the funeral of Alexander Hamilton, who was killed in a duel by Aaron Burr. There seems to have been a very deep attachment between the brother & sister, in keeping in their families and in giving to their children each others names.

William B. Foules bought two Plantations from Cap't John Ogden. Nothing is known of these two Foules children except that they were of Scottish descent. Both of them had drawings of the Ogden Coat of Arms, granted to the family by Charles II as King. Jeannette Dougherty has seen this Coat of Arms in the Ogden Genealogy in the Newberry Library in Chicago, Ill. She (Jeannette D.) has an old land grant dated 1773, and signed by Amos & John Ogden.

Captain John Ogden was buried in the Foules lot at Kingston, Mississippi. His grave was seen by Theo Dodson Ryan and M.B.N. Feiner and her family May 19th, 1942. It was a large, dark stone with the following inscription upon it.

"Captain John Ogden-Died Nov. 25, 1825-age 60 years.

How much beloved now avails thee not
By whom remembered or by whom forgot Yet on thy grave shall fall affections for Paternal hold thy memory dear
Best, dearest husband here rest thy aged head.

Safe on the pillows of the silent dead
For thou stern death conceals thee neath the sod
Thous't not to death resigned but to thy God
Why should I tremble to convey
His body to the tomb
There once the flesh of Jesus lay and left a long perfume".

William Y. Dougherty in 1812, went with a filibustering party to Texas. He was taken prisoner and was held as such for some time but escaped with others by the aid of Mexican women who secreted arms to them. It is stated that 2,500 American and Mexicans were killed in the Battle of San Jacinto 1812. In returning the soldiers lived on horseflesh without salt. This expedition was organized with the Mexicans as an independent government, in what is now the state of Texas. After his death his wife tried to secure a pension but was unable to do so because in making application she wrote her husband's name Wm. Y and he had signed all papers Wm. Dougherty.

After leaving Mississippi, Wm. Y. Dougherty and family stopped for a few months in Belleville, Illinois. There he bought a house, two or three lots and ran a store for a short time. Among his goods were some fine silk shawls for which there was no sale, until his wife set the style by wearing one to church. Leaving Belleville Sep't 1832 he moved to Otter Creek, Ill. and was one of the first settlers. He bought land which is part of the farm still owned by his great grandson, John G. III. The double log cabin was near the spring, one end used as a kitchen, with an entry between, the other end was used as the dining hall. It was a few hundred feet west of John G.'s present home. The log cabin had been built two years before by Thomas Hamilton, and was purchased from Tommy White. Samuel Lofton had lived in it for a short while, while his own cabin near by, was being built. William Y. as his marker shows, died in this cabin and was buried in the Family cemetery on the farm, which is on the west side of the road. The third frame house built in Otter Creek is the old part of Uncle John's present home, which was built by Janet M.F. D.

My dear Friend:

I now take this opportunity of writing to you, although I intended writing long since but cold weather and nursing and other things too tedious to mention has engrossed my time so insensibly that I hardly know how it has passed away. The reception of your letter was truly gratifying to my feelings and I shall always prize the kind wishes of my dear friend for my happiness and regret that I am not more deserving of them. When I heard of the sufferings you experienced I sincerely sympathised with you but they are passed and I hope will never be renewed. You had one consolation in your afflictions of seeing your family, well around you and that blessing I know you valued. Mother has been sick more this winter than usual, she has had three attacks St. Anthony's fire in her head and face. She is now pretty well if it were not for rheumatic pains in her hands and wrists. She thanks you for your kind remembrance of her and says her prayers and good wishes ever shall attend you. I think of making a trip to Brother J.D's next summer if nothing happens to prevent me, more than I expect. Oh how I long for the time to come, when you will visit us that we may enjoy your beloved society again. I want to see the children very much. I am glad to hear that Eliza and Mary are fond of going to school. Tell them I hope they will be like the little busy Bee, improving every hour, as for Henry I suppose he had little respite from school so as to begin afresh. You requested me to write how Mr. Wm's is making out but I can write nothing that is pleasing to myself or that would be interesting to you, except that the children are well. I was at a camp meeting last Oct.
near Washington and was much pleased with the good order and regularity of it and was sorry I could not be there throughout the meeting. Oh that I could experience that change of heart that I think is prone to evil that I sometimes fear I never shall Excuse the errors committed in this for I am out of candles and had to write by light of the fire.

Kiss little Thomas for me and remember me to the other children. May health and happiness attend you is the sincere wish of your unalterable friend.

J.M. Dougherty

P.S. Jenny presents her respects to yourself and children and Adah. She has had a felon on her right hand for three weeks past and has to keep her hand in a sling constantly.

Pleasant Hill, May 12, 1823

My dear Friend: (Sarah K. Eaton)

Middletown, Ky.

Do not think me neglectful in not writing more frequent to you, I should have written sooner but was in hopes to have received a letter ere this, for never will I cease to esteem friendship, I have always prized. Oh my dear friend, there is nothing more grateful to my feelings, than your affection because I know it is sincere. We had the pleasure of hearing of Mr. Eaton's safe return but nothing particular from you and the children. Mother has been so ill since he left here that we despaired of her life, but through the blessings of indulgent Heaven, she is again recovering her health, she was confined for nearly six weeks, she is still very feeble. Father Coney's health is not good, the rest of us are well. My little Louisa M. was a year old the 29th of April (1823) and has but one tooth. She is larger than John was at two years, Eliza is very fond of going to school but does not learn as fast as I had anticipated. I saw Aunt Luce yesterday at meeting, she is well. Sister Farrar and family are in health. Aunt Carys health was better than it has been for some time, when I heard from her last, her daughter Lydia King died the Friday previous to Mr. Eaton's leaving Natchez. Mother Coney was with her in her last hours and says she left this world triumphant in hope of eternal Happiness. Mrs. H. Swayze too is gone, in full assurance of acceptance with her God, for three days before she died she exhorted all around her to love the Lord and hate sin, everyone present was sensibly affected. Mr. N. Luce shed tears plentiful, he was very attentive to her and with her brothers. Archy B. has the children. Mrs S. Swayze is taken from her little family after a tedious and painful illness, she has born without a murmur. She was in her perfect senses till nature was exhausted. A mortification had taken place in her throat half an hour before she died, a blood vessel broke and the blood issued out of her mouth in a stream, she kept throwing water in her face as long as she could raise her hand and then motioned to those around her to continue, her loss to her family & friends can never be repaired. Mrs. M. Swayze has care of the babe, it is a fine healthy child, Mrs. Foules has the little girl and the two boys are living with their Father & going to school. Oh, my dear friend transient is life and our time in this world to secure our eternal happiness. Religion is the only thing that can support us in a dying hour, all is emptiness and vanity in comparison to it. I am determined to be more watchful over my wicked heart than I have been and devote more of my time unprofitable as it is to my God.

We have some encouragement about religion in Jersey-Settlement, there are sixteen in society, Aunt Lydia Swayze has become a member & Rebecca Pernell. We have meetings once in two weeks on Friday and Class meeting on Sunday. Brother G.D. is our Class leader. Remember us in your prayers. Aunt Ogden is well, we have had no news of Sister Curry since she left this. I am afraid she has as much hardship as ever to encounter. I intend to visit her this summer if I can. Eliza Dougharty does not have very good health, the rest of the family are well. I am anxious to hear from you, write as soon as you can. Mother joins me in love to you and the children. Adieu may every blessing be yours is the sincere wish of your affectionate friend.

My respects to Mr. Eaton and your Uncle Wallace.

Jennet M. Dougharty

P.S. Mr Eaton (Thos)

I add this note at the bottom to (call to your) mind that I shall expect my gin kegs and grater by at furthest the first of July. I have got my gin house. I am once made some progress at the press. I wish you would write to me on the receipt of this and state at what time I shall apply for them in Natchez. I am ever your proud and obedient sev't.

Favor'd by Mr. Eaton.

My dear Friend: (Sarah K. Eaton-Middletown, Goose Creek, Ky.

I have long been anxious to go to see you but my physician thought it would not do for me to go till the roads got better. When I left home it was with the idea of going to your place. I have been in a low state of health ever since I weaned my last babe. Mr. Dougharty was advised to let me come up the country as the means of restoring me but contrary to my expectations my Brother brought me on to the and left money to defray my expense till Mr. Dougharty arrives in the spring. I have lately received a letter, he writes that they are all well except Mother Coney. She has been confined to her bed for most of the winter. I want to describe to you my feelings but can not find language to express them, my health is very good except a weakness in my breast which I feel at times. I felt much relieved when I got to hear from my beloved Family and of their all doing well and want to hear from you very much, if it is in Mr. Eaton's power to come for me. I will stay with you till Mr. D. comes. He wrote me that he could not leave home till he got his crop planted and then he would lose no time in coming for me. The Family that have the care of the house are a very good Family but still I can't feel my mind reconciled till I get to see you after coming _____. I want to be with you and kiss your sweet babes and tell of all difficulties I met with on my way here and to go home once more. I have not been more than a hundred _____ the house since I came here. The Dr. prohibited my going to Church and the only recourse I had was remembrance of the happy hours I had enjoyed in attending the House of Worship and the hope of one day or other of enjoying that pleasure again. I brought a letter for you from Sister Farrar and expect my Brother put it in the office as I could not find it in my trunk. Mr. D writes there has not been a sick person in the neighborhood since last fall.

Indesposition prevented my finishing this immediately, since Sat. I received 2 letters from Mr. D. He writes that all are well, but he does not say what time he will come for me, he has been clearing & will be later in planting his crop than usual.

My health at present is very good, I feel extremely anxious to stay a little while with you before I go home. My situation here is so different from what I have ever been used to that it really unpleasant here, entirely among strangers and no opportunity of going to meetings has been a great grief to my mind. I felt some delicacy in soliciting Mr. Eaton to come for me, knowing that he most generally is pretty much engaged but if he can come, it shall be no expense or trouble to him if I can prevent it. Mr. D. wrote that he wished my desire to go to your house to be gratified if possible. I have sent word to Mr. Ticklen, the gentleman that has my account to come to see me but was disappointed in not seeing him. I long to get away from the noise and confusion of this place, there are too many _____ tinate beings in it, that it is truly pitiable to see _____. I am much pleased with the looks of this country. Winter was remarkably mild to what I thought it would be, owing to the late frosts. I fear you will be disappointed in having any fruit. If it is not in Mr. Eaton's power to come soon for me, please do write. Give my love to _____ Mary & Henry.

Kiss your lovely babes for me. My respect to Mr. Eaton & your Uncle Wallace. Excuse my bad writing and blotted letter. May Health & Happiness attend you is the sincere wish of your Affectionate,

Jennet M. Dougherty

Letters bore no stamps but had been sealed with wax and sent by messenger or friend. The holes in the letters were where the wax had rotted the paper.

The following are excerpts from letters written to Mother or to me by her sisters and brothers:

Feb. 8th, 1910

My Dear Sister:

"I promised to write to you last week but we decided to have the butchering done, so I was busy. We had Hamp N. (ewberry) and Lester Cope do all of it but making the sausage. It is an expensive way of having it done but I am glad to get out of cleaning up all of that grease. They charge $1.00 per head. Willie and Leslie had them kill five for them. She had had a letter that day from another of their sisters Rena and she said that Winifred and her husband (Roger Treadwell) have started on their long journey. They are going to San Frisco via New Orleans. They will go on the Transport Sheridan which is carrying the 19th Infantry to Manila. They expected to be on route 40 days, stopping at Honolulu, Guam. Manila, HongKong, Shanghai, Najaski Koki. They were to leave the transport at Manila and take a steamer from there. They took 5 trunks. Mr. Treadwell's mother, father & his sister were to sail Feb. 8th, 1910 for London to have Miss Jessie presented to the Queen in March. I would not mind to have the honor of meeting Queen Alexandra myself as I think she is a very sensible woman but I do not think I will go". Love Lou.

My Dear Sister:

"Cyrus Sisson has the best record of the Dougherty's that I know of. He got it from his Uncle Henry Eaton. The Nobles, Hamiltons, Eatons & Doughertys are all related. When Susan Noble was here she copied part of it. I think Stephen Beck can tell a lot about it too because he wrote me something about our relationship.

Love to all!" Lou

My Dear Sister:

"Well we have bargained for Fred Chappell's home in McClusky and they are coming up (to N.D.) to visit you in the latter part of August in LaVerne's new auto. He expects to go back to play ball in a month or so but he can not bear any weight on his toe so I would not think he could play much ball. (he was with White Sox of Chicago. Fred & Blanche expect to go to California in Feb. to see her sister Bertha." Love Lou.

Dear Sister:

"We have been here three weeks and I am just beginning to get rested from moving. Leslie & Ross went down to see Wesley. They went into his office and set down their grips and asked if there was any saloons in the town. Wesley said "No Sir", then they went out and went back and asked him if they could borrow some money on their grips--then he realized who they were. Mrs Tidball stayed with Stella & Lila, and helped can peaches. She had heard from Rena & she planned to visit Jersey Co. in Sept. but Winifred had returned from Yocohoma."

Dear Birdie:

"I was surprised to get a letter from you. I don't know what month my birthday does come in--as well as I can remember you missed it a few jumps. (Born Feb.5th.) The last time I remember seeing you, you were trailing around here in short pants. Otterville still has the same name, but the population has changed all together, all kinds of people, good, bad and different. We've had a warm winter--grass & wheat has not been colored by frost, green as it was last fall. Last Wednesday night Marie Smith (Walter's daughter) was married. The hoodlums thought she was married last Sunday and set Wed. to charivari them. They got there before the ceremony was said, some mix up. The brides dress--white satin--low cut--high cut with short sleeves-- Regards to all-- Yours truly,

Dear Niece:

"Thanks for your letter of sympathy. You can imagine how painful it would be - to be hung up on a gate hinge by your nose and have to have some one lift you up to unhook it. A few stitches, court plaster and a little salve will fix it up I guess, unless complications set in. I am fine at present-

We are loafing along in about the same old way as when you were here.

I forgot to state above it was not me that was hurt. It was John-they got the name wrong in the paper. It did not amount to anything" Yours truly, George

Dear Birdie:

"Was both surprised and pleased to receive the box of delicious candy the other day. It is just my kind and very good indeed. It is so nice and fresh-had no idea you are such a "master of the art". My St. L. friend sent me a box of cookies for Christmas that I think were made for Christmas 1941. Took all the strength I have to break one in two with both hands and when soaked in coffee didn't taste like anything. She said they were bought at one of the good places but she got stung as I sometimes do.

We are enjoying all kinds of weather this winter, more rain than usual, some snow and some really cold days that hustled me to keep warm. Notice my hands do not keep warm as they used to do. Suppose the circulation is dropping down into second gear.

Hurt my back one day and it took gigantic efforts to get in and out of bed. Gee but it hurt and I wondered how in the dickens I'd ever get the chores done but managed to patch myself up some way that I got thru without calling for help. Was so near down and out I neglected to write Minnie for several weeks. She finally wrote and wanted to know what is the matter. That maybe she had done something to offend me. We have for the past 15 or 20 years been writing to each other every other Friday. She thinks it's fun and I am willing to do that much if it gives her pleasure. (Minnie was my 1st grade teacher).

I get to town occasionally to get something to eat and that is the extent of my travels. Am always glad when night comes, work is done and I can read or listen to radio. Instead of sleeping upstairs in the cold as I have always done - moved my bed into the parlor and it is a grand improvement. John went to be inducted into the army and three days before Franklin made a new ruling exempting all over 38 so that left him out. Heard part of Eleanor's speech recently telling about things she saw on her trip. She has the same line as her husband has and it does not interest me. Every young fellow has gone to the war and no one is left to hire and the ones left will not work.

Again thanking you and with very best wishes to all of you - As ever".

--He Lived a Life--

What was his creed?

I do not know his creed. I only know
That here below he walked the common road
And lifted many a load, lightened the task,
Brightened the day for others toiling on a weary way;
This, his only need: I do not know his creed.

What was his creed? I never heard him speak
Of visions rapturous, of Alpine peak
Of doctrine, dogma, new or old;
But this I know, he was forever bold
To stand alone, to face the challenge of the day
And live the truth, so far as he could see--
The truth that evermore makes free.

His creed? I care not what his creed:
Enough that never yielded he to greed,
But served a brother in his daily need;
Plucked many a thorn and planted many a flower:
Glorified the service of each hour:
Had faith in God, himself, and fellow men:
Perchance he never thought in terms of creed;
I only know he lived a life, in deed!

William H. Dougherty (above) was named for both of his Grandfather's Wm. Melrose and Wm. Y Dougherty. In writing of his honeymoon he wrote "Went from Grafton to Piewood, (Nilwood, Ill. per his son Leslie, Oct.28,1947) stayed overnight". Lived first in Girard, bought furniture March 4th. Later lived on farm now managed by his son Leslie M. east of Otterville, Ill. He and his wife Aunt Winona or Nona lived across the street from the school in Otterville for a number of years. Uncle George joined them after Grandma's death and after Aunt Nona died the two brothers lived together and kept house. At first they had breakfasts at home and the other two meals with a Mrs. Greene who lived near by but later had all meals with Leslie & wife and one could set ones time piece by their punctual trips up the road toward the old home. Uncle George passed on March 8,1938.

George Dougherty, Farmer, 85, Dies Near Otterville

Landholder Had Large Collection of Indian Relics 1938

JERSEYVILLE, March 8, (Special)—George Dougherty, 85-year-old resident of Jersey county, died this morning at his home near Otterville.

Dougherty was born on the old John Dougherty farm near to Otterville and has lived all of his life in that section. His parents were John and Susan Dougherty, who were prominent farmers in that section, prospering in the farming business.

George Dougherty though a large holder of farming lands and a prosperous and careful farmer, also had a love of hunting and of curio collecting and the study of wild plants. At his Otterville home he had one of the finest collections of Indian artifacts such as arrows and axes to be found in this section. In his yard were wild flowers and curious growths.

In Otterville Mr. Dougherty had been an outstanding citizen in all matters of public interest and it was he who took good care of the Dr. Hamilton monument, which was erected by Hamilton's former slave, George Washington. Mr. Dougherty had known Washington personally as a youth and respected the colored man and his memory.

Mr. Dougherty and his brother, William, a few years younger, have for many years lived in a home in Otterville, where they had easy access to their farm lands. Both these farmers, though now in their eighties, were familiarly known in the Otterville section as good horsemen and were daily seen on horseback, going over their lands.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p. m. Thursday, March 10.

My dear Lee:

Your letter came yesterday and I am glad to hear from you--my mind is out there all the time. I was sorry that I came away when I did but I certainly was there at the right time to render a service to Mother and help care for her for a while before she died. I am so glad that the end came so peacefully and without a struggle, she certainly has suffered enough in all that time--when she could not sleep or lie down. I really have some very pleasant memories when she would feel better and she would say some of her little smart things and sing and then would ask the Lord to take her away. She did it all in such an angelic way that it was touching, sometimes. I never shall forget the morning she had you dressed to go to the graveyard and after a while decided you were not to go, because they wouldn't serve tea. Well I am glad it is all over the old must die, and her end came more peacefully than I ever could imagine it would. I had visions of a repetition of Uncle William Melrose's death which was something terrible--he lingered so long and starved to death.

In the box we have put a lot of things that I thought the children might like to dress up in--just for fun--then those little things for a fishing pool are some that were left in some play they had at school. Give the youngsters a party and have a fishing pool for their guests. Invite little John (G. Dougherty) and have him ride his pony so D can teach him how to get on. Do let me hear from you soon. All join me in love to all.

Affectionately,

My dear Lee:

We had quite a pleasant surprise last Saturday. A young man came to the door and said he wished to see Mrs. Reed. When I arrived I found Wesley R. Noble there, straight from Arkansas City. He came here on his way to Kenona W. Va. He seemed to be looking for a new locality in which to live. He looks very well but very thin and more like the Dougherty family than any grand child I have seen. He looks like John, has that air of sincerety that makes one like him and he inspires confidence. He came Saturday afternoon and left for W.Va. Sunday at noon. Then he came back Monday night and went straight through to St. Louis, where he was going to see Theda and Leslie and all of the other Jerseyville friends and relatives. Your family has taken two extreme climates but I think the North Dakota is the safer one. Write to me soon.

Aff.

Dear Lee:

The potatoes came all right and I thank you and Milton for them. They certainly came in well with all the disturbance we are having with transportation and food supplies.

North Dakota weather has at last smacked us and we are well snowed in today with zero weather this morning but it is milder this evening.

We are getting on very well at home but it is Oh! so lonesome. Write me every once in a while and tell me all about yourself and Milton and the family. I send my love to all and with the best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Affectionately,

Charlie.

Feb. 1910

Winifred and Roger Treadwell left the U.S. for Hong Kong, China

July 24, 1913

Winifred had been home for two months ill.

Sept. 1917

Winifred had been at home but had gone to N.Y. to take up first aid Red Cross work.

Oct. 24, 1917

Uncle Charles Reed had been ill 12 weeks with an infection of the blood vessels in the brain that had caused trouble to his left hand and leg, but no paralysis.

Dec. 1, 1917 Uncle Charles was able to walk around the room, leg ok but arm was still lame. Winifred is kept busy with this baby. Billy is a beautiful boy-understands everything but talks very little. He is 29 months old. We are all crazy about him & he is so much company. Lawson's second girl they call Little Lawson.

Jan.6th, 1918

Uncle Charles was in New Orleans on his way to visit his sister Kate, until the last of March, in California.

Spring 1918-(Finis Noble was Overseas)

We are quite alone now, Winifred has gone to Vassar to take a nursing course. I am hoping that she will like it and not find it too hard because she is not very well but she wanted to do it so we said yes. I am bringing up the little 3 year old soldier.

Aug.12,1918

Uncle Charles and Aunt Rena had been driven to Watkins Glen, N.Y and Florence (the maid) is caring for the baby in spite of the hot weather.

Oct.24,1918 Lawson Reed is now at the front, in the St Mihiel section.Reginald Reed and Walter Seward are in the draft but they seem to be farming just the same. Winifred is in N.Y. doing some Red Cross work and wants to stay there awhile. Charlie has gone to Washington. He is wearing the Uniform of a Major and mad because he is not in the thick of the battles over there.

Dec. 29,1918

Charlie, Winifred and little Billy and I are all well.

Feb.8,1919

Winifred is in Florida and she seems to be having a good time, so she will stay until she feels like coming home again. Poor child, I don't think Roger(treadwell) will ever come back to this country from Hong Kong and my opinion is that she is better off without him altho it is hard to make her think so. Our baby here is now 3½ years old and we all adore him -he is really a beautiful child, but not as smart or quick as Pauline.She will be 3 years this month. Little Lawson (Priscilla) is just 16 months. She has black hair and Polly thinks she looks like Lawson. Aff. Rena

In 1924 Dr. Charles Alfred Lee Reed, wrote and had published a book, the Foreword said, "It is the purpose of this book to give to the many people who knew and loved C.Lawson Reed some tangible expression of his life, character and achievements and to perpetuatefor them in writing the influence of his life upon his fellow men."

A copy of this book was sent to the writer of these records also a realistic novel "The First Estate" written by Dr. C.A.L.Reed also a short story written by Lawson's sister Winifred, " The Belated Letter," a Christmas story illustrated by the author, which my Mother gave me in 1915. All three books are highly prized possessions.

In notifying my Mother of his wife's death he wrote, " Yes, dear Lee, she's gone! your beloved sister, the best, the dearest woman of all the world has passed to her great reward. Thus passed away a woman who in all her life never did one wrong thing; who loved and was loved and whose memory is and always will be a sweet inspiration to all who ever knew her. So I must not complain, but bear it as each has said we must, bravely- and "Carry on." And so must you, dear Lee, you and all your family who must grieve, even as they loved her."

Affectionately

Charlie.

March 29, 1929-New York-Park Avenue friends have learned of a love at first sight romance of Miss Metta Louise Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin Orr of New York. On a world cruise she met Roger Culver Treadwell when the boat touched Hong Kong. Two days later (Easter) they announced their engagement. The ceremony took place at the American consulate, April 23, 1929. He is consul-general.

April 19, 1950 The Department of State-Washington, D.C. wrote "The records of the Department indicate that Mr. Roger C. Treadwell's present address is Whipstick Road, Nob Hill, Ridgeville, Connecticut.

Sarah Matilda said she had never heard her mother say anything of herself except that she was quite young when her parents died and that Aunt Sarah Ogden raised her and her brother William Becket Foules. She was of Scottish descent. Jennet Maria spelled her name as given and not Janet-and her last name Daugharty.

Dear Lee

Pierce City, Mo.

Jan.22,1917

Dear Lee:

My sister Mary (Mrs F.M.Johnson) died yesterday evening between 6 & 7 after a weeks illness of pneumonia. I am so grieved, she was always so good to us, we've lost our best friend. It seems like all the ones I love best are leaving me. Rachael was in Hastings, Neb. Her Mother had been dead several hours before she got home. She, Mary, was not dangerously ill until Friday, when she took a turn for the worse. They did not think it necessary to alarm Rachel for it was a long, hard trip. We are all so broken up I cannot write any more. It has been so long since I have heard from you. Write me soon. Hope you are all well.

Lovingly,

Emma O.Gatewood

Henry Dougherty, the father of the above family changed the spelling of Doughharty to ert_y. He followed farming until 1860 when he was engaged in milling as one of the proprietors of the Otter Creek Mills, his partner being J.M.Terry. He was elected Justice of the Peace in the Fall of 1853, and he continued to hold that office for 12 years. He was appointed Postmaster of Otterville, in 1861 which position he still held in 1872.

The following was read at the funeral of Rachel H. Dougherty Walker, at Pasadena, Cal.

For still her holy living meant
The heavenly and the human blent
Their kindred loves in one.

She kept her line of rectitude
With love's unconscious ease;
Her kindly instincts understood
All gentle courtesies.

The dear Lord's best interpreters
Are humble human sould;
The Gospel of a life like hers
Is more than books or scrolls.

Thos. B. Noble Christened At Home On Sunday Feb. 191956

Thomas Benjamin, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Noble, was christened Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at the Noble home on Lott Street by the Reverend J. T. Lillard, pastor of Holy Cross Episcopal Church in this city. The baby was born November 16, 1955.

Misses Jane Ann and Julia Lee Noble, sisters of the baby, are the Godmothers and the infant's father and cousin, William Noble and Bill Woodman, served as proxies for Roger and Ronald Newman of Soencer, Iowa, the baby's God-fathers.

Thomas Benjamin wore the christening dress of his cousin, Bill Woodman. The dress was also worn by the baby's four older sisters, Jane Ann, Julia Lee, Claudia Marie and Willia Georgine at their christenings.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Noble entertained at a christening dinner. The occasion also marked the seventeenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Noble which occurred that day, and the fourteenth birthday anniversary of their daughter, Julia Lee, which occurred on Monday.

Guests at the dinner in addition to the Noble family were Reverend Lillard, Mrs. Verna Woodman and son, Bill, and the latter's fiancée, Miss Marjorie Ringhansen.

Mrs. Noble was the daughter of the late William J., and Anne Baugh Fuller and was born in Jersey County on January 20, 1877. Her age at the time of death was seventy-seven years, four months and twenty-eight days. She was a member of Holy Cross Church, Episcopal.

The decedent is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Verna Woodman of Jerseyville, and one son, William Noble, of Alton, and five grandchildren, Billy Woodman of this city, Jane Ann, Julia Lee, Claudia Marie and Willia Georgene Noble of Alton.

Major Isaac Noble of North Tawton and Bristol, England emigrated to New Jersey. He was a Major in the Volunteers. As he was a loyalist during the American Revolution and supposed to be a dangerous man, a price was offered for his head, and he was waylaid and murdered. His body was never found, altho his horse returned to his former home, bearing the marks of a violent struggle. A portion of his property was destroyed, and a part confiscated.

James B.Noble 1st married Sarah Lamb in 1801, daughter of James Lamb of Rye, Sussex Co. England. She died in 1818.

Rear-Admiral James--son of Major Isaac Noble, resided in England. He entered the British Navy as a midshipman in 1787 in the Bedford, and served on her in Hotham's Action.

James B.Noble's 2nd marriage in 1820 was to Dorothy Halliday daughter of Dr. Halliday. She died about 1838.

James B.Noble's 3rd marriage was in 1842 to Mrs. Jane Ann Spettigue, widow of Edmund Spettigue.

SOUTH CAROLINA UNDER ROYAL GOVERNMENT
1717-1776 by McCrady

In 1690, several years before the English settlers on the Ashley, knew that such as the Cherokees existed, one Cornelius Dougherty a trader from Virginia ventured to take up his residence among them for the purpose of traffic and trading.

CORNELIUS DOUGHERTY, the oldest trader among the Cherokees, whose trading house stood in the town of Tagaloo as late as 1755, anticipated, if the winter that year was but tolerably favorable for hunting, collecting from his district alone in the nation 14,000 buckskin leathers. Three years before the entire nation had been mapped off into 13 hunting ranges or districts and a trader appointed to every one. Estimating these, says Logan, at but $\frac{2}{3}$ of what Dougherty expected gathering, the production of the entire Cherokee Country, would be more than 100,000 pounds of buckskin leather besides the abundant supply of skins from other wild animals. The average weight of deerskins is 4# to the skin, there being little difference in the weight, dry or raw. Dougherty expected therefore, observes Logan, the hunters in the Tagaloo range to bring down with their rifles 3500 deer, making the whole nation about 25,000 annually. In 1755, 100 deerskins were worth in Charleston, about \$250.00 of our present money. Tagaloo, Dougherty's range alone, therefore, was expected to yield \$62,500.00

In 1747 there were exported from Charleston 200 weight of beaver skins and 720 hogsheads of deerskins, worth in Carolina currency nearly 400,000 pounds, probably $300,000.00 of our present money.

In Carolina, as a British province Sterling was the legal money; but unfortunately there was very little of it in this province or in any of the British provinces. The greatest part of their current gold and silver was foreign coin, the uniform value of which, as we have seen, has been fixed by a proclamation of Queen Anne in 1707 and was known therefore as "proclamation money".

GONE TO HIS REWARD

copied from Albion Union Apr. 30, 1904

JUDGE SAMUEL NOBLE

laid at Rest in Oak View Cemetery

Judge Noble is no more. He passed from life at eight o'clock p.m., April 29, 1904, after rounding out eighty-four and one-half useful and pleasant years. He was perhaps the best preserved pioneer settler in Albion. Careful and painstaking in his daily habits and ordinarily free from the worries and turmoils that bring on premature age to most men, his more than four score years sat lightly upon his brow and his old age was truly blessed with a peacefulness and fruition not often the lot of suffering humanity.

About two years ago he began to decline in health, but not until winter did he yield to the inevitable and confine himself to his home to await the summons to that bourne whence no traveler returns. He patiently endured the suffering and pain that seemed his lot to bear and prayerfully sought release from the confines of his temporal house that he might depart and be at rest. Though life was sweet and home a pleasant place to be, he realized that his years were full and his life was ended. He passed away as one sleeps, in the presence of his wife and three children. He had the best care and every anticipated want was supplied with that patience and tireless energy that can belong to none other than a truly devoted self-sacrificing wife.

The funeral services were conducted from his late residence by his pastor, Rev. W. Allison, in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives. Rev. Allison spoke words of comfort from the words of the Psalmist: "My days are like a shadow that declineth." The lessons of his text impressed those present with the importance of utilizing every passing moment from early youth till the decline of life's sun for the service of God and for the conscientious preparation for the judgement seat. Such has been the life of the departed friend and to those left to mourn his departure he commended that example fit for their emulation and one worthy to be followed. "Rock of Ages" and "Pilot Me" were two appropriate hymns sweetly sung by members of the Presbyterian choir, and after a word of prayer the remains were viewed by the friends under the direction of Undertaker Thos. H. Zook, who had charge of the funeral obsequies.

The cortege to the grave was attended by many friends who saw the remains lowered to rest beside those of his wife who had passed to the better world Oct. 14, 1892. The pall bearers were Hamilton Scott, Homer Duncan, B.P. Castern, A.A. Mason, Mose Edwards and Dr. S.T. Gray.

Samuel Noble was born in Huntington County, Penn. Nov. 30, 1819. His father John Noble was married to Elizabeth Crane. Both were natives of the Keystone state, his father having been born in 1796. His Grandfather, Samuel Noble, was a native of Ireland and founded the Noble family in this country. The old family Bible dated 1809, which has been in possession of Judge Noble, will now pass to his brother, C.E. Noble of Fairfield, who is the oldest remaining member of the family.

Samuel Noble came to Iowa in 1845. He located in Fairfield from whence he came to Albia in 1849 and for sixteen years he was a prominent merchant of this place. He was also a stock holder and one of the directors of the Monroe County Bank, and by judicious investments amassed considerable wealth during his years of active business life.

His first marriage was contracted in his native state to Miss Sarah Mathews who lived a few short years. In 1849 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary J. Shipp-lif of Jefferson Co. Iowa. To this union were born 3 children: Emmett E., Ira and Mrs. May Hammond, all of whom are living. On March 17, 1897, his 3rd marriage was entered into with Miss Clara E. Hamilton, who was to him a faithful and devoted helpmate the remainder of his life, and to whom the deepest feeling of sympathy and kindness prevails in her bereavement.

The political aspirations of the deceased when young secured for him in 1860 the county judgeship which he successfully held for two years.

But it was in his own church work that Judge Noble was best known. He was one of the founders of the First Presbyterian Church of Albia and was a charter member. From its first inception he has been an elder and for more than fifty years held that place in the church besides being its treasurer until within very recent years. He gave largely toward spreading the gospel of his favorite doctrine and at one time built a needed church home from his own purse. He stood enthusiastically for Presbyterianism and was found in his seat at the hour of worship while health was granted him to attend. He was loyal to his church and his church friends. He was almost the last of the charter members to pass over, only Hamilton Scott and wife and David Burnside remaining. The records of the church bespeak for him a life well lived, a work cheerfully done and a glorious end in the faith of a risen Lord and Master.

Beside his wife and children there survive him 3 brothers: C.E. of Fairfield, Frank of Vallisca, George W. of Colorado and E. Mart of Albia, and one sister, Mrs.

Margaret J. Ash of Dallas, Illinois.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were:
C.E. Noble of Fairfield, Frank Noble, a nephew accompanied by his wife from Fairfield. Mrs. May Hammond came from Los Angeles, California several weeks ago and was with her father during his last days. She will remain for a short stay. Above information from Mr. Ed. Noble to- your author-

Mrs Elsie Noble McCune wrote me: "Our family, my father, mother, 4 sisters and myself, came to Utah directly from England in 1912. My father Abraham Noble, was born 25th May, 1859 in Holbeach Lincs, Eng. His father, also Abraham Noble was born 8th July, 1800 at Fleet Fen (near Holbeach) Lincs. Great Grandfather Abraham Noble was born 8th June, 1770 at Gedney Hill (also near Holbeach Lincs) My dear father passed away on Jan. 27, 1950 in his 91st year and my mother, Annie Emma Dexter Noble just 9 days later on Feb. 5th, 1952. (I'm sure she meant 1950)
She would have been 89 in 10 more days." Her letter dated Sept. 7, 1952 went on to say, in part, that they had not proved relationship to the Noble's in America. Her father had corresponded with Cyrus Sisson in 1937, who said he had copied the record from that of his Uncle Henry King Eaton. Mr. Ed. Noble worked with the same firm as her husband in Salt Lake City.

From Williamsons' "History of Western Ohio & Auglaize Co. Ohio" Page 798 and from Portraits & Biographical Records we find the following of Elisha Noble-b May 13, 1782 d-July 17, 1864

Elisha Noble was born on the eastern shores of Maryland in 1782 and emigrated to Ohio in 1808. He settled in Clinton Co., Ohio and later moved to Mercer Co. where he became prominent and influential with the other citizens. "Tradition has it that the NOBLE family originated in America from 3 brothers of that name who emigrated from England in Colonial times, one settling in New York, one in Maryland, and the third in Virginia. From these have sprung a numerous family.

Elisha- is given as the son of William Noble and reference to "certified Bible records of Maryland D.A.R. files-NOBLE & Brown of Maryland".

William Noble was born in Worcester Co. Md. Sept 25th. 1758. This was established by his Md. military war record. His wife was Elisha Noble, mentioned above was married to Christina Bowers in 1811. She was b in 1790 and d 1863. There were several other children, the names I do not have. One of their daughters Sarah, m Nicholas Brewer, (Mary Brewer Adam's great grandfather) and a sister to Dr. Guy Noble's grandfather.

Returning to William Noble, who ended war service in 1780 after 3 years in Maryland troops. He migrated to Marion Co. Ky in 1799. In 1802 he moved to Adams Co. Ohio and in 1808 on to Clinton Co. Ohio where he lived until his death July 16th, 1834. In the "Official roster of Am. Rev. soldiers buried in Ohio" page 273 it states he is buried near New Vienna, Ohio-information given by Dr. Guy Noble's sister in Ohio, who ignores all correspondence altho I grew up as a neighbor and are related. Therefore I suspect her as having the Bible.

The letter to me follows : I am trying to find the name of William 's wife and date of marriage. I have been misled by a Wm. Noble of Dorchester Co. Md. At present I am trying to locate his will and that of his son, Elisha who is my great great grandfather.

Elisha Noble & wife Christina Bowers are buried in Aug-laize Co., Ohio in a little country church yard which I have often visited.

Hope this bit may fit into your pattern-if I hear more from the D.A.R. or St. Mary's which would be of interest to you, will pass it on. Most sincerely, Mary Brewer the first of these is the fact that the earth is not a perfect sphere, but is flattened at the poles and bulged out at the equator.

The second fact is that the earth is not a uniform mass, but is composed of different layers or strata, each of which has its own characteristic properties.

The third fact is that the earth is not a static body, but is constantly changing, and its surface is continually being reshaped by the forces of nature.

The fourth fact is that the earth is not a simple body, but is a complex one, and its history is a long and complicated one.

John M. Feiner, Pioneer Glass Contractor, Dies

May 17, 1947

Started Paint, Glazing
Business Here In 1885;
Succumbs At Age Of 85

John M. Feiner, pioneer Ann Arbor businessman and a lifelong resident of the city, died suddenly late Saturday afternoon at his home, 113 W. William St. He had been in poor health for two years but his death came unexpectedly.

Mr. Feiner, 85 years old, was born in Ann Arbor, Oct. 3, 1861. He was a son of George and Katherine Feiner.

For 60 years Mr. Feiner was active in Ann Arbor's business world. In 1885, a year after his marriage to the former Elizabeth O'Keefe, he opened his own business as a paint, glass and interior decorating contractor at 117 W. William St. After twice expanding his facilities at that location, he moved his sales office in 1941 down the block to 216 W. William St., where he had long maintained his warehouse.

Glazing Business Grew

Ann Arbor's first contracting glazier, Mr. Feiner concentrated on paint and interior decorating work for the first 30 years of his business career but since that time his company's glass work has become paramount to the other. Mr. Feiner and his sons, Carl and Walter, both long associated with him in his business, handled the glass work on many of the early University buildings. Shortly after the turn of the century, they installed all windows and door glass in the city's first "sky-scraper," the present Ann Arbor Trust building (then the Glazier building).

The Feiner company's glass business has grown from a sideline to the point where the firm does a majority of the glazing work within a 50-mile radius of the city.

Mr. Feiner operated his company until 1940, when he ceased active participation but retained his interest in the business. In 1945, the business was transferred to his sons and this year it was incorporated as a stock company with the sons, Carl and Walter, both officers of the firm.

Out of Respect to Our Beloved Founder

Mr. John M. Feiner

Our office and plant will be closed
Monday and Tuesday, May 19 and 20.

Mr. Feiner, who married Miss O'Keefe in September of 1884, was preceeded in death by his wife, who succumbed Jan. 26, 1945. The couple was one of the few in the state to celebrate a 60th wedding anniversary.

Since 1892 Mr. Feiner had made his home in the 100 block of W. William St.

Survivors include the two sons, Walter and Carl, both of Ann Arbor; a daughter, Mrs. J. J. McDermott, St. Joseph; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Valentine and Miss Emily Feiner, both of Ann Arbor; nine grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

FATAL ACCIDENT IS INVESTIGATED

Wayne county sheriff's officers and a prosecutor's aide today were investigating further a fatal automobile accident in which one Detroit woman was killed and several injured Saturday night when their car was hit by one driven by Walter Feiner, 117, West William St., Ann Arbor, on Michigan Ave., near Eloise hospital.

The dead woman, a passenger in a car driven by Theodore Cobb, Eloise hospital employe, is Mrs. Smith Felton of Detroit. Others injured were Mr. Felton, Cobb, Mrs. Cobb, Feiner and a Miss Marian Hazelworth, according to a statement from Herbert Monroe, assistant prosecutor.

Feiner was reported as recovered from injuries received and was in Ann Arbor today. All five persons were knocked unconscious by the force of the collision.

According to the prosecutor's statement, Feiner was going west on Michigan Ave. at a high rate of speed when he hit the other car which emerged from a side road. The other car apparently failed to stop for the intersection, Feiner said.

Feiners Observe Their

56th Anniversary

With Dinner
Sept. 2, 1941

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Feiner of W. William St. entertained at a dinner last night in the Ailenel hotel, celebrating the fifty-sixth anniversary of their wedding. They have lived here throughout their married life and Mr. Feiner has carried on for 54 years, the paint business in which he is engaged still.

The long table was set in a private dining room and was centered by a miniature bridal couple standing on a mound of white asters and huckleberry foliage. Encircling the dolls was a gold-colored "wedding ring" hoop, with "56" at the top where golden bells were suspended to hang above the little couple.

Through the center of the table lengthwise was a wide band of gold tissue cloth and along each edge was a row of asters and foliage placed on lacy triangles. At each side of the centerpiece was a crystal candelabrum holding three lighted white tapers, and toward the ends were bowls of white asters and gladioli with sprays of dusty miller foliage, and a single crystal candlestick and candle. Places were marked by cards above which stood entwined hearts in white outline with a spray of fabric lilies-of-the-valley and a bit of white tulle and ribbon.

Wears Lace Gown

Mrs. Feiner wore for the occasion a gold-colored lace gown with white accessories and a necklace of pearls. Her corsage was made of white rosebuds.

After the cutting of the white wedding cake by Mrs. Feiner, and congratulations extended by the guests, musical selections and motion pictures provided entertainment.

The family members invited include the sons and daughter of the couple with their families, and are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Feiner of W. William St.; Carl Feiner of Portage lake; and Dr. and Mrs. J. J. McDermott and their children, Russell and Marion, who came from St. Joseph for the day; also Mrs. B. M. Feiner and her daughter, Carlyne of Crest Ave.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Stratmann and their daughter Mary Jo, and Rev. Joseph Kress of Detroit; Rev. G. Warren Peek of St. Thomas church; Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Toole of N. Division St. and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kress of Gott St.

Pfc. McDermott

Killed In Italy

Dec. 1944

Parents Notified Missing Man Dead

The War department at Washington today officially notified Dr. and Mrs. J. J. McDermott, 519 Main street, that their son, Pfc. Bernard J. McDermott, was killed in action in Italy on Oct. 10, 1944.

Pfc. McDermott had previously been listed as missing in action.

The St. Joseph boy, who was prominent in athletics at St. Joseph's Catholic high school before his graduation there, lost his life while fighting with the 361st Infantry on the south bank of the Poe river. His unit captured a strategic hill, after which the Germans counter-attacked strongly and retook the hill, according to a letter received by Dr. and Mrs. McDermott from their son's chaplain.

Pfc. McDermott and others took refuge in a building, which was later demolished by German shell-fire. Young McDermott and others were apparently buried in the wreckage of the building, and their bodies were not recovered until evacuation operations were completed recently.

Pfc. McDermott, who would have been 20 years old on the fourth of last June, was born in St. Joseph on June 4, 1925.

Besides his parents he is survived by five brothers and sisters, Russell of St. Joseph; Marlon and Rita McDermott, who are at home for the summer; Pfc. Robert McDermott, home on 60-day sick leave from the hospital at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis after being wounded on Okinawa, and Vincent, at home.

LIST MIDWEST YANKS IN NORTH ITALY GRAVES

Some 4400 American soldiers are buried at Nettuno, near Florence, Italy, in this picturesque countryside. The main Florence to Siena Highway passes the cemetery gate. From the highway, there is a semi-circular driveway which leads downhill to a tiny bridge across a stream.

On a gentle rising hillside, lie the graves in neat rows. At the top of the hillside, modern white marble buildings house a chapel on one side and the war museum on the other. Central theme of the building is a giant pylon of white marble. Not yet placed on top of the pylon is a bronze statue memorializing the men who are buried here.

Behind the pylon is a curving white marble wall where the commission will inscribe the names of the men missing in action in the northern Italy sector. Each gravestone also is made of polished marble-

The Society is a professional organization of geneticists and other scientists who are interested in the study of human genetics. The Journal is a peer-reviewed journal that publishes original research papers, reviews, and other articles of interest to the field of human genetics. The Journal is published quarterly and is available to members of the Society at a reduced rate. The Journal is also available to non-members at a regular rate. The Journal is published by the American Society of Human Genetics, which is a non-profit organization. The Society's headquarters are located in the United States. The Society's website is located at <http://www.ashg.org>. The Journal is a valuable resource for researchers and students in the field of human genetics. It provides a platform for the dissemination of new research findings and for the discussion of important issues in the field. The Journal is also a valuable resource for the general public, as it provides information about the latest developments in human genetics. The Journal is a testament to the dedication and hard work of the members of the American Society of Human Genetics. It is a journal that is proud to be part of the history of human genetics.

7. Theorem 1.1

Let f be a function defined on $[a, b]$ and let F be an antiderivative of f .

Then $F(b) - F(a) = \int_a^b f(x) dx$.

Proof. Let $F(x) = \int_a^x f(t) dt$.

Then $F'(x) = f(x)$ by the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus.

By the Mean Value Theorem, there exists $c \in (a, b)$ such that $F(b) - F(a) = F'(c)(b - a) = f(c)(b - a)$.

Since f is continuous, $f(c) = \int_a^b f(x) dx / (b - a)$.

1.2

Therefore, $F(b) - F(a) = \int_a^b f(x) dx$.

Q.E.D.

Corollary 1.1. If f is continuous on $[a, b]$, then $\int_a^b f(x) dx = F(b) - F(a)$.

Proof. Let $F(x) = \int_a^x f(t) dt$.

Q.E.D.

Example 1.1. Let $f(x) = x^2$. Then $F(x) = \frac{1}{3}x^3$.

1.3

Then $F(b) - F(a) = \frac{1}{3}b^3 - \frac{1}{3}a^3$.

Example 1.2. Let $f(x) = \sin x$. Then $F(x) = -\cos x$.

Then $F(b) - F(a) = -\cos b + \cos a$.

which is equal to $\int_a^b \sin x dx$.

Q.E.D.

Example 1.3. Let $f(x) = e^x$. Then $F(x) = e^x$.

Then $F(b) - F(a) = e^b - e^a$.

According to John M.Feiner, his grandfather Jacob Feiner was born at Kirchendelsfort, Steinenbronn Wuerttemberg Germany but the church and everything are no more. J.M.F'S mother Katherine Christina had a sister and two brothers but she was adopted by a "Koenig" or hotel keeper, she was from Stullgart, Germany. She was engaged to a Mr. Haunzman, but lived with a Mr. & Mrs. Martin and continued to live with the Martin's after Charles F's birth. She later married George Feiner and he gave Charles F. his name although Mr. Haunzman paid for the boys support for years.

From John M.Feiner's estate a donation of $2,000.00 plus $500.00 by Carl M.Feiner in 1948, a cottage was built at Lake Iverness, Interlocken, In Memory of J.M.F's father George Feiner. The rent of $300.00 or more per season is to be used to further some choir member of the Baptist Church's education in choir music, per Carl M.Feiner July 4,1952.

April 14,1877 to December 29,1877 John M.Feiner worked for Mr. Oswald Herz's father, beginning for $1.50 per week and the second week was paid $2.00 and eventually it was increased to $2.50 and during the latter part of the year he received $3.00 per week. Mr. Oswald Herz told me October 13,1947, when the above was copied by me from the "Old Time Book", that his Mother always liked J.M.Feiner very much and felt very sorry for him for she thought he was terribly abused by her husband and the other workmen (painters) since he was always given the most disagreeable jobs to do. THE SISSON FAMILY

Paternal

The name Sisson, Sysson, Sison, or (Cyson) Session, Soisson, originally came from Normandy, France, and those of the name settled at an early period, about 12th century, in Ireland and England and from there emigrated to America.

The earliest record we have of our family is of Bryan Sisson, who was born in England at a date not known, nor do we have a record of when he came to America, but have a record of the probating of his will, August 22nd, 1771, in Orange County, Va. The appraisement of his real estate names considerable property and seven or nine slaves.

He was an Episcopalian by faith and listed among the "Tithables." According to the record of W. W. Scott of Orange County, Va., he was a captain in the English army in 1740, and that may have been about the time that he came to America.

His wife was named Rachael, but her surname was not known. Of this union were born three sons and a daughter: William, Caleb, George and Hannah.

Caleb Sisson, son of Bryan and Rachel Sisson, was born before 1750, perhaps about 1746, and died in 1807, September 17th, in Rockbridge County, Virginia, having settled there two and one-half miles from the Natural Bridge.

He was married first to Milly Branham, July 20th, 1771, and there is a record of one son being born named Stanley, who married Catherine Kirkwood in 1796.

Caleb Sisson's second marriage was to Sarah Roach, before 1789, as there is a record of a "first child" being born August 7th, 1789. Of this marriage were born five sons and two daughters, namely:

Jesse, born 1789, Rockbridge County, Virginia. Died November 7th, 1864, in Clark County, Missouri.

Abner, born 1788 or 1790, as his will was probated October 13th, 1823, and he was either 33 or 35 at his death. Married Susanah Hardy, 1810, November 29th, who was born in Maryland August 20th, 1783. Died near Otterville, Ill., 1862, May 22nd.

Armstead, born ?, died 1836 or 1837. Married to Anna Hardy, 1812. (Sister of Susanah Hardy, wife of Abner Sisson)

John, born ? Saddler by trade. Died in Clark County, Missouri. Married ?

Polly, born ? Died ? Married ?

James, born in Rockbridge County, Virginia. Settled in Louisville, Ky. Died young. Married ?

Caleb Sisson was a squire and a preacher. Three of his sons were in the War of 1812. John was a captain.

THE BRONZE LAMP

CHAPTER I

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the train at the station was a sense of freedom. I had been waiting for this moment for so long, and now it was here. I looked around at the people walking past, some in a hurry, some in a daze, and I felt a strange sense of isolation. I was alone in a crowd.

The morning sun was just rising over the city, casting a golden glow over the streets. I walked slowly, taking in the sights and sounds of the place. The air was fresh and clean, and the people seemed to be in a good mood. I felt a sense of peace and tranquility that I had never experienced before.

As I walked, I noticed a small shop on the corner. The sign above the door read "The Bronze Lamp". I went in and looked at the things on display. There were many beautiful lamps, each with its own story. I felt a strong attraction to one of them, a lamp that had been used by a famous person.

The man behind the counter was an old man with a long white beard. He looked at me and smiled. He told me that the lamp was a very special one, and that it had been used by a great man. I felt a sense of awe and wonder.

I bought the lamp and took it home. I put it on a shelf in my room and looked at it every day. It seemed to have a life of its own, and I felt a strong connection to it. I knew that it was a part of my life now, and I would treasure it forever.

The next morning, I went to work. I was a little nervous, but I knew that I had to go. I walked to the office and found that everything was in a state of confusion. The people were all looking at each other, and I knew that something was wrong.

I went outside and looked at the clock. It was ten o'clock. I had been working for hours, and I was tired. I went back to the office and found that the people were still in a state of confusion. I knew that I had to do something to help them.

I went to the shop and bought a bottle of medicine. I gave it to the man behind the counter, and he told me that it was a very good one. I felt a sense of relief and hope.

Extract from a letter to Jesse Sisson, one of Caleb's sons, August 9th, 1812: "I have joined the 'Light Infantry' at Martinsburg, W. Va., and expect to be called soon. General Hall has given up all of our army at Detroit to the British. There is army raising which will be under the command of General Harrison in Kentucky."

Abner (our forefather), born 1788 or 1790 as his will was probated October 13th, 1823, and he was either 33 or 35 at his death. Married Susans Hardy, 1810, November 20th, who was born in Maryland 1783, August 20th. Died near Otterville, Ill., 1862, May 22nd. Of this union were born four daughters and two sons, namely:

Eliza Ann, born 1811, September 2, in Virginia, died 1861, November 11th, in Madison County, Illinois. Married to Lewis Jones.

John Wesley, born 1813, March 7th, in Botetourt County, Virginia, 15 miles from Natural Bridge. Died near Otterville, Ill., 1896, December 27th. Married Martha Jane Eaton, daughter of Thomas and Sarah King Eaton, 1843, February 16th.

Maternal Side of the Family of John W. and Martha J. Sisson

Henry Eaton, the first one of that name of whom we have any record, was born in Wales, April 7th, 1750, and came to America prior to the Revolutionary War. Settled in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1773. He served in the Revolutionary War in General Green's division of the army, that went in a southern campaign in 1781.

He was said to be an ensign. Papers of General Green's army were destroyed in Washington, D. C., when the capitol was burned by the British in 1812. He married Violet Wallace in 1778, who was born in Ireland in 1756.

Of this union was born Thomas Eaton in 1780, March 12th, in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. He died in Madison County, Illinois (Thomas), 1849, September 14th.

Violet, Henry Eaton's wife, accompanied him when he went south and left their small son with her parents and sisters. She became a member of the colonel's family and while in South Carolina, gave birth to a daughter and died soon after. One record is that the child died, another that she was adopted by the colonel's wife at the request of the mother.

Henry Eaton lived to see the independence of his adopted country, so one record gives, and was on his way home when he took down with yellow fever, and died in Philadelphia, probably in 1783.

Thomas Eaton, being only three years old when made an orphan, had no information concerning his father's family in Wales.

He lived among his relatives till 14 years of age, then learned the blacksmith trade and in 1800 settled in the territory of Mississippi at Natches (Natchez). A few years later he removed to Kingston, 15 miles south of Natchez, and married Sarah King in 1808, February 28.

The data were collected from a series of experiments conducted over a period of 12 months. The experiments were designed to investigate the effects of various factors on the response of the system. The results of the experiments are summarized in the following table.

Experiment	Factor	Response
1	Temperature	High
2	Pressure	Low
3	Humidity	Medium
4	Light Intensity	High
5	Sound Intensity	Low
6	Electromagnetic Interference	Medium
7	Chemical Contamination	High
8	Mechanical Vibration	Low
9	Biological Growth	Medium
10	Radioactive Decay	High

The data show that the response of the system is highly sensitive to changes in the various factors. The response is generally higher for temperature, light intensity, and chemical contamination, and lower for pressure, sound intensity, and mechanical vibration.

Factor	Response
Temperature	High
Pressure	Low
Humidity	Medium
Light Intensity	High
Sound Intensity	Low
Electromagnetic Interference	Medium
Chemical Contamination	High
Mechanical Vibration	Low
Biological Growth	Medium
Radioactive Decay	High

The data also show that the response of the system is generally higher for temperature, light intensity, and chemical contamination, and lower for pressure, sound intensity, and mechanical vibration. This suggests that the system is more sensitive to changes in these factors.

The data further show that the response of the system is generally higher for temperature, light intensity, and chemical contamination, and lower for pressure, sound intensity, and mechanical vibration. This suggests that the system is more sensitive to changes in these factors.

Bogus Cop Stabs Girl Seven Times

Her Screams Rout Assailant After He Poses as Policeman

A 19-year-old girl, stabbed seven times by an assailant who posed as a policeman, was in fair condition late Saturday in Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

The victim, Mary Louise Noble, was stabbed early Saturday in the abdomen, right arm and right hand in front of her parents' home at 11343 Archdale.

She said her assailant stopped behind her car when she arrived home from visiting relatives.

The man demanded her driver's license, she said, then seized her when she demanded that he prove he was a policeman.

SHE SAID he then drew a knife and stabbed her, holding her as he plunged the blade into her seven times.

"I screamed and he got in his car and drove off," she said.

Her screams awakened her father, Leslie Noble, who called police.

A neighbor, James Lamb, of 11144 Archdale, also was awakened. He said he saw the man flee in a green Buick.

Miss Noble described her assailant as 25, about 5 feet, 10 and slender. He wore a white shirt open at the throat and a blue sport jacket.

Oct. 3, 1955 Little Fire Eater

RICHMOND, Ind. —(AP)— Most fires he goes to are too big, but fireman Harvey Noble can eat the little ones.

Noble, with the Richmond Fire Department 10 years, can put a flaming torch in his mouth without being burned, at least only rarely.

He says an old carnival man taught him the fire-eating trick 18 years ago.

When things get dull down at Central Fire House, the gang can always gather and watch Noble gobble the little fires.

Charles Noble

Ann Arbor Architect

Succumbs At Home

Charles Noble, 64, local architect, died about 5 p.m. yesterday at his home in the 600 block of E. Ann St. He was born in Trinidad, Colo., July 23, 1890.

He was the son of Daniel and Anna Sutton Noble.

Mr. Noble received pre-architectural training at Columbia University and completed his studies at l'Ecole de Beaux Arts in Paris, France. He was responsible for the designing and building of Ann Arbor housing developments and many Michigan hospitals and public buildings.

Survivors include his wife, the former Jean Duncan, whom he married Sept. 4, 1920, in New York City; two children, Duncan Noble of Caracas, Venezuela, and Mrs. Peter Darrow of 1111 S. Forest Ave., Ann Arbor. Two grandchildren also survive.

The body will be cremated and private memorial services will be held at a later date.

JULY 18, 1957

The Nobles are in convention here.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Noble Jr., of Wellsley, Mass., and their 11 scrubbed and polished children will be in session at the Sheraton-Cadillac through Tuesday.

There will be a daily impromptu parade down the escalator, and a continuous reception in Suite 1710.

The entertainment committee will most likely meet every half hour all week.

Sight-seeing expeditions will leave daily for Warrington Drive, to see Grandmother C. A. Raftrey, and to Pasadena Avenue, where dwell Grandfather and Grandmother Noble.

* * *

THE NOBLES arose at 6 a.m. Wednesday and flew over the rivers and over the woods to grandmother's house, without incident. Nobody got sick. Nobody got lost.

Since neither grandmother's house has six extra bedrooms and six extra bathrooms, they moved into the motherly Sheraton on a friendly family-plan basis.

Massachusetts seemed quiet after the Nobles flew over Bunker Hill. Michigan got frisky three hours later.

It took two station wagons and two uncles to tote three trunks and 11 little Nobles from Willow Run downtown.

* * *

THE FAMILY often convenes on home territory, but it's the first time they've vacationed en masse in Detroit, where Noble, 37, and his wife, 34, formerly lived.

Things have gone well so far.

Like the calm potentate he is, father Noble immediately assigned the six television sets.

Pat, 6, and Mike, 5, wanted the fourth bedroom back but they settled for the third.

Kathryn, 7, wandered around looking for just the right closet shelf for her white flowered halo hat.

* * *

ROBERT, NINE months, tried his crib mattress and decided to throw off his white knlt suit and his blase' traveler's pose in favor of a nap and a bottle.

Infants' Diaper Service was in touch early.

Mark, 8, found a white gift box on the table and asked, "What's Sanders?"

Ann, 2, found that you can play with Mommy's purse in Detroit the same way you can play with Mommy's purse back home.

About noon, all the grandmothers had been kissed, all the pictures had been taken, all the organdy dresses and cotton cord suits hung up and all the littlest Nobles were settled down for a snooze.

* * *

NOBLE, A district manager for New England Telegraph and Telephone, and his wife relaxed.

"They're all good travelers," Mrs. Noble said. "They're behaving themselves."

She didn't even cross her fingers.

Miss Noble, Mr. Miller To Marry

Apr. 10, 1957-Detro

During a tea Sunday in their Loehmoor Blvd. home, Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Noble announced the engagement of their daughter, Sally Jean, to Theodore Walter Miller, son of Mrs. George A. Miller, of Miami, and the late Mr. Miller.

Miss Noble attended Liggett School, Briarcliff Junior College and the University of Miami.

Her fiance was graduated from the University of Miami, where he was affiliated with Delta Sigma Pi. An autumn wedding is planned.

Wounded Detroit Owe Life to Red Cross Service

Pfc. Sid H. Feiner, of 3005 Sturtevant, knows why the Red Cross fund drive should be supported.

Feiner, a patient at Percy Jones General Hospital, Battle Creek, would probably lie in a soldier's grave near Luxembourg if the Red Cross had not had funds to process and transport the plasma and whole blood which saved him.

He was wounded in the heaviest of the fighting in his sector, and could not be rescued because all the medical corpsmen near him also had been wounded.

* * *

"I LAY there in the snow with my leg wounded for two or three hours," he said. "I lost a lot of blood."

When he was taken to a hospital he was so weak from loss of blood that "they just poured plasma into me," he said.

He was given nine pints at once from the Red Cross stores, and later was given 10 transfusions of whole blood, which also is furnished and brought to the front by the Red Cross.

His leg was later amputated.

DALLAS —(P)— A TV fan narrowly escaped death when a portable video antennae fell into the bathtub with him last night.

Gilbert Noble, 39, was found unconscious from electric shock. His wife, who weighs only 120 pounds, tugged her 180-pound husband from the tub where he lay unconscious.

She said she happened to look into the bathroom "on a hunch." Investigators said his wife's pulling probably started Noble's breathing again.

Had Fun Making Money-- Now Fun Giving It Away

Dec. 1953

By United Press

NEW YORK.—Edward J. Noble, the rags-to-riches philanthropist, has announced a gift of $2 million to education and charity.

Noble, 71, said there is no limitation of projects for which the money may be used as long as it is spent for "as much help as possible to as many as possible."

Noble, chairman of the finance committee of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres, Inc., and chairman of the board of Life Savers Corporation, said he lost interest in making money after he learned "there's more fun and profit in giving it away."

He said he keeps very little money for himself.

"Except for a nominal amount for my wife and daughter, everything I have has gone into the Edward J. Noble Foundation, he said.

Beneficiaries of the foundation include St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y., North Country Hospitals, Inc., in Northern New York State, the Salvation Army and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Born in Gouverneur, N. Y., Noble was graduated from high school "not far from the foot of his class." His father at the time didn't have 25 cents to give his sons for a Saturday night dance, Noble recalled, much less pay their way thru college.

Noble built the Life Saver Corporation from a $3000 white elephant into a million dollar business.

"I've had fun making money most of my life," he said, "and now I'm having fun giving it away."

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. —(AP)— The William Noble family of three, victims of a plane crash Friday night, will be buried Wednesday.

Last rites for Noble, former Grand Island boxer and University of Nebraska athlete, his wife and young son, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Trinity Methodist Church here.

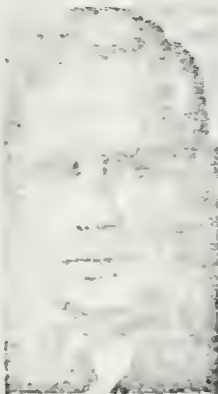

The three, en route from Omaha to Grand Island, died when the light plane piloted by Noble incurred because of oil production cutbacks which threaten to force him to sell the art collection.

The syndicate has agreed to take over the art collection in trust.

Gilcrease said:

"This can mean much to future generations for hundreds of years. Youngsters and adults alike, we learn from the past that beauty and a good life go together."

Boy Hospitalized After Beatings

Jan. 15, 1948

KANSAS CITY, Kas. (AP)—Eight-year-old Charles Noble was hospitalized today with head and body injuries received, he told police, during beatings administered while he was tied to a bedpost.

The boy's father, William Noble, 45, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Ethel Mullins, 53, were scheduled to appear in police court today on charges of cruelty to a child.

Police Sgt. Dan Lyons said the boy related that he had been beaten with a broom handle by Mrs. Mullins.

Mrs. Mullins denied the child's charges, Lyons reported, and said the father had beaten him about once a week and ordered him tied to a bedpost to prevent his running away.

Officers quoted Noble as saying that "like any father" he had spanked the boy but that the punishment was of a corrective nature and no injuries were inflicted.

Boy Burned At Stadium On the Mend

Oct. 9, 1955.

Thomas Noble, 13, admitted to police Saturday that it was no "bomb" that burned him on the left thigh Friday night as he was watching a football game at the U. of D. Stadium.

Young Noble, of 16922 Lawton, said he cleaned out his basement chemistry laboratory before the game and had several test tubes in his pocket. One of them apparently contained potassium nitrate which was ignited by the heat of his body or a nearby cigaret.

He was reported in satisfactory condition at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

All the Eatons, That Is, Except Mother; She Let the Children Get the Glory

BY LEN G. SHAW

Free Press Special Writer

PLEASANT MEMORIES of the American theater at its best—when David Belasco and Charles Frohman and Henry Miller were among the magic names, and Florenz Ziegfeld was glorifying the American girl as never before, nor since—are treasured by Mrs. Mary Eaton.

The mother of a famous theatrical family is living quietly and happily at the Arnold Home for Aged, on West Seven Mile Road.

* * *

IT WAS A MEMORABLE DAY for the Eaton clan when Mother Eaton entered the office of a Washington, D. C., theatrical stock producer. Behind her trailed seven small Eatons, in answer to a newspaper ad for child actors.

"You're too late," the producer told Mrs. Eaton. Then, after surveying the assorted assemblage, he reconsidered. "I might use one more."

Thus Mary Eaton became one of the children from the other side of the tracks in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

A real break came with a stock production of Maeterlinck's "The Bluebird." In it Mary Eaton and her sister Doris, now well known to Detroit TV audiences, played the children Metyl and Tuylth so well that when the Shuberts sent a company on tour the girls were there as juvenile leads.

It was a long, hard road, but always on the way up, with the encouragement of Mother Eaton.

* * *

THEN ZIEGFELD saw Mary Eaton dance, and engaged her for his "Follies."

Drama critics wrote ecstatically of her beauty and artistry. The public agreed wholeheartedly. She was tops.

Mary remained a star until she married and retired from the stage.

She was planning to return to the theater when death came suddenly.

* * *

MEANWHILE the other Eatons were doing all right. Evelyn the oldest, helped put the others through dancing school.

Robert, who died some years ago, confined his acting to amateur productions.

Pearl started in the chorus, and understudied such notables as Fannie Brice and Marilyn Miller.

She became assistant dance director for Ziegfeld and Charles Dillingham musicals, then went to RKO as dance director for big Hollywood musical pictures. She married, and is living in California.

* * *

ONE DAY Doris Eaton, for a prank, put on one of Mary's long gowns, and strolled on to the New Amsterdam stage during rehearsal. Ziegfeld saw her, and sent her on the road as an understudy to Ann Pennington.

Doris, with a fondness for acting, appeared in several plays before going to Hollywood, to score in the Hollywood Music Box Revue and play in pictures.

An engagement as instructor with Arthur Murray in Hollywood led her to Detroit, to become owner of the six Arthur Murray dance studios in Michigan. Any spare time is spent with her husband, Paul H. Travis, on their 800-acre farm near Rochester, Mich.

* * *

JOE EATON substituted for his younger brother, Charles, in the "Ziegfeld Follies," while Charles was making a motion picture. Eventually he joined Doris, to become general manager of the Michigan Arthur Murray studios.

Charlie Eaton, at the tender age of three, was trouping in Maeterlinck's "The Bluebird." Child parts in stock companies, movie and stage roles, a hitch for Uncle Sam after Pearl Harbor, from which he emerged as a major, and Charlie joined Doris and Joe in Detroit.

He also conducts a seasonal dancing school in Havana, Cuba.

* * *

HOW ABOUT Mother Eaton? Did the theater ever tempt her personally?

"No, I never cared to act," Mother Eaton confesses. "I wanted the honors to go to my children."

THE AUTHOR

RUTH FEINER missed British nationality by minutes, being born just after her parents had disembarked in Germany from the English steamer bringing them from London. Her early years were spent literally behind the stage, for her father is a distinguished actor, producer and playwright. At seventeen Ruth Feiner was secretary to an editor. Later, she began to write short articles and to compose songs, won a newspaper prize for performing her own songs in a cabaret, and secured a song-writing contract with Ufa Film Company. She was heard on the radio frequently from Berlin and Cologne studios and, before she was warned to leave the country, her songs were being sung by leading cabaret artists all over Germany. As an exile, she lived in poverty in London—seldom knowing where tomorrow's food would come from, working away at her first novel and at any job she could find. After suffering unbelievable hardships, she at last managed to finish her book, Cat Across The Path, which brought the young author instant acclaim and achieved sensational success both in England and in America. Her second novel, Fires in May, established her as one of the finest women writers of today.

FOUR THINGS
by HENRY VANDYKE

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true;
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow-men sincerely
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

A FAITHFUL FRIEND

It is my joy in life to find
At every turning of the road-
The strong arm of a comrade kind
To help me onward with my load.
And since I have no gold to give,
Tis love alone must make amends,
My only prayer is while I live,
God make me worthy of my friends.

When shadows fall about us-
There is a strength that comes
Far greater than our own,
There is a light that comforts,
There is a light that leads
There is a Heavenly Father
Who understands our needs.

THE PROMISE OF DAWN

The sun goes down in its glory,
And darkness descends on the land,
But dawn comes quickly to cheer us,
For Time is a swift-running sand.

Why, then, should man in his wisdom
Forget in his moments of gloom
That night gives birth to the morning;
That dawn will be coming--and soon?
